

ISIPHO-The Gift

Intro:

Doctor: she crashing guys... the machine were beeping like crazy as i heard the doctor at the back of my mine
screaming for instructions and people poking and probing
and doing unimaginable things to me. I felt myself slowly
drifting away and losing consciousness. I let the light to swallow and the pain i was feeling was beyond words. I knew that since i was feeling the pain its means am alive

and still in this horrible world. I tried to move but was unable too so i just lay there as i felt the light overwhelm

me than it was utter blackness.

Umhlanga Net care hospital

I woke up feeling like my body has been ran over by a truck and I laid there not moving. Sitting and looking at

the ceiling and just than a women walked in and out than came back with a man in a white coat. They looked at me

all smiles and just as they adjusted my bed and removed

the pipes and moved me to an comfortable position in walked a man wearing all black from head to toe. He was tall and lean but yet muscular. His adam apple very visible and he looked like he was angry at someone or something. His eyes were the best feature of his dark skin. They were a dark shade of grey almost like a storm ready to explode and his thin lips were like a fine line. I closed my eyes than open them again than closed them then opened them. So no I was not dreaming these 3 people are really here.

Man in a coat: Am doctor Xulu. So am in a hospital?

How? Why?

Doctor: This is my nurse you in Umhlanga hospital. What your name? I looked at them confused as to how on earth did i get here? Why am i Here.

Me: Kamo. I whispered. He nodded scribbling something on my chart.

Doctor: you have been in a big accident young lady for a minute there i thought it was touch and go but you here with us. Ill notify the cops that you up and will take it from there.

Me: cops? As in police? He nodded.

Me: i dont want cops. I felt like I shouldn't worry about cops that much. Something told me that i shouldnt involve cops. I felt myself panic and the doctor touched my hand urging me to stay calm but i closed my eyes and there i was driving in high speed as cops car was following me.

Am i a fugitive? Did i do something wrong.

But i have car? Means am a good person right.

Me: my car?

Doctor: was a total rack dear. Stay calm okay ill inject you with something to calm your nerves and dont worry you

not in trouble with the cops we just have to report bullet wounds.

Me: bullet wounds? As in shot? I whispered and the doctor looked at me.

Doctor: do you remember what got you here? I shock my head no and it was the worse mistake ever because i felt
the most piercing pain crack right through making me
numb with pain.

Doctor: try and rest okay will talk later. He turned and

spoke to the nurse and the man in black stood there not moving or talking. Nurse injected me with something and walked away. Man in black walked in and stood by the window looking out giving me his back.

Maybe am imagining things maybe there is no man in black. I closed
my eyes and open them and he was still there.

Him: ill be here when you wake up. His voice vibrated on the walls bouncing to my ears making me more aware of him than i was before and it draw me closer to him. Lord

am so crazy right now. Where am i? What happening?

Who is he? Did i somehow endangered his family? Am I in trouble but the doctor said no i have bullet whole and I

closed my eyes and a whole film of what happened to me

played and I woke up crying and gasping for air as my

stranger held me in his hands comforting me to calm down.

Me: You helped me... you helped me I whispered as the shock and realisation of the events that I went through were more vivid. The doctor was right.? I should be dead

but here i am....

Kamo

I open my eyes to voices and I saw it was a nurse and
the cleaner talking.

Nurses: Kodwa ngibe ilintombazane jeso.(if i was this girl)

Cleaner: Nami nkosiyami(me too)

Voice: swabona ma(greetings) his voice was something else and I watched as the old woman beamed as he walked in carrying a bag. He walked by the dry side and stood there watching outside. I closed my eyes for a while and woke up the sun was beaming bright and turned to find him standing by the corner looking outside like a statue. Just then two guys walked in one a woman and one a guy behind the cop. In seconds he was next to my side. He helped me into a sitting position and handed me one of the fruit salads from the plastic. Him: are you going to manage. I learnt the hard way about using my head so i said yes in a whisper that came like a choke. He nodded and moved to the side. I thought to myself has he been standing there from the time there were cleaning or he left and came back. The doctor talking brought me back.

Doctor: As iv said Kamo all bullet wounds are reported so here are the two detectives assigned to your case. He patted my leg and left.

Detective: Am detective Sithole and this is detective

Matha. Tell what you remember Kamo. I closed my eyes and it all came flooding back and A tear went down my check and I quickly wiped it.

Me: I don't remember anything. I looked down not wanting to see they faces. I know i was lying and I know that even if they wanted to help me there is nothing the cops or anyone could do to help me. I looked up to see the light
grey eyed guy eyes a shade darker and his lips as thin as a line and I knew he was angry but at what. I had no idea.

Detective Matha: Can you two give us the room please.

She looked at the two gentlemen and the grey eyed man left storming out while the detective walked out. She moved to the chair and sat down.

Detective Matha: you know you a terrible liar.

I looked at her confused.

“ yes, you are.” I kept quiet playing with the spoon.

“ Doctors say the guy who was here came in here wearing all white soaked in your blood barking orders for everyone to save you. People who were here said they have never seen a man so determined to see a person live than that man. Do you know its been 3 months and everyday he comes here to check on you. Did you know that the first call we always get in the morning is him asking about this investigation? And now here we are happy that you are awake after so many instances of touch and go and you lie and say you don't know, the Id in your bag was fake, you had all your clothes in there. You were speeding which clearly shows you not from here. We have reached out from all other provinces trying to locate a family that might have reported you...

Me: i dont have a family. That stopped her in her tracks.

Me: i mean no one will care enough to report me missing.

She looked at me with sympathy.

Detective matha: okay. Why? I shrugged my shoulders and that pained.

Me: am not that important

Detective matha: come here. She helped me up and helped me to a chair. She than hooked my drip and everything and then wheeled me out. When we were out there were two guards by my door entrance.

She pushed the chair down the hall and stopped in the next room. It was empty. She did that to four more rooms in my wing than open the door that went out of my wing and two more guards in black were standing guard. Than she turned and wheeled me back into my room. No wonder there have been Silence. She than pushed me back to my room helped me in the bed and made me comfortable. Detective Matha: no tell me that you not that important. A whole wing is for you. There is secret service agent at your door to protect you from anything that making you not trust me or dont want to tell us what happened to you.

I looked at her all confused.

Me: Secret service?

Detective Matha: yes

Me: but why? She looked at me confused.

She took out

her phone punched a few things and gave it to me. I read in big bold letters : Worlds most wealthiest man on earth

Siyabonga Jayden Musk. And right there was a picture of my mystery man wearing a black suit looking handsome and professional. My eyes bulged out of my eyes.

Siyabonga

She lied. She lied just like that. Its been months since we have been working this case and she lied. I was so angry that when the cop asked to be alone with her I stormed out. Yes it was fear that was making her lie but fear out of who? Why? I felt myself get heated up and I calmed my nerves since I know how things happen when I get a little steamed up. Yes she is vital in my life. Yes i have been searching for her for years and now that I find her. At her worse state and like this? Why? Why does any of the things that happen to me or are happening to me happen?

Sometimes i ask myself that question so many times and I never get an answer. I walked to the baby ward.

Somehow i was at peace there. Somehow being with those sick babies and loving them naturing them made things calmer in my soul. Somehow it made the voices in my head stop. I walked in and I immediately got calm. I was now a regular here that i was familiar with the stuff. I walked to the glass just as couple walked to me.

Guy: sir

I turned to find a young man smiling at me and the lady next to him smiling and crying.

Guy: Thank you. Thank you so much for paying for all of our hospital bills. May God grant you all your heart desires. I smiled at them and shook they hands. It in moments like this when I meet people that I dont hate this

God they keep referring too. Its in moments like this that I think maybe I have to suffer so that I can find happiness in helping others. Its in moments like this that am at peace with who I am. The moved away as i moved closer to the glass and looked at the 3 babies there that looked so healthy and full of life.

Dion: Boss

Me: yes

Dion: The bird is on the move. I looked at him and I knew he spoke about the young lady by the name of Kamo who was now a vital part of my life. I turned and walked towards her wing.

Kamo

I looked at the detective more confused more than ever.

Just a few months ago i was a no body. A nothing. A punching bag and now this.

Detective Matha: God sometimes makes us go through the worse to prepare us for the Good that we might receive. I don't know what you been through but your scars on your body tell a gruesome story and that bullet on your face too. Maybe right now you don't want to face it but just maybe. Maybe this is the helping hand you have been praying for. Maybe now this is the intervention you have always wanted, dreamed off or even needed.

Maybe now it
the time to put a stop at what ever have had you locked up in your body as a prison. Here my card call me when you ready to talk. Anytime of the day, night or morning. Ill be here. She smiled and brushed my hand as she left and
he walked in looking a little more calmer and they shook hands and she left. He walked to that corner he likes and stood there for a while than turned looking at me. I was playing with the card she gave me.

Me: Thank you. I looked at him and his eyes were lighter meaning he wasn't angry so that calmed my nerves.

Siyabonga: pleasure. He looked at the food and at me. “ you been sleeping the past two days. Dont you want to eat” my throat felt tight but i took the salad and opened it and took a first bite of only the yoghurt and banana. He watched as I ate it all up in slow motion. I guess he wasnt much of a talker. When i was done he helped me cleaned up than he moved to the corner again and looked at me.

Siyabonga: feeling better?

Me: yeah. Its hurts here and there.

Siyabonga: doctor wants to monitor you some more. The bullets did a number on you so he wants to make sure you are okay but i heard you were out of bed today?

Me: detective took me out for a spin. He nodded. " uhm the guards

Siyabonga: are not going anywhere. I smiled cause that wasnt what i was going to say. He looked at me confused.

Me: I mean the guards. Thank you. I feel much safer you know. He sighed.

Siyabonga: A pleasure. We were both quiet and his phone rang and he sighed. Pressed it looking at the screen i guess it was a video call.

Voice: You look lighter.

Siyabonga: Thanks mom

Voice: how is our patient.

Siyabonga: better.

Voice: you said that yesterday only to find out she been sleeping for two days straight. Now how is she for real.

Siyabonga: she up now if that what you asking. There was screeching and laughing. “ let me see her” he moved his phone handing it to me and a beautiful woman came in view. She had tears in her eyes as she looked at me making me cry. As she waved. I guess i looked horrible. I felt horrible. Siyabonga snatched the phone from me before i can look at myself at the bottom. Siyabonga: will talk later mom. He disconnected the phone. I wiped my tears.
Me: do i look that bad Siyabonga: no

Me: really

Siyabonga: iv seen you worse than this. I kept quiet and looked away he moved closer and sat on my bed. This was the first time ever he was this close and i felt my body respond to him in ways i thought they have longed died. I felt my cheeks heat up. He touched my face with both his hands carefully as if am made out of glass.

Siyabonga: You look better. Dont over think things. My mom is dramatic so just heal okay. It felt safe to nod with his hands on my face so i did and a headache came through blinding me. I closed my eyes and I opened them

I panicked because I couldn't see. I know i was crying
screaming I can't see as he yelled for the doctor while trying to calm me down...

Insert 2:

Siyabonga

When she was crying i felt my heart tight up.

The doctor

came out of the emergency room where she was rushed too and walked towards me. This was an optometrist and her doctor. The both looked exhausted it has been four hours.

Doctor: well she done with surgery and it was successful.

She had blood cloths that were pressing on her nerves.

And when she shook her head they busted since she is still sensitive and her body was still getting used at not being in shock. She will now need glasses and will have headaches when she strains her eyes too much. Am also putting her on a 2 year treatment that we hope will help relieve tension in the almost severed nerves. I nodded and signed the forms.

Optometrist: The next 3 days are hard since she will be not seeing in colour but in shades and movement and her room will be deemed so she needs to be calm at all cost no stress or panic. They nodded and left and I walked in as she was bandages over her eyes and I sat by the chair looking outside. Who did this to you and why?

Somewhere in PMB

I walked into the hotel after going to see Kamo family.

They said she wasn't there and they don't know where she is. I know with that wound she survived. I know this because her car was left there as it is but not her. She was nowhere to be seen. That was the only picture that was there in that newspaper. There was nothing about where the patient was taken. Nothing. The police here in kzn and both Johannesburg have been useless in providing me with any information. All it said in the paper

was the almost accident left the woman in bad condition.
No details like how all reports are like.
Nothing. I run
Johannesburg every dirty cop is in my pocket
but no
dockets or files have been open with her name and description. I've raised questions everywhere here and still no docket nor an investigation that has been open. I've raised up the money for information on her and her where about but nothing. Kamo knows no one and all the people

i thought she would turn too say they don't know where she is and iv had them followed and they were telling the truth. I packed my bag and went downstairs to do the check out process than drove to Durban had lunch and flew back home. Hopefully she dead but if she pops up ill
make sure that she dies. No one leaves me.
No one. I told her that the only way she will be free of me is through a body bag. And this shall show her am serious. I know that where ever she is she knows ill find her.

A week

Kamo

Its been a week since I have been trying to get my eyesight back. Its been a work in progress but

its been progress it self. I woke up and found a beautiful lady in front of me. I know i know her from somewhere but my mind was just a mess. I took the glasses that I now wear

and looked at her smiling face.

Her: Winnie Musk. Oh yes it Siyabonga mom from a call a week ago. She looked lovely. Her aura was lovely. I sat

up and smiled at her.

Me: Kamo. She walked closer sat on my bed with a smile.

Winnie: how you feeling?

Me: better ma, Ngiyabonga

Winnie: i got you chocolate. I looked at the table were she had Beautiful flowers and a huge box of chocolate. I smiled at her. Who doesn't like choc assorted.

Me: Thank you. You and your son have been amazing to me.

Winnie: we take care of our own. I looked at her confused and she smiled. “ so little Jay has meetings today and didn’t want you being bored so here i am. Now move over so we can watch something in that tv of yours or we can just talk” she removed her shoes undid her hair and got in bed with me. I didn’t know what to say. Me: Am okay really. I mumbled. He moved and looked at me.

Winnie: want to know something? She grabbed my hands in hers and really looked at me and I saw her eyes getting glassy.

“ i was once in your shoes. Maybe yours are bigger than mines but I know how you feeling and I know the confusion and mixed emotions and hurt and self doubt but remember this. God love his children. Those he love the most he let them go through hell just so they pray and need him again. You are God favourite child and am not saying what was done to you was right but heal. Talk about it so you can heal. Dont close everything in you little head use this opportunity to the best of your ability.”

Me: This wasn't the first time you know. I found myself saying and I clasped my hand over my mouth. She took them in my hands again. What is it about this woman that makes you want to spill your gut out.

Winnie: I know. Your body scars told us stories that your words can't even begin to explain.

Me: I was just a naive little girl that comes from amakhaya and i guess the big city showed me flames.

Winnie: whatever happened to you is not your fault. I now had tears in my eyes as it all came back to me and i did my best not to cry.

Me: I told him i dont want him anymore. I told him I want to go home and he just went from being calm

into a beast. I dont know how I got out of that house and into

my already packed car after he bashed my head to the wall. I can't talk to the detective because so many times

iv tried to turn to cops and it failed me resulting in an almost dead experience. I can't go home because my family loves his money more than they love me and I dont

blame them because we need that money. I have no one,
this is a mess I know that ill never come out of alive. I felt the defeat wash over me and the little woman was now openly crying. She held me closer to my heart and kissed my forehead.

Winnie: we take care of our own. Trust me.
You are not leaving this in a body bag. She hugged me so tight
making me feel her love. Why couldn't my mother do the same? Why did she look at me with so much anger when

I told her about the first time Mondli hit me?
Why did she say” izindaba zababili azingenwa” like really? I had a blue
eye. I came home for a sanctuary and that what she says
leaving me alone in the room and worse when he came to fetch me allowing him to come drag me out of the house with my hair. What mother allows that and does nothing?
What did I ever do wrong to her for that to happen?....

Insert 3:

Kamo

Its been a weeks of having seeing doctors and going through physical training. Siyabonga has been there for every piece if the journey to my recovery. I was feeling better now and a little optimistic about life.

came every two days to check on me and we will chill and talk and she always brought something nice for me to eat or a new PJ or something. The nurse walked in with newspapers and a magazine and placed them by the table upon my request. She smiled and left i took the paper and read them. I requested 6 months worth of papers. I was glad I wasn't in any of them. I than open up the magazine

and boom Winnie is there.

“ the billionaire philanthropist ...” i closed the magazine.

Billionaire!! Who are these people and why are they so invested in me? I took the magazines and placed them on the table and did the long walk to a bathroom. Did my best to bath and shower without help and still the mirrors

were removed. I haven't looked at myself. I know one of the bullet went out on my cheek taking a tooth with. I know the had to construct it. I finished up and wore the pink PJ and when I got out Siyabonga was in the room looking different today. He has on a white golf top and white denim jeans and sneakers and black watch. Was my first time seeing him in any colour but black or navy.

Siyabonga: you staring

Me: sorry. I blushed and moved to put my toilet bag and took my comb. Comb the hair that has grown.

I was a short hair kind of girl it made it hard for

Mondli to pull me

by my hair if i didn't have any hair. I got in bed and got comfortable as he was moving around a little nervous.

Me: you okay? He looked at me with light eyes.

Siyabonga: yes am okay. We were silent than just than a scary looking guy came to the door.

Him: Its ready boss

Siyabonga: thank you Dion. He smiled at him and he went

and he turned an looked at me. You have time?

Me: you joking right? Of cause. He pulled the chair and i went down and he helped me into taking me with to 3 rooms away. He open the door and there were flowers everywhere and at the centre was a picnic like setting with lots of board games of all kinds and lots of junk and fruits. It was like a mini happy day. I was smiling ear to ear. He helped me to the floor.

Siyabonga: you good?

Me: yeah am good. He sat down in front of me and removed his sneakers and yes he was wearing white socks.

Siyabonga

Seeing her smile like that really made me be at peace.

She has come so far and not once has she complained but she truly is a crier. We played games and she was laughing. Having fun. Am sure being in a hospital can be dreadful. After some time Dion came with Pizza and I swear her eyes were round like she just saw millions.

Me: aah you fave?

Kamo: yes. She took the big slice and ate.

Me: you look happy

Kamo: I am thank you. Thank you for everything. For being here. For always checking in. For being genuine. Thank you so much.

Me: Thank you for giving me that opportunity. She looked at me for awhile than looked away.

Kamo

His eyes were very light. I loved how he made me feel at times and how he took care of me but i learnt my lesson with well of guys the first few months its all roses but afterwards its like hell on earth. But this one.. this one seemed unique but than again they don't have stamps on

they forehead written psycho.

Siyabonga: you thinking too hard. I laughed shaking my head a bit to take away all the negativity.

Me: sorry

Siyabonga: no need to apologise. Wanna talk about it?. I learnt long ago that men don't want to hear your thoughts.

Me: its nothing

Siyabonga: i don't mind hearing the nothing that you were thinking about. I laughed shyly.

Me: You are wealthy. She clasped her hands over her mouth. I knew she had a witty mouth the first time i saw her bite her lower lip. I laughed at her.

Siyabonga: i do okay. She laughs.

Me: that what wealthy people say.

Siyabonga: is my wealthiness an issue. I looked at him

and he still looked relaxed and chilled.

Me: its scary

Siyabonga: how?

Me: wealthy man tend to have ugly traits. Am not saying you one of those but... he raised his hand calming me

since i was rumbling.

Siyabonga: money doesn't change people. If you have an ugly character or trait its just you. Rich or poor. So yes am wealthy so you say but i am me. If i dont like something ill say so. If am angry ill tell you. Ill never do to you what whoever did to you, did to you. So dont compare me to that animal okay? I was stunned and i opened my mouth and closed it.

Me: am sorry

Siyabonga: you apologising for speaking your mind?

Me: i guess i am.

Siyabonga: don't. Now that we got that out of the way.

What else have been cooking in your head. I laughed

lightly. I've never had a man ask me my thoughts ever. Not that I have dated much. Woah girl dated.

Who said

anything about dating.

Siyabonga: you over thinking again

Me: oh so... he shock his head no.

Siyabonga: let say from now on i don't want

you

apologising for your thoughts or anything

apart when you feel like you are really really wrong.

Me: okay. He took a bottle of water and drank and looked at me.

Siyabonga: doctor said you leaving in a few weeks time.

So I want you to be frank with me. Is there a place that you can go to that safe? I felt panic in my chest. Really

now. I didn't think ill be in hospital forever now did I.

Me: no. I whispered.

Siyabonga: okay. Ill make arrangements for you than.

Me: arrangement?

Siyabonga: home arrangements. I looked at him confused.

And i wiped the tear escaping my eye.

Me: I don't have a home. He looked at me.

Siyabonga: are you from here?

Me: iv never been in Durban in my life.

Siyabonga: Than why were you here? He asked with so much patient and felt my heart squeeze but i calmed myself down.

Me: I was running away. I knew if i stayed anywhere in Johannesburg. Mondli(my ex) would find me in minutes and kill me. I knew going home in Pmb my mother would turn me towards him the minute he flashes his money. So I was coming here to start over but you know how that turned out.

Siyabonga

I read her file obviously. I know the torment and torture she been through in all her life but I wanted her to share with me. To show that she trust me. I wanted her to feel safe with me. I wanted her to go back to being herself.

Me: Am not from here too. I smiled. she looked at me shocked.

Kamo: Really?

Me: yes.

Kamo: but you always here

Me: because you here. I fly in every morning and fly out every night. Her eyes shot up wildly and it looked cute and I laughed. For the first time in years i actually

laughed. She really was the one for me.

Kamo: you fly in?

Me: helicopter.

Kamo: and your mom?

Me: she flies in. She looked am me so confused.

Me: am from Plettenberg bay. Its a place just outside of eastern cape and 600 km from Cape town.

Approximately

I have about 40 to 60 thousand people in my little town.

Kamo: you have?

Me: Yes I have.

Kamo: you like a king there?

Me: we don't have those but some village have chiefs but everyone reports to me. Mayor councillor and all and since we still in South Africa I just let the government know on my city wellbeing and so forth. She laughed the hysterical laugh.

Kamo: you just let the government know. She laughed again and I saw she was in shock. I kept quiet while I watched her brain work.

Kamo: You fly here daily? She mumbled. "you found me at the free way when that accident happened"

Me: yes i did.

Kamo: how?

Me: one day it will make sense to you. She kept quiet.

Kamo: You were in a Johannesburg newspaper.

Me: business. I do business all around the world. She kept quiet and she looked at me.

Kamo: You are a billionaire

Me:so they say.

Kamo: no i dont mean South African rand billions like billion billion American dollar. I remember reading it somewhere that you have business aboard too and.... she kept quiet.

Kamo: secret service. YOU ARE THE GOVERNMENT!!! She closed her mouth quickly. In all my years no one has ever known that. Not even close friends. No one. Yes people like to think the government or any country with the government that cause of it political parties but no one ever things about the extra details. Where the money comes from? Who are the investors that invest in the country in order for the government to be able to do it job. Who are those people who make those big decisions and where they come from. People think the President is the head of the government but they wrong. He himself answer to the big boss and sadly that me in my family.

She looked at me and I saw fear in her eyes than worry than shock than hope that was replaced by fear again.

Kamo: You the government. She mumbled.

Yes i have

peers that help me run things but yeah I am.

Than her

eyes went wilder.

Kamo: Musk.. Canada , America. Oh no

America too. That was quick.

Me: I help here and there.

Kamo: oh my world. Oh my world. She moved back looked at me like i grew a head. She closed her eyes.

Open them again.

Me: You okay

Kamo: Am sitting next to the world rumoured myth of cause am not okay. You the richest man in the world that the media downplays. Than her eyes went bright.

Kamo: The news papers. She got up so fast and stopped cause she felt dizzy. I helped her to her room and she showed me a bunch of papers.

Kamo: 6 months worth of newspapers. Not once was my details in there. You truly are the big guy!! I looked at her.

Held her face.

Me: Kamo. Breathe. She took a deep breath.

Me: Now let go sit down and talk okay. She nodded and I picked her up and walked to the other room and we sat down with her on my lap cuddled like a baby.

I could have placed her down but I didn't. I loved how her slim

body felt in mines...

Insert4:

Kamo

It felt so good being in his strong arms. He smelt so

earthy and safe. I snuggled in him and the silence

consumed me making me doze off. I woke up to find

myself still in his arms.

Me: i slept

Siyabonga: you did

Me: am... he squeezed me a bit and I kept quiet.

“ you always here “

Siyabonga: are you complaining?

Me: no but you run two world and business and lots of stuffs yet you always here.

Siyabonga:my family takes care if things when am not there. They report back later. I have people who work for me you know.

Me: I see. Thank you

Siyabonga: for everything. I feel lighter with you. I usually have to hide a part of me or who and what i am most of the time that it sometimes get lonely. Now with you. With you its different. I smiled feeling some type of way but the little voice in me told me to be cautious. Man can be something else. The guard who i learnt is name is Dion stood by the door. I guess it was his signal for them to leave.

Siyabonga: am going for a couple of days.

Mom will come see you every second day and am also going to send a phone package later on so you can call me anytime you want. Ill be back day before you are discharged

Me: you going for a whole week? I don't know why that made me sad but it did.

Siyabonga: yes

Me: i know i was feeling entitled to a man that i didn't even know was mine or not. A mine that could have a wife and kids.

Siyabonga: You too quiet. Are you good?

Me: Yeah. I lied

Siyabonga: talk to me. Remember you a bad liar and if I don't know what bothering you. How am I to fix it.

Me: do you have a wife and kids? He chuckled and i looked up at him as he looked down on me.

Siyabonga: where will I tell my wife am going every day and night. He made a valid point but i wanted to hear him say it.

“ no i dont have a wife. Nor do I have a child”

Me: Oh

Siyabonga: and you

Me: no wife or child. He laughed. It was nice having a person I can joke with and laugh with.

Me: Just a crazy Ex boyfriend who will rather have me dead than leave him. That all.

We were quiet for sometime as he snuggled me closer to him. He kissed my head.

Siyabonga: will it be to much to ask you to be my girlfriend. He mumbled and I moved up from him.

Siyabonga

She looked at me so shocked and I don't know what pushed me to ask but I felt like I needed to.

To assure her
that am only hers. Yes she doesn't know half of what i know so i just wanted to give her some sort of reassurance.

Kamo: am damaged goods

Me: says who?

Kamo: am not rich.

Me: You reasons are null.

Kamo: Am not your type. I laughed. In less than a day she has made me laugh so many times.

Me: what is my type? She smiled. The most beautiful
smile ever.

Kamo: I don't know but we two different people from two different worlds.

Me: Yet we breathe in and out the same air. Look am not going to lie to you and declare my undying love to you.

But i want you in my life for reasons you wouldn't understand even if I explain now but most importantly I need you because of how you make me feel. She looked at me shocked.

Kamo: You seriously want me?

Me: Yes

Kamo: I don't know what to say.

Me: You can say yes. She smiled shyly and looked at me.

Kamo: okay.

Me: okay what?

Kamo: Ill be your girlfriend. She smiled shyly and i pulled her to me giving her a hug.

Me: You okay? She nodded in me arms. I know being broken can take a toll on a person so her making that move to give me a chance is a big thing.

Me: Am going to leave you with 6 guards okay. They your protective detail. You don't go anywhere without them alright. Its 3 in the morning and 3 at night. If anything happens you call me no matter how small you think it is okay.

Kamo: okay.

Me: The doctor going to come when am gone and injected your arm with a tracker. Its just a precaution

Kamo: okay.

Me: anything you want to ask me before I go?

Kamo: be safe

Me: always. I kissed her forehead and looked at her glassy eyes. First time in my life iv had a person feel sad just because am leaving them behind. “ I promise to make

it up to you”

Kamo: just be safe. I picked her up placed her on the chair and walked her over to her room. I helped her to bed than kissed her forehead and left. I went to the top floor where my chopper was parked and flew out to Cape Town where I got my next flight taking me to China.

Mondli

I watched the news just as my two private investigators walked in. They both shooked they head no.

Me: what you mean no

Khumalo: I mean that your girl just vanished into thin air.

There are no hospitals in all of Durban that have anyone by her name or her description.

Ngubane: none here in Johannesburg. Maybe she died in a ditch somewhere. You yourself said she has no resources so she is no more. She suffered 3 gun shot wounds two to the head. She is dead my brother that requires lots of money to deal with plus all bullets are reports and none have matched the ones you gave us.

Me: I know maybe am paranoid. That woman is a fighter.

Maybe i expected her to fight this too.

Khumalo: ay the odds were against her this time around. I looked at them as something kept nudging me that she is alive but for now let me let it be.

Me: Okay.Thanks. They left and I sat there looking at the pictures of us on my desk. I really did love her it just that at times i felt so small and the only way i can make her
pay was through tormenting her.

Kamo

I woke up to the doctor in the room.

Doctor: you up

Me: yes

Doctor: you doing good. Did mr Musk explain that ill be injecting you with a small device?

Me: yes

Doctor: Good you will feel a little dizzy at first but it all good. It will be like an implant on your arm.

Me: okay. The doctor injected me and i did feel dizzy and he left. Just than one of the guard walked in with the paper bag and i knew that the phone was there.

Guard: This is for you ma'am. I smiled at him as he gave me my bag and I took out the phone that was in there charged it and switched it on. It was an iPhone 8 Plus.

Than there was a small box of chocolates too and sour worms. They really were my favourite. When the phone was done charging i went to it and took a picture of myself and I was shocked to see how I look. My right side looked full of scars but my left was perfect. I guess this is the side i got shot at. I smiled and I had one dimple which was made by the bullet whole. I wrote a text to the number saved in my phone. " hy. I charged" He replied back " ill call you in an hours time am about to be on channel 412” i grabbed the Tv and turned to that channel.

Anchor: we about to be live with the Philanthropist and business model and the world class economist in the next 5 minute. His name is Siyabonga Jayden Musk. The son of Elon Musk and Winnie Nkosi. He is an African American but mostly spends his time in Africa. His the youngest billionaire and the only one in his age with net worth of estimation of 97 billion. Yes ladies and gentlemen 97 billion. His the vice chancellor of the WHO (world health organisation) and chair in the AU. The list goes on. Than just than his face popped up and I knew he was angry due to how dark grey his eyes were.

Anchor: Good evening and thank you for joining us today. I do understand we caught you at a bad time while you on your way to the summit?

Siyabonga: Yes

Anchor: many are confused as to why you indulging the Chinese this year.... the interview went on and on about money and economic growth and stability and job recreation. He was a smart man. The way he articulated himself throughout showed he was wise and has knowledge in what he was and is talking about.

Anchor: Thank you very much for your time sir and have a safe flight

Siyabonga: its a pleasure the minute it disconnected my phone rang.

Me: you angry? I really have a big mouth. I heard him breathe.

Siyabonga: not at you

Me: what is it.

Siyabonga: I just hated the intro that all. I kept quiet thinking about it.

Me: you feel like people see you as a walking bank?

Siyabonga: And than you wonder why i need you. I smiled.

“ how you feeling?”

Me: bored

Siyabonga: just 6 more days than you out.

Me: Its too long

Siyabonga; i can get mom there tomorrow instead of Wednesday.

Me: Oh no its okay Wednesdays is fine.

Siyabonga: You sure?

Me: yeah am sure.ill catch up on sleep mostly.

Siyabonga: let me know if you change your mind than.

Me: I will. We were quiet and he was breathing.

Siyabonga: I feel uneasy like I shouldn't have left you behind. I have some sort of heaviness on my chest as if something going to happen to you

Me: You have the guards here remember? So nothing going to happen to me

Siyabonga: am over thinking right?

Me: I think so. Am fine. I promise. The track thingy is in me so you can see am alive and kicking.

He laughed. " the track thingy"

Me: i such with technology

Siyabonga; i can see. Well let me prepare for the summit ill text you later on.

Me: okay. Stay safe

Siyabonga: you too. He hung up and I closed my eyes smiling. When last did i feel like this? I felt like a teenager all over again? What is this guy doing to me?

Is it too

soon to move on?do i need time to heal? Find myself or is this it?...

Kamo

I woke up around 4:30 to a feeling that someone is staring at me and indeed it was. In A cleaning uniform my cousin stood there looking at me with tears in her eyes.

Lindiwe: Kamo. I sat there looking at the little girl that used to watch when my mom used to beat the shit out of me.

Lindiwe: Kamo is this really you? I kept quiet out of fear as she walked closer to me wiping her tears.

Me: please don't come any closer.

Lindiwe: oh my gosh it is you. She cried openly and i just looked at her as fear crept in on me. Lindiwe hated me so much growing up. Everything was a competition with her even when I wasn't competing. Its been years since iv seen her but now that she knows where I am. Everyone at home will too and it just a matter of time for Mondli to know where I am. She tried to touch me. Me: please dont touch me. The fear in my voice and the sternness made her stop. Lindiwe: I thought you have died. When Mondli came home looking for you the other day I thought something bad happened to you or that you were kidnapped or something. Are you okay?

Me: please go.

Lindiwe: Kamo. Tears came to my eyes as I remembered the day I went to were she was renting thinking as a cousin sister if I told her my situation she will help but no.

She called my mother telling her am at her place leading uMondli to come there and fetch me. She watched as i begged as he kicked and pushed me into the boot and giving her money and driving off with me. No one in my family cared to protect me when I came to them asking

for help they always sided with Mondli.
Asking stupid
questions like what did you do to piss him off? He wouldn't be like this if you just do as he ask.
She looked at me one more time as I clutched to the people shaking from remembering the vile words they uttered when i last asked for help crying and begging them not to turn me to Mondli but all i was to them I was a means to money.

Lindiwe: kamo, your mom...

Me: ngithe phuma lindiwe(I said leave)

Lindiwe:Everyone is worried about you.Mondli....

Me: Guard. The guards walked in and looked at me and looked at Lindiwe confused but drawn his gun pointing at Lindiwe.

Guard: Are you okay Ma'am?

Me: please escort her out and make sure she says out and don't ever come this side. She looked scared as the guard escorted her with cleaning things.

Siyabonga

The phone ringing and I looked at it since I was already in a meeting and it was Kamo and my other phone rang and

I saw it was the guard that at the hospital. I got up and left answering kamo.

Kamo: am sorry... she was crying and i didnt hear a single thing she was saying. I took my other phone and answered him.

Guard: The boss lady is a mess after one of the new cleaners were caught in her room. She is shaking in the corner holding a people. Iv called the doctor and wants no one to touch her. I heard the panic in my guards voice.

Me: call my mother and detain that cleaner now.

Guard: yes boss. I knew coming here was a mistake. I looked at Dion. Took a deep breath and placed my phone in my ear.

Kamo: His going to find me. She kept on saying and crying and the fear in her voice crippled me.

Me: Kamo. She didnt listen

Me: baby. Listen to me. Am on my way okay.

Listen to me. She kept on repeating the same thing over and over and I knew that she wasn't going to hear me and the 14 hours flight wasn't helping but i signalled

Dion for the

chopper went in the meeting wrapped up the delegation and put them on hold due to a family emergency. Took the helicopter to the airport and got on my jet heading back to SA. I called my mother

Mom: Am on my way to her now just 30 minute away.

Me: I knew it mom. I shouldn't have left.

Lindiwe

I was still processing what iv just seen when my supervisor called me in to his office and there were two guards there just like the ones standing guard in Kamo room. Yes i knew Mondli was abusive. I thought he might have killed her long ago but he kept coming home asking

us about her like a possessed loss puppy when I saw her
and yes iv heard about the woman on the west wing who was hanging by a thread not once did I think it was my cousin. Iv heard from the nurses about how she was shot
3 times twice on her face and her body a mess with broken bones and limbs and how the good Samaritan that found her has been there for her through her ups and down. The workers used to rejoice with every information

we got of her pulling through a surgery or overcoming
what doctors thought was a mild stone.
Specialist from all over were flown in to construct her face and help her. She had security guards 24/7 since they feared the person who did this to her might come back. I heard all about it and not once did I think that it would be my cousin who was there fighting for her life. The same cousin i once
watch being beaten to almost to a pulp and thrown in the boot like trash for running away. That money I got from

Mondli that day helped me gained my independence but

was it worth it from turning my helpless kind soul cousin?

I saw the fear in her eyes when she saw me and it made me think I might not be Mondli but I also helped in getting her where she is and that broke me as I cried.

The two guards just looked at me with confusion.

Kamo

Doctor: am injecting you so you sleep. Am not going anywhere okay. Am here. The guards are here you safe.

The cleaner is in a room, no one going to hurt you. I nodded and he injected me just as I saw mom Winnie walk in her PJ with so much worry. She got in bed with me as I cried in her arms while she comforted me and rocked me to sleep.

Lindiwe

My knock of time came and went but i was still stuck in the room. In the morning i had sandwiches and juice brought to me and the guards and we ate while they watched me. Day time came and I was beginning to be

restless my phone was ringing on the table
and the
guards looked at me and told me to leave it.
Lunch was served and just then the door opened and the guards
stood straighter as if that was even possible
and the
handsome man that i used to see from far was standing
right in front of me looking a whole lot pissed.
I felt the shiver going down my spine and I wanted to pee immediately.
Him: Miss Lindiwe. I just got back from an 15 hours trip.

Am not in a good mood as you can see and Ill just want

you to answer a few questions.what your relation with

Kamo?

Me: uhm she is my cousin. I started.

Him: what did you do to her

Me: nothing sir. I was shocked to see her so i was just staring at her still trying to figure out if it was her only to find out it was her and when she got up she chased me

out.

Him: why?

Me: we not on good terms sir

Him: why? I kept quiet.

Him: am not a patient man.

Me: i did something bad to her once which am not proud of that why.

Him: which is? I shifted and looked at him with tears in my eyes.

Him: am waiting Lindiwe

Me: she was in an abusive relationship and I never helped.

Him: I see. Explains her reaction now. You can go. I looked at him confused.

Me: Am sorry

Him: That all you can go. I slowly got up and took my phone when I got to the door he called me.

Me: Yes.

Him: when you tell whoever you going to tell today about what happened today don't forget to tell them that I told you that if Mondli ever got wind of where she is and he comes for her. Ill kill you with my bare hands. His eyes changed to dark grey and his voice got darker and I felt my bladder threatens to let go as I ran to the bathroom. I peed and sat there with my heart pounding so hard. I checked my phone it was mom calling I sent her a message saying i was working overtime but am safe. I washed my face and left. Am just going to pretend like I've never seen my cousin. Am not going to say a word to anyone about this. Hopefully I'll have my job cause it really pays well. Hopefully she is okay...

Insert 6:

Siyabonga

I walked in the room to find my mom and her peacefully sleeping. I see they already had lunch. I stood there and my mom woke up with a smile and hugged me.

Mom: You came back

Me: yes

Mom: she much better though. You should have stayed.

Me: I knew something bad would happen but I left anyways. You can go home. Ill see you later.

She kissed

my cheek and left with her guards and I went and took out my blazer and shoes got in bed with her and slept.

Kamo

I woke up feeling better and i shifted and i felt a strong arm holding me I turned and found Siyabonga sleeping right next to me. I smiled and looked at him.

His bushy

eyebrows and thin lips. Siyabonga; you staring he whispered with his eyes closed. I smiled and he open

them and I watched as his eyes changed from blue to light grey. Its was fascinating.

Siyabonga: how are you?

Me: iv seen worse days than this. He moved kissed my forehead then looked at me.

Me: Am sorry. Tears threaten my eyes.

Siyabonga: for?

Me:all of this. You suppose to be in China doing lord

knows what yet here you are babysitting me.

Siyabonga: Did you ask me to come back?

Me: no

Siyabonga: than don't be sorry. When a person is important to you. You make them your priority and right now you are mines. Ill deal with china later.

Now come closer let talk about your cousin. I shifted closer to him and he held me.

Me: There really not much to say. She hated me as kids and rejoiced in my pain and when I told her about Mondli she used to side with him and allow him to come and take me away. The last year of my relationship has been hell. I've tried everything to leave but everyone turned against me because Mondli knew their soft spots and used it against them.

Siyabonga: tell me about your family

Me: nothing to tell when dad died when I was six my mom took me to her side of the family and she changed from the loving mother that she was to a witch. She used to beat me and starve me for no reason.

Lindiwe hated

me because her mother was the only descent soul that took me in here wing and tried to protect me but that was on weekends only since she work so far. I used to long

for Fridays because she will come home and treat me like her child. When i got to matric i got a bursary that allowed me to study so i went to varsity and studied 4
years of biomedical researching and got an internship at Helen Joseph labs. Life was good than I meet Mondli who made life even better 2 years in the relationship i saw signs of things I can't deal with so when I told him that I want out. Its like I flipped a switch that turned him into the monster that he was. I tried going to the cops but he will pay them off. I even tried to go to the ones not in our area and I learnt he has power everywhere. I ran home and everyone shunned me out. Lindiwe mom was never home when I had issues plus I was ashamed to call her and tell my story since I figured that my mom and cousins has already polluted her against me. So i saved money enough to run away thinking he wont find me and look where that got me? I wiped the tears on my face and kept quiet. He kept quiet too and snuggled me after sometime he spoke and his voice was hard.

Siyabonga: Its wasn't you fault.

Me: I know now. For sometime i blamed myself but as time when and I saw what a crazy physcho he was i stopped and I figured maybe God just wanted me to go through this.

Siyabonga: no he didn't. He said that with too much confidence that I kept quiet.

Siyabonga: Am thinking today we can go home.

Me: Home?

Siyabonga: Yes home.

Me: I don't have a home.

Siyabonga: Home is anywhere where am at right. I smiled.

Siyabonga: my mom wants us to come stay at my home for awhile until you strong enough. Yes there are a lot of people in my house but we all have our own wings. This will be until you feel like you have gained enough strength for the world than we can pick any city that you want to move to and start a fresh new life there. I kept quiet for a

while and looked at him.

Me: you really have done so much for me

Siyabonga: you a part of me now.

Me: can I think about it?

Siyabonga: sure but you have until later.

Me: Thanks. I slept on his chest and closes my eyes what there to think about vele? Cause his offering me a sanctuary the same thing iv been begging my family to do.

Me: Ill go. He chuckled.

Siyabonga: I promise you wont notice the other people in the house if you stick to my end.

Me: okay. How many rooms is the house

Siyabonga: how about we get there. I don't want you changing your mind. I looked at him and he smiled. The urge to kiss him was so strong but I kept my distance and slept on his chest..

Lindiwe

I walked in my tiny room that I rent and slept and woke up feeling fresh took a bath and made some lunch for work since whole week am going night shift.

My phone

rang and it was mom so I answered.

Me: Ma

Mom: uright? Yazi ngiphuphe kabi(are you okay? I had an ugly dream)

Me: Yeah am good ma.

Mom: off to work?

Me: yebo ma.

Mom: alright. Be safe mntanami.(my daughter)

Me: i will be. I finished preparing for work and went when I got there my supervisor called me and I went to her office. I got there found her there sitting.

Supervisor: I heard there was a commotion yesterday that involved you? I looked at her confused “ lindiwe”

Me: yes

Supervisor: what happened yesterday between you and the patient in the west wing.

Me: nothing. She looked at me for some time.

Supervisor: okay, since you not talking am not going to press you for information. You can start your daily routine.

I nodded and walked out and went to change.

After that I started cleaning and when I finally got to the wing were Kamo was there was no guards. There were nurses and the rooms were occupied by other patients. It was like she was never there. The whole thing was like a whole process that I have imagined. I slowly walked to the room that she was in and there was an old lady there. I stood there looking in and I shock my head.

Me: forget about it Lindiwe. This is not your battle. I took my cleaning things and continued with job.

Kamo

My first flight experience was not as bad as i imagined. I closed my eyes during the whole process and only opened them when we were safely down.

Siyabonga was finished with laughter as he helped me down and we walked to the cars waiting. I got in the back and we drove through a forest dense population. Just than big iron gate came in view and the automatically opened and the most beautiful huge mansion that iv ever seen in my life. There were guards everywhere and he helped me out when the car stopped. I got out in my grey swear pants and sneakers that he got for me. The door opened and Winnie stood there beaming with a smile. She gave one hell of a hug and kissed me all over making me shy.

Winnie: So glad you agreed to come visit me.
She side
hugged me and we walked in the foyer and it was like i just stepped into a new world. This house was beyond beautiful. It was elegantly awesome and so sophisticated.

Me: you have a beautiful home.

Winnie: Thank you. You must be tired. Let me show you your end of the house. We walked to the beautiful hall that

was 3 elevators. She pressed the button and the door opened.

Me: You have elevators in your house. She smiled.

Winnie: we a big family so to get around we need them.

We got in and I noticed it was us two. She pressed the black button and it went up i saw that it was 7 floors.

Who has a house that seven floors and The black button making it 8 oh and that excluding “B” for basement. So basically this house is 9 floors! The doors stopped and opened up to the most beautiful house ever. It looked like a loft kind of like or a penthouse don’t know the difference but it was amazing. Everything was black, silver white. The lounge had black furniture and white walls. On the far left was a kitchen so huge 100 people can cook there it was all silver with a touch of black here and there. This place screamed Siyabonga. I walked in some more and saw a small study area where it was fully white and oak looking out to the most beautiful garden ever and the huge stair case was bronze. I turned to find that I was alone now. I got up the stair to his bedroom that was the whole upper room it was full white with black curtains all around. I moved to it and saw it was all glass at the top. I went to the balcony and it over looked the city and as I walked around it showed a beautiful breath taking view. This place was heaven on earth.

There was a small staircase going up and I went up to find a helicopter pad with a helicopter there. I walked back down and went in closed the door took a long shower than when done open up the closet and stood there. One side was grey, than black, then white than navy. Shoes were black and white only. I stood there wrapped in a towel not believing what am seeing.

Siyabonga: Hi. I jumped and turned. He looked lighter.

Me: You only have four colours of clothing? I was shocked.

Siyabonga: it suites me.

Me: I see. I took one of his tops and moved back to the bathroom and wore it. Came out took his black socks and wore them than walked to the couch in the room. The doors closed. He pressed a button and the curtains opened showing us the most beautiful view ever. I sat there smiling like a retard. This place was amazing.

Me: You have a nice home.

Siyabonga: Thank you.

Me: how many room are in this house?

Siyabonga: i have no idea he answered shyly.

I knew he knows. I now learnt that his a bit shy about his wealth so

I let it slide and kept quiet. He got up and I heard water

running and I moved to the huge bed and slept there

looking at the beautiful garden that the last thing I remember as I had the most peaceful sleep

ever...

Goodmorning

Insert7:

Siyabonga

I went downstairs to the family home and there in the lounge was mom and dad and 3 of my brothers and my 5 of my sisters and they husbands.

Me: seriously guys

Dad: you cant just bring a woman home and expect us to be silent. Does she know?

Me: know what?

Mom: about you? Your powers? Yours skills. About you.

Me: No. the whole room erupted at once speaking.

Siyamkela: you can't let a girl fall in love with you and don't tell her about your true self. That wrong. She has to choose this life. You can't choose it for her. I looked at my older brother.

Me: Its easy for you to say. You'll are just were wolves.

You'll only change once in a blue moon and that if I summon you guys to change. Am the Alpha. I never asked to be one. I never asked for all the powers that goes along with being an Alpha. I didn't ask to be all of you in

one. Can you please just give me a fucken break. You all have your mates and what do I have? I felt my inner strength taking over and I saw everyone in
the room
taking a step back covering mom and they mates since they just normal human beings. I looked at dad and he looked at me.

Me: Am sorry. I turned around to look at the green vase
that was there as decor.

Philile: I know you going through a lot and yes we don't understand how it like being you and am sure we never

will but you need to tell her so she can make a choice knowing what she getting herself into.

Me: you making me sound horrible.

Philile: No am not. We all know that you a kind human.

We know you full of love and compassion and you always do right for the pack but you are immortal.

You are the first generation were wolf. You have all your great ancestral powers. God dammit you can read minds if you want to. You do things that are inhumanly possible. Does she even know that you saw her car crash before she even crash? Does she even know that you went to Durban the day before her crisis because you knew your mate was in trouble? Does she

Me: no. I mumbled.

Philile:Am not going to tell you how to play this because its been centuries that the Alpha was without a mate and we knew this day is coming. We read about it in books and heard stories about it. But you need to tell her so she decides for herself if she wants to be in your life or not.

Heck if she sleeps with you does she knows what will happen?

Philile: You are smart Jay. Its in your genes to protect and I know you will hate yourself if this plays out wrong. Talk to her. Show her little and little of yourself.

Me: i cant read her mind. Everyone was silent that was a first. I could read anyone mind , i could plant a train of thought in anyone mind and I could will anyone to do anything but I couldn't do none of those to her. I tried to stop her from panicking before and it was blank. When I knew she was thinking i tried to access her mind but it was blank.

Sakhanya: what you mean you cant read her mind. You read everyones mind.

Me: exactly that. Iv tried but it was blank

Mom: I don't understand

Me: this what frustrates me. It would have been better if I knew what she thinks of me now. I watched as my sisters laughed.

Philile: you dumb ass. She just went half across the country with you after an abusive relationship and trust you with her life and you worried about what she thinks of you ain't it shown in actions. I looked at her with a blank expression.

Mom: You dumb and smart.

Dad: all am saying son is we here for you both and of course none of us will tell her anything it has to come from you.

Me: I hear you

Philile: Don't sleep with her please. You know what will happen. Don't even try to tell me about being careful.

Me: I hear you guys. Now that the pack has spoken can I go now.

Mom: I love you son. I know you sometimes have the toughest job in the world but we love you.

Me: I love you too.

Sbonga: jeez can we go now. We all looked at him.

Dad: remember guys so long the new human is here no changing, no super powers. We will act as normal as possible. Got it?

Us: yes dad

Dad: sbonga!

Sbonga: i got you dad.

Dad: good. Now goodnight see you all at breakfast in the morning. I turned and dad stopped me.

Dad: I know this is new and I know you doing history here and this was inevitable but please tread lightly.

Me: i will

Dad: see you in the morning. I walked to the elevators and saw the whole fam was there and I just teleported to my room where i found her still peacefully sleeping. I removed my top and got in bed with her as she moved closer to me snuggling me. I slept still not moving and doing my best not to have her ass touching my big guy because I really wanted her to chose me as a mate before i mate with her because once I do and she leaves. She dies. Iv seen it twice before with the failed relationships iv had and am not about to be responsible for a person death again.

Kamo

I woke up took a shower and went to the closet to find there were now woman clothes there too. I stood there for sometime thinking. There were all kinds of shoes, dresses, tops pants. I looked at the time it was only 8:30 so when did he shop for all of this. He walked in looking at me.

Siyabonga: you look confused.

Me: The clothes

Siyabonga: I got a few things for you.

Me: You call this a few? Thank you. He nodded and left and I took one black dress wore it and some black sandals. I combed my hair and applied vaseline on my lips and left the dressing room. He was sitting by the couch reading something on his iPad.

Me: What will you like for breakfast. I walked towards the stair. He looked at me for some time.

Siyabonga: mom already made. We can go downstairs and you can meet the pa.... family.

Me: cool. We walked downstairs and i was nervous I guess Siya could sense it and he held ny hand and we walked towards the chatter and it was a huge dinning area. Everyone was silent when they saw us.

Siyabonga: family. kamo. Kamo family. I waved a hand

awkwardly as the smiled at me too. He pulled a chair and he sat down at the other side of the head of the family opposite his father.

Winnie: slept well?

Me: Yeah i did. Thank you. He dished out a few things for himself than did the same for me and I mumbled thank you. Breakfast was calm and his sisters were looking at my every move. I noticed they all had topaz eyes apart him. It was 4 boys and 5 girls. They spouses were there too. The family was really really close.

Philile: what you studied.

Me: biomedical researching. I focused mostly on genetic matter and genetic mutation. Everyone stopped eating and looked at me as if i just swore.

Philile: interesting. She mumbled. I looked at Siyabonga and I saw his eyes getting darker and I wasn't sure if I was the issue. Was it something I said or did I do anything wrong.

Me: Excuse me. I got up from the table blinking my tears away. I wasn't about to cry in front of the family and walked out to the bathroom. I got there washed my face.

What did I do or say that made him so angry with me?. I heard the whole room erupt in talking all at once than I heard mom Winnie calming them down and I heard

Siyabonga chilling voice.

Siyabonga: All i asked you guys to do was behave

yourselves. She mentions her career and you all think she

now going to put you on the table and experiments with

you. What the hell is wrong with you people?

His voice

vibrated and there was silence and it was than that I realised he wasn't angry at me but at them.

Why do they fear my career path? What have research doctors have done to them that will make them fear me. I don't even have a job!...

Insert 8:

Kamo

I sat by the bathroom not sure what to do now. This was so weird. There was now silence in the other room. There was a knock on my door and I kept quiet.

Siyabonga: Kamo

Me: almost done

Siyabonga: open up. I kept quiet and didn't move from where I was. I was looking at the door focusing. " please"

i walked there opened and came out we were in the passage.

Siyabonga: you okay?

Me: yes

Siyabonga: you sure?

Me: yes: he looked at me for awhile than his eyes changed.

Me: you angry

Siyabonga: am not

Me: you are. He kept quiet and closed his eyes and than open them again and there were Topaz like his family. I took a step back and he looked at me. It wasn't out of fear it was just out of precaution. I only knew dark grey and light grey. I never knew what Topaz was for. I saw his sister come our way.

Philile: we going shopping with the ladies want to come with? I nodded and she smiled signalling me to come. I looked at Siyabonga and he was looking the other way. I went up to his room took one of the bags I had put in the phone he gave me and small Vaseline. I wore my glasses because the sun still irritated my eyes and I was about to go when Siyabonga walked in. He had a card with him.

Siyabonga: here. I looked at him and the card.

Me: am not going to buy anything.

Siyabonga: even so. Take it. I took the card.

Me: Thank you. He looked at me for awhile than turned and left and I walked downstairs and out. I got to the Elevator and went out in the family home and found Mr

Musk standing there.

Mr Musk: I wanted to apologise

Me: for?

Mr Musk: earlier on. I kept quiet because i really didnt understand what was happening.

Me: Its okay

Mr Musk: I wish i could explain more but right now I can't

but I also don't want you feeling like you not welcomed here because you are. I smiled at the old man.

Me: Thank you

Mr Musk: they already went to the basement.

I pressed

the elevator to the basement and went down. Lord behold when I got there iv never seen anything like this in my whole life. There were all kinds of cars parked there. From Porsche to Ferrari to Mercedes to Wagons.

Everything

from class to sport to luxury.

Philile: it's overwhelming

Me: you people live in your own world.

Philile: come my over protective brother already picked a car for us and guards.

Me: guards? We going shopping?

Philile: my sentiments exactly but Siyabonga is one

protective guy

Me: are you not married?

Philile: try telling that to him. She laughed and we went to the car were there were guards and I got in the back with her and Slondiwe one of the brothers wife.

We drove out

talking about anything and everything it was really nice

being with ladies you know. Unwinding. They took pictures

we had fun shopping and when we got to the mens shop i saw a nice pink shirt and I liked it so I brought it for him

they both looked at me.

Philile: You haven't seen his closet

Me: I have

Philile: his never going to wear that shirt.

Me: he will. They both looked at me and looked at the

shirt and started betting. It was a joke and I got silver

cuffs too and a brown belt.

Slondiwe: are you for real?

Me: yep. His closet need some colour. When done We went for lunch and they took few more snaps than we went to the salon and did our nails and toes. They convinced me to do braids and I did long black braids when we were done it was almost dinner time so we drove home. They took more snaps and we got in via the foyer.

We were

laughing and talking when Siyabonga just stood there looking at me weird. There was silence as he walked closer touched my braids and smiled.

Siyabonga: you look different

Philile: we did a little pampering

Siyabonga: i can see. He gave me a side hug and we walked to the lounge were we ate having a nice

conversation about everything and anything.

Sbonga: What your take in myths? He asked me and I saw

looks passing by and people drinking they wines

Me: what about them?

Sbonga: you believe in them

Me: depends

Philile: on? I saw the tension in the room but i treaded lightly.

Me: on it merits. If they have been actual sightings of those for instance mermaids. I kinda believe in them. They all looked at me weirdly.

Me: what?

Siyabonga: you believe in mermaids?

Me: to many reports have showed sightings. Iv never seen them but I do believe they exist.

Sbonga: werewolves. Everyone was looking at me so i placed the spoon down and looked at they topaz eyes.

Me: Iv never seen one. Iv never seen a wolf alone and I wouldn't know the difference even if I see one but iv read to many mythical stories about them that I don't know what true and what not. So am kinda on the fence with them.

Mr Musk: You smart

Me: Thank you. This is the first time iv had an intellectual conversation without anyone feeling like am undermining them or showing off my nerd side.

Sbonga: What will you do if you were to be face to face with a wolf? Everyone turned to look at him and he acted like he can't see them.

Me: nothing. I cant run cause it faster. Ill just stand there frozen no sudden movement until its decides to not see me as a threat and when it leaves I'll probably scream my head off. Everyone started laughing at my last statement.

Philile: Iv seen one. Siyabonga gave her a look and she looked at me.

Me: where?

Philile: we are in the middle of nowhere here
so i once
saw it.

Siyabonga

I really appreciate what my family is doing for me but this is too much.

Kamo: I think wolfs are like dogs. They have a sense of loyalty to their own and i once read somewhere that they mate with one wolf till they die if the female leaves the male. The female dies and the male dies of heart break.

There was silence.

Kamo

Winnie: you know a lot about wolfs

Me: my dad used to encourage reading so i started reading ever since i could.

Siyabonga: Can't believe you believe in mermaids

Me: well I believe in a lot of things like vampires too. The room just went still. Sbonga laughed.

Sbonga: damn i love you. They all laughed nervously.

Siyabonga: why vampires?

Me: God made good and bad so if he makes werewolves ain't he going to create vampires too?

Everyone nodded

making sense of what I was saying.

Siyabonga: than who is the bad between the two

Me: obviously the vampires they hunt on humans

Siyabonga: so do wolfs

Me: but it different with wolfs. You wont see a wolf walking in a mall and start eating people one way like a vampire would. Wolves only attack when they feel like they only way out is attacking.

Siyabonga: makes sense but they both eat humans

Me: yeah but it depends how it got to that. I wouldnt mind having a wolf as a pet cause it loyal and will protect me from intruders but cant say the same with a vampire. One sniff of my neck i could become dinner.

Everyone was looking at me fascinated by this. I never thought in my wildest dream that ill talk about something fictional and have the whole room listening at me and actually appreciating my insight.

Siyabonga; so you would trust a wolf but never a vampire?

Me: yep in a heart beat

Syamukela: how will you communicate with your wolf?

Me: animals are smart. They read your body language and how you react to situations and take it from there. So if i had a wolf as a companion obviously he will know me just as he knows himself. A simple signal will alert him or her that am in distress than it shall act accordingly.

Winnie: interesting topic. Wine was now being served and everyone was chilled enjoying the topic.

Slondiwe: What will you do if you ever found out you in love with a werewolf? There was silence as I closed my eyes thinking that through then I opened them and smiled.

Me: nothing.

Siyabonga: what you mean nothing?

Me: I mean of cause ill worry about what will me kids be like an all but ill do nothing. Love is accepting your partner with they flaws and all. So if its means I happen to fall for one than so be it. I watched everyone smiling and I knew

that somehow, somewhere along the lines I won them over
to my side.

Me: and you?

Siyabonga: and me what?

Me: what would you do if you were to find out you in love
with a werewolf?

Siyabonga: are you a werewolf Ma Thage? I looked at him
shocked and I blushed did he just say his in love with me.

I mumbled no

Siyabonga: Than we will never find out. I sat there trying to calm my heart. It was pounding so hard.

Did Siyabonga
just say his in love with me? Or am I over thinking this? I drank my juice as the conversation drifted to movies and stuff as my mind kept over thinking his statement...

Insert 9:

Kamo

After dinner i walked to his part of the house took a shower than changed into PJ. I walked to bed and got in

just after a while he went took a shower than came to bed

and I snuggled closer to him.

Siyabonga: they love you

Me: am a lovable woman

Siyabonga: that you are. We were silent. I was slowly

dozing off.

Siyabonga: kamo

Me: hmmm

Siyabonga: There are things that i wish to tell you. Share

with you but I don't know how you will react.

Or you could say that am afraid of how you will react. That woke me up and I turned to look at him. I was now sitting and looking at him.

Me: Ill like to think am an easy person to talk to.

Siyabonga: you are. I guess I fear rejection in a way

Me: you mean i might reject you?

Siyabonga: yes. I looked at him confused.

Me: how? Why? He took a deep breath than took me in his arms and snuggled me closer kissing the top of my head.

Siyabonga: I just wish it was easy for me to talk to you about this but its just so hard.

Me: try me. I felt his heart thud then he kept quiet and i felt myself let go and go to sleep.

Siyabonga

I woke up early for my Skype meeting and when done i made my way to the family house to find them already abuzz. I stood there watching my sisters preparing they kids for school and mom busy laying things on the table.

Its in this moment that I feel semi normal with them. Dad sneaked up from behind me holding a cup of coffee.

Dad: Morning Son

Me: morning. We walked to his office and he looked at me. I think sometimes he knows when I want to have a word with him without actually talking.

Dad: what on your mind

Me: I can't tell her. I tried last night and I couldn't tell her at all. We were both quiet.

Dad: she has to choose this life. You cannot choose it for her.

Me: I know. Another thing iv imprinted on her. My father looked at me shocked. They have always seen it as a myth that when the Alpha falls in love as confirmation that they heart don't belong to anyone they imprint and last night i did.

Dad: how is she?

Me: she not up yet I don't know.

Dad: Kodwa Siyabonga uyenzi?(what did you do?) he placed his cup on the table and ran to the lounge. It all happened so fast yesterday when she was sleeping. One minute we were dead asleep next moment i was in my fall form with her laying face down and my markings on her back. They looked tribal. Kind of cool but exactly like mines. Am not sure she will experience the same pain that iv have had when they started showing or she won't. I heard my sisters screaming and walking towards the elevator and i went and stood there.

Me: where do you think you are going?

Philile: I like that little girl very much am going to check on her. She might be in so much pain.

Me: if she is. She would be screaming and right now do you hear any screams? How will you feel waking up to a bunch of weirdo's staring at you? Now go back to the lounge and sit there and pretend like you know nothing.

They all looked at me as I didn't know how I just used my Alpha voice.

Mom: Am worried. This is moving to fast.

Me: we will be fine. Ill figure it out mom.

Mom: you haven't given her a chance to choose Siyabonga. Being the Alpha mate is a job own it own its comes with responsibility and who knows maybe powers

too.

Dad: we need to read more into what we have thought is myth because its looks like everything that happening is happening according to ancient history of the European.

Me: you all need to calm down. Yes I haven't had this figured out but I will.

Philile: Says a man that imprints... she kept quiet as I felt her walk in. I felt her presence, her heart beat. Her calmness. Her peace and her aura. This gave us a bond that I never knew could ever exist between two people. I looked at her she was more radiant than ever. Her busy eyebrows hovering just above her big round cute eyes. She walked in looking normal. Freshly bathed not a single sight of pain. She had on a long brown dress and flip flops. Her tiny waist in full view. Her curves driving me insane and just were her little boobs were she wore a chain. She was wearing stud earrings to and had her new braids tied in a loose ponytail.

Kamo: morning

Everyone: morning. She walked to my mom and helped

her place things from the cart to the table.

Everyone was trying so hard to not look at her but I could see that already she was Queen. They were hovering near her as if waiting for orders from her. It really was amazing to watch. When there were done placing the food on the table we all sat at our places and As usual i dished out

the small amount for her and did for myself and she ate
what I placed on her plate without any complaints.

Mom: How you feeling?

Kamo: Alive. Good and vibrant.

Philile: you must have had a good night sleep.

Kamo: I think so too. It was different.

Me: different how?

Kamo: I think all those superstitious talks made my mind
go crazy cause wow I had one hell of a dream.

Me: really?

Kamo

I looked around the table there were all looking at me

intrigued.

Siyabonga:tell us. I felt kind of embarrassed sharing this dream it felt so surreal yet in the back of my mind I knew it was just a dream but sharing it wont kill anyone.

Siyabonga

Kamo:Okay. I remember us talking and sleep suddenly consumed me than I was in this old house and there were this old people. Like tribal people. You know those people that have all sorts of markings on them and all sort of piercings. They walked me to the middle of the room and they were spraying things on me chanting words that I have no idea what they were saying. When there were done they started poking me with some sort of needles

and stuff than boom all of a sudden i was in the middle and there were all wolves. Than one huge white wolf. I swear iv never seen something so majestic and beautiful
and yet strong walked out from the middle and i swear all the other wolves bowed down to him. I say it a him cause
he sure walked like a king. His nozzle had a bit of black

fur on it. Anyways long story short i was eye to eye with that wolf when I started vibrating like i was shaking uncontrollably next thing It was all black. I woke up this morning and here I am. I looked around the table and saw
everyone was quiet as she described the ancient binding ceremony as it was. The whole room was silent. I guess everyone one was afraid to say anything since they have
just realised that she has been bonded to me.
Kamo: told you that all that mythical stuff got my brains
running wild.

Me: the ancient guy who was chanting things can you describe him? I heard myself saying. She closed her eyes
and describes my great grandfather just the way that he was.

Me: hmmm. Here i was thinking you slept like a log

Kamo: I did afterwards

Mom: am speechless.

Kamo: I know too early in the morning to be speaking about these things.

Kamo

I lifted my head up and saw Philile sending an eye signal

to Siyabonga and him nodding his head and I pretended like I didn't see anything. I ate while the topic moved on to lighter note than everyone spoke business as he delegated who is going where and how and what not Mr Musk: Care to join me for a tour? I smiled since he saw i was way out of element with what ever they were talking about.

Mr Musk: You know. When he told us about you at first things never made sense but now they do. I looked at him confused.

Me:Sir

Mr Musk: call me Elon. He smiled as we walked around the house him pointing out a few things here and there.

We took the elevator to the first floor where it was a transformation from the new to old. It liked I travelled in time.

Elon: I believe in a person knowing what they getting themselves into than them blindly going into things. And right now, i feel like I owe you this. He open the big doors and we walked into a cosy room with lots of books and there in the middle of the room was a portrait of the very same man that I dreamt of. I looked at the picture and

then looked at him too.

Elon: that my grandfather. He was an Alpha of his generational pack

Me: pack? As in wolf pack?

Elon: yes. I looked at the old man my mind wrapping
everything around what he just said then I looked at the small picture next to it and my mind froze. I walked closer
to it and pointed at the talk skinny man with glasses

standing next to an old car with a book in his hands and a pen while the man next to him looked like he was talking.

Me: this man

Elon: Your father? I spun looking at him with so much shock. Am not sure what happened but I felt dizzy and I felt strong arms hold me as it was light out for me....

Insert 10:

Kamo

I woke up to hush tones.

Elon: she had to know

Siyabonga: and you thought you had to tell her.

Elon: you are afraid of her. Am not. He was silent for a while.

Siyabonga: you had no right father.

Elon: you imprinted on the little girl without her knowledge. You brought her here knowing very well what are your intentions. She has no idea who she is and what she capable of because people like you and her father see it fit to lie to her or rather close of the truth to her. I did what I thought was right and am not going to apologise

for it.

Siyabonga: she is still healing. What if this sets her back

Elon:she looked perfectly fine to me and you forgetting the binding ceremony. You an Alpha you cannot. I repeat cannot bring your chosen one into your dome and expect your ancestors not to react that just craziness.

Siyabonga: how long has she been out

Elon: 30 minute

Siyabonga: what did you tell her

Elon: nothing

Siyabonga: dad

Elon: that little girl is one hell of a smart child that why her kind was killed in my days because out of fear and that the same reason her father ran away with her after she was born out of fear of what people will do to her. Don't you think that when she saw her father standing next to me her brains did one and two and came with forty hence she fainted.

Siyabonga: you have jokes. I heard Elon laugh in a chuckle.

Elon: well that why your mom fall in love with me. Aren't you not suppose to be in a meeting?

Siyabonga: how can I focus when one minute my wife...

Elon: wife?? He laughed again “ son, you trying to kill me with laughter. You loved this girl from the first day you laid eyes on her covered in blood and bullets eating away in her but you said nothing. She stayed 6 whole months with just you and still you said nothing. Little girl even flew across the world with you and still you said nothing and now that am man enough to do half the job that you suppose to have done long ago you have the audacity to tell me the shit you telling me now. Young man you may be the Alpha but am your father and advisor and right now you are one hell of a weak man. Get the hell out of here before we both say and do things that we might later regret” there was silence and then the door banging. I kept quiet for awhile than looked up the ceiling and turned found Elon sitting by the other couch looking directly at me.

Elon: You okay

Me: am not sure

Elon: any pains?

Me: nothing

Elon: then you good but lay there for awhile.

Iv ringed for

tea. I kept quiet.

Me: you knew my father?

Elon: yes half the books here are all his work.

He was a wonderful writer.

Me: I know, he made me fall in love with reading.

Elon: he thought all my kids how to read and write before you were born and his priorities changed and he left. I looked at him not sure how to feel with this information.

Me: I dont know how to feel but thank you

Elon: for?

Me: sharing with me everything you have shared and about to share.

Elon: an pleasure

Me: what am I?

Elon: i see we going right into it no stalling. A fairy. I laughed at him as I sat up. I looked at him and he wasn't laughing.

Me: for real? Am a fairy? Me? I dont even have wings. Am normal size. I have no powers. You got to be kidding me.

Elon: Your mother was/is a descendant of the strongest witches and fairies in the world and she was the rare kind that helped and protected our kind. Your family came into our lands when things were horrible and the world was after things that didn't make sense. So we made sure to strengthen our bond with them and they saved us a million times over and over but when you were born things changed. No one expected the strongest witch fairy to fall in love with a normal man. And they feared the worst for you so you mom disappeared till to date no one knows where she is and if she lived or died. Few years later your father told me his leaving to protect you and that was the last I saw of my friend nor heard of him. I looked at him digesting the information he was giving me.

Me: I kind of knew i was different but didn't know how and why i felt that way. Mom(the one i stayed with) ill treated me and it made me wonder if i was adopted cause i have no brothers nor sisters.

Elon: if I knew where you were I would have came for you but your father disappeared and changed his name and when I saw you. I knew you were Jasmine baby. You look exactly like her but taller but exactly. He got up took a portrait of what looked like me but shorter and little chubbier.

Me: this is my mom

Elon: yes. I had this taken when they had a little ceremony here celebrating being pregnant.

Me: So you are wolfs and am a witch fairy (still to be confirmed though) i could be a normal human with no powers or abilities.

Elon: true but you wit and smartness and candid says something else.

Me: I see.

I looked at the portrait and said nothing.

Me: So you are wolfs? He laughed and looked at me.

Elon: you can ask me that 10 times and the answer is yes

Me: so iv been in a house full of a pack of werewolves and am still intact.

Elon: yes

Me: hmmm. So i was right.

He laughed and looked at me with a twinkle in his eyes

Elon: You may look like your mother but you are a splitting character of your father. Thank you for making me laugh.

Me: Its nice being around people who welcomes my wit
and nerdy ways.

Elon: You free to come here anytime and learn anything about my kind and your kind. Your fathers journals are on that side(he pointed to a top shelf)

Me: my dream

Elon: binding ceremony

Me: to who?

Elon: I think you know who. I kept quiet for a while

Me: his a wolf?

He smiled looking at me.

Elon: a strong one. Head of the pack.

Me: I kind of figured.

Elon: how

Me: No offence but your son is weird. I thought it was his

nerdy ways and of course ocd but now i know.

He laughed so loud.

Elon: hear you brought him a pink shirt

Me: which he will wear

Elon: I can't wait for that day.

Me: Your wife?

Elon: normal

Me: Slondiwe?

Elon: normal

Me: so you all married normal and Siyabonga

had to bring in a fairy!

Elon: perks of being Alpha. We both laughed

and that when he walked in while we were laughing.

He looked at
us as if we are crazy...

Insert 11:

Siyabonga

This is not what i was expecting when I came downstairs

to find them sipping on tea and laughing like old friends. I guess it cool than.

Me: You two are cosy

Elon: you know where to find me little bird when you need

me. She nodded. Little bird? They have nick names now?

Me: little bird. She looked at me nit saying a word. I looked at her and I have never seen such an angry yet sexy person in the whole world.

Me: am sorry

Kamo: for what exactly?

Kamo

Am usually a timid person but him standing there made me so angry and i was shaking something which i dont usually do. And the courage to speak out like that.

Siyabonga: I know you trusted me and I should have done

the same but....

Me: no buts Siyabonga. You imprinted on me.
Brought me into a house full of wolfs. Brought me into your ancestral grounds knowing fully aware of what the implications were. You did all that so that when I do find out the truth
ill be in so deep that I won't be able to leave.
You did this. You calculated it. No matter how much you try to justify it or how you see it in your head but you let me no choice. Yes i have feelings for you. Yes i blindly leaned on you but I thought you were normal . A normal human being

with a normal life and now this?

Siyabonga

She threw her hands up in the air.

Kamo: This is huge. Not only are you opening me into your world now you opening me into a world that I know nothing about. Now you opening me to a world where I will have no idea if I am sane or not sane. Fighting battles that I had no idea about. I rather live in oblivion than to know what I know. Your great grandfather flipped bonded me to you without any of our consents what next?

What going to happen today when I sleep? What going to happen

tomorrow when I wake up? In 2 days that iv been here iv
been bonded and imprinted on. 2 days Siyabonga. 2 days.

I think the venting helped cause she cooled down and she kept quiet for awhile.

Me:Am sorry

Kamo: I asked you for what?

Me: not telling you that am a werewolf. She kept quiet

looking at me and for a moment there I thought she will cry but she looked at me.

Kamo: so now what next?

Me: am sorry? I looked at her confused.

Kamo: you imprinted on me. Your great grandfather bonded us. What next?

Me: am not sure I understand what you asking me Kamo

Kamo: than our conversation is over. When you do understand me than you know where to find me. She got up and walked to the far end of the shelves and took out a book and open it and started reading it. In all my life being me and and Alpha iv never been dismissed the way that I have been right now. I don't get it she looked okay.

She was fine when dad was here. It seemed like she was understanding or did i miss something. I went back to work leaving her there as i saw that she was absorbed in what she was read.

Mondli

I dont know what it was but i just couldn't shake the feeling that she has just vanished just like that. No morgue... no hospital nothing just gone? I called Lindiwe her cousin to see if she has popped up at her home and still nothing. She wasn't answering my calls if I didnt know better ill say Lindiwe is ignoring my calls. I planned my trip to Durban and pay her a visit and am taking four of my guys as a precaution.

Kamo

Reading about fairies was eye opening.

Knowing they strengths and weaknesses and they limits.

Knowing that its rare for a fairy to fall for any other supernatural being but its does happen and if it does the fairy job is to protect that being. I sat there for what seemed like hours going through my father journals and documents about his work and what he has seen and learnt, it was like opening a portal to another world. I saw one book that was pink written Jasmine and I knew it was about my mother. I wasn't ready to know anything about her as yet so I just placed it back in the shelf just as the doors open and Siyabonga walked in with a helper with food and I felt my tummy rumble. I walked to the corner table that they were setting on and sat across from him and when she was done she left.

Siyabonga: you been here for most part of the day. You even missed lunch.

Me: I notice now. He dished out for me a good portion and than we ate in silence enjoying each other company.

Siyabonga: found anything interesting.

Siyabonga

I watched as her eyes lit up and she went into the tale of telling me about fairies in the ancient histories and they wars and what they have overcome. She went on to tell me about different kinds of fairies.

Kamo: there is fire, light, water and nature fairies . Than there is strength and wisdom fairies. There is herbal and ancient fairies but I haven't quiet figured which part do i fall in.

Me: you will figure it out

Kamo: or maybe am no fairy

Me: that a possibilities too

Kamo: which is cool with me.

Me: am really not a romantic type but am pretty sure you aware of how i feel about you. Iv never hid that from you right? She looked at me confused and i could feel myself sweating. After the conversation we had earlier it got me thinking in regards to what next? What do i do? What steps do i need to take to show her that we are one and i wouldn't have it any other way.

Me: kamo

Kamo: hmm

She looked at me and I looked back at her.

Kamo

I watched as his eyes turned a light brownish topaz

colour. This is a first. I've never seen his eyes this colour. I looked right at them as if they were compelling me to look into

him. I watched as he moved from a sitting position to a kneeling one and my heart just raced up to my chest. Is he really doing what I think his doing? Is he really kneeling down?...

Insert 12:

Kamo

Siyabonga: am not a man of many words but ill really love to have you as my life partner. Not because of the circumstances that we are in but because of who you are and your ability of making me be nervous.

Like i never know what to expect with you and that keeps me on my toes. You make me want to be a better person and a better leader to my people. So ill really appreciate it if you give me this chance to make you one of the happiest humans on earth. I looked at him as tears went down my eyes yes it wasn't romantic having a serious straight face
talker telling you these things that what made it special. I wiped the small tear that was rolling down my cheeks.

Me: am scared. I know you not Mondli. I know you will never hit me in you instance eat me but am scared. He chuckled

Siyabonga: eat you

Me:wolves eat people

Siyabonga: out of all the things you could think of. Eat you?

Me:well this isn't a normal relationship. You are a wolf and wolf eat people when they angry, probed or confused.

He got up from his knees and looked at me than shake his head.

Siyabonga: seriously? Am pouring my hear out to you and you thinking about me eating you?

Me: I know you wouldn't i was just saying. He did a small laugh and turned to look at me as if iv grown a head or two.

Siyabonga: you haven't said if you will marry me or not
you know

Me: am scared though

Siyabonga: i promise not to turn you into dinner. I laughed
as he walked closer to me making it difficult for me to breathe with him so close.

Me: its not that

Siyabonga: what is it?

Me: me. He looked at me

Siyabonga: what about you

Me: what if am the problem? What if me not having powers is a problem or me having them will be a problem. Or just me. Iv never had a healthy relationship in all my life maybe am a loner. Maybe being loved ain't my thing. What if i took more of the witch side of my family than the fairy side.

Siyabonga: do you love me? I looked at him shly and noded.

Siyabonga: yet you have never seen the worse part of me.

You have never seen me as a wolf. Never seen me angry...

never seen me undecided yet you love me.

What will stop me from loving all sides of you? The sides we still to learn and what i know now?

Me: You too perfect

Siyabonga: am not. I have my imperfections and yet you have welcomed me with them. Now my answer.

Me: you dont even have a ring siya. He laughed.

Siyabonga: i feel like when you have the ring open like in movies you don't know if the girl is happy to see the ring or she happy that you proposing so i want my answer first than ill show you the ring

Me: oh my gosh this is the weirdest proposal ever i laughed and he laughed too looking right in my eyes and in that moment i knew that i rather have these weird moments with him. No one else but him

Me: yes

Siyabonga: yes what?

Me: Ill be you shepherd. He laughed so loud it was a first his voice vibrated through walls and a few books fell and i smiled at him. This has got to be why be why he chuckles

most of the time or have those semi laughs.
Siyabonga: my what? He was still smiling
looking at me
with glassy eyes. “ i think shepherd applies to sheep’s am
not a sheep”

Me: kuyafana nje(its the same)

Siyabonga: no its not

Me: than what do you call a person who herds wolfs? He laughed again and looked at me as if am crazy.

Winnie

I felt the vibration in the lounge and my heart filled with

joy. Everyone was back and we all looked at each other because we knew what were those.

Siyamkela: did he just laugh? My serious brother. The goofy guy.

Elon: i had the pleasure of spending time with that lovely soul and believe me laughter is all you do when you with her....

Siyabonga

Me: wolf dont have a person that herds them.

Kamo: in movies... I looked at her she really was a rare gem

Me: movies lie.

Kamo: well not all of them

Me: tell me one movie that was true.

Kamo: not true but we can relate.

Me: you still never told me to what exactly are you

agreeing too. She smiled that rare smile that makes my insides turn into jelly.

Kamo: Yes to being your friend, advisor, your nag(she laughed) do i even know how to nag. And mostly to being part of the pack even though i dont have a tail and four legs. This had got to be the best day if my life.
I took out
the ring box from my coat.

Me: iv been carrying this for a while now waiting for a moment. I knew about you a year ago. Iv searched for you
in more ways than i could ever explain to you until i gave up on you and i learnt my lesson that giving up on you
wasn't an option because i nearly lost you because of that. With this ring am pledging my life to you and for you to do as you please. What mine is yours and am yours
forever. I open the box and i saw her eyes twinkle.

Kamo

When he opened the box it was a black diamond ring it looked amazing and huge and the minute he placed it on my finger the diamond turned into pink and when I squealed in excitement it changed to yellow. My eyes were popping out of my eye socket.

Me: wow

Siyabonga: this ring belonged to a very powerful king who was afraid of his wife. So he asked a very powerful fairy (your mother) to cast an eternity spell on it) so that when the king wife wears it changes colour based on her mood or thoughts. So its changes colour. All i need to know is that I never want this ring to turn red in my presence because that will mean you angry at me. I can read minds, body language and people but

you. You are very difficult for me to read because we are one.

I looked at her and she was beaming.

Me: do you like it?

Kamo: I love it. It so beautiful but it so big.

Me: give it time. It is said it will adjust to the owner. And just than it did fitting her so perfectly and then the

unthinkable happen I watched as her eyes changed colours
just for a moment than go back to it usual shade.

Kamo: you staring.

Me: feeling any different?

Kamo: happy. I smiled and gave her one of the best kiss
ever and i felt my whole body vibrate from head to toe...

Sorry for the short insert... flue showing me flames am off
to lala land now

Insert 13:

Kamo

I woke up to find Siyabonga sleeping next to me and I rolled off the bed and took my night gown and walked down the stairs to the little room that Mr Musk showed me. I got there switched on the lights and went straight to my mother dairy. I just couldn't sleep knowing that somewhere this house there is something that belongs to my mother. I took it and moved to the love seat at the corner and took the mini blanket and wrapped myself with it than turned to the first page.
“ my dearest daughter

This isn't my journal but this is kind of a guide from me to you. By the time you read this I know I wouldn't have been in your life for long but do know that I love you. You are the source of my actual being. You are my peace but mostly you are my epitome of love. With this journal I hope to guide you to your fullest powers. To your fullest potential as a person, a friend, an advisor but mostly a wife to the strongest and most supernatural being in the world. Yes dear the future was shown to me the day I first laid eyes on you. I was shown what a wonderful human being you are and the path you are destined to walk.

This is your journal. Yours alone. The fact that you can open this book means that you do have powers. The fact that you can read these words means you have the power of sight.” I closed the book quickly and looked around.

What does she mean that I have the power of sight? This is just a normal book to me. I opened it again and read.

“ you are ISIPHO(the gift). You are the gift from God to every individual that you have crossed paths with but mostly you are the gift to the man that has chosen to give you the enchanted ring”

I closed the book again and sat there for sometime

looking at the ring. How did she know all of this? How did

she know about Siyabonga? What powers is she talking about. I sat there with my heart pounding so fast and I looked at the book that was now sparkling in my hands.

This is real. This is me now. This is going to be my life

now am I even ready for this new chapter?

Am I even

ready to embrace who I was made to be?

Who I was made to become. Just then Siyabonga walked in and he had his shirt off only wearing his PJ bottoms.

Siyabonga

I walked in the room to find her sitting by the love seat

looking scared, confused and troubled all at once. I

kneeled in front of her.

Me: you look confused. She was quiet for awhile blinking

tears away.

Kamo: open this book for me please. She whispered and I took the book and tried to open it but it wasn't opening. I got up tried again and the book never open.

Me: its not opening. She took the book in her hands and easily open the book. I looked at her confused as she handed me the book.

Kamo. What do you see? I looked at the empty page.

Me: nothing. She stood up and took the book from me and I watched as she looked at the page and words started appearing. Blurry letter that never made sense to me.

Me: its blurry letters.

Kamo: I can read them. She read the first few lines. Than she closed the book looked at me with glassy eyes.

Me: hey what wrong.

Kamo: I have a gift. I am the gift.

Me: am not understanding

Kamo: this is a book from my mother. She wrote it for me to read. You in the book too.Iv just read the first page but by the look of things looks like I have the gift of sight.

The fact that I can see what written and you can't just proved that every single word that Iv read is true. She wiped the tear on her cheek. I wasn't understanding what was bothering her or troubling her at this point but i picked her up and she laid her head on my chest as we walked to our wing of the house. I got us to the bed and placed her book on the side of the table and cuddled her. She snuggled closer to me not moving an inch but i knew she was up.

Me: you know the first day i found out i was different was my matric year. My dads friend who were white invited me for a camping trip bear in mind that a nerdy goofy boy like me going to a camp was something that was beyond my imagination but dad wanted this oil deal and whole week

he was begging me to say yes. So i finally said yes and we went. Somehow i found peace in the whole experience
and I was shocked to see how much I enjoyed every single moment of it. I loved the cool night air breeze and
the stories Jack told(my friend father), it was really fun.
Fun until he took us on a hunting trail. My animal instincts

kicked in and I was really good on the sport that we killed a few animals that night and he was really really happy. It was in the middle of the night when we were sleeping that we got attacked by a pack of real wolfs. Wild life animals that I felt my body temp go up and I felt every bone in my body crack as Jack was trying so hard to load a gun.

Bare in mind his in a bush alone with two scared kids and one looks like his having a heart attack while the other was trying to calm him down and the wolves are circling in. One moment I have Dan trying to calm me down and the next moment I was a full blown wolf in a tent with two humans. I tore out of that tent and gave my biggest howl scaring those wolves away and do you know what else happened?

Kamo: what happened

Me: in the moment of my transitioning Dan was to close to me that he got flown away hitting his back against a rock affecting his spinal cord making it impossible for him to ever walk again. My best friend stopped walking the day that I learnt of my powers and I forever carry that with me. No matter how many times Jack tells me we could have been dinner that night for the wild animals if it wasn't for my powers but I saw them as a curse. I kept quiet and

she shifted looking at me.

Kamo: if my mom was this great witch fairy and she saw my life. She saw the path that I was going to live why
couldn't she spin her wand or clap her hands removing Mondli in my life? Why did I have to go through so much

pain, uncertainty and torture when she could have done something about it? I saw the pain in her eyes
and I knew
the Mondli ordeal hurt her but I never knew that it was this bad.

Me: i cant answer on your mom behalf but all I can say is that at least you not alone. At least you don't have to go through the process alone. Am here for you every step of the way. At least now you know that you are unique and you will be cautious with yourself and to the people around you. I know you have never hurt a fly.

So what

going to change now? She looked at me for a second

trying to find some sort of an answer.

Kamo: am scared.

Me:its normal. But we going to be fine. We will figure this

out. Now close your eyes and get some rest.

Kamo

I closed my eyes as he held me me tight and in that moment it felt like everything is going to be fine am just panicking for nothing. I dozed off for a while than woke

up again took the journal and opened it.

“ the gift of sight. Is you being able to see beyond the naked eye. You are able to see things that people can't see or what others call as being observant. You see beyond this world and some say if concentrated you can see glimpses of the future like versions. Then there is the gift of the death. I pray you don't have this gift since it the most difficult gift ever my child.” I flipped through the pages scanning. Am not sure what I was looking for but I wanted something and I knew the answers were here. I flipped to a page and stopped.

“ tapping to your powers

I think by know iv told you all you need to know about your kind and how we are but now I think I teach you the first lesson and that is tapping into your powers.

With the guidelines of before, you should know by now what are your powers and what you are strong at and weak

it and now its all about channeling those powers into play.

Its really easy. Just close your eyes and be clear minded and let it be blank and think of exactly what you want to do and let the magic do its trick. The forces will work with your energy and direct it to what it is.

Remember the calmer your aura and energy is the cleaner and calmer your power and its force will be. Do not try tapping into your powers with a troubled mind because you will never be able to control it. Kamo listen carefully:

DO NOT TAP

TO POWERS WHEN YOU NOT EASE. Your soul needs you to be clear. Your emotions need you to be detached.

I closed the book smiling and got up. Am calmer now. I really am at ease and I really what to know what are my powers this sitting and waiting for it to pop up is to much. I went to the middle of the room and closed my eyes. I stood there for some time and nothing happened. I tried a couple of times and all I could hear was Siyabonga sleeping. I closed my eyes one last time. Me: I must have some power. I whispered and closed them shut and took a deep breath and tried to stay calm and opened my eyes and nothing.

“ this is ridiculous” i took out my gown and throw it on the couch in frustration and a big whop of fire started. I started panicking and tried putting it off but the more things i touched the more the fire spread until i realised
my hands were in fire. I screamed and I saw Siyabonga
jump out of bed with green stormy eyes and
he looked at the burning couch and my aflame body. I was panicking
as the fire was spreading all over my body. He ran poured water on his couch and its stopped than looked at me not knowing what to do and I was now an inferno burning a whole in the ceiling and floor.

Siyabonga: What were you doing?

Me: I wanted to know my powers

Siyabonga: And you start with fire? Switch it off.

Me: I don't know how too

Siyabonga: what did the book say. I remembered the warning and i panicked. Am going to die of over heating.

Yes am not feeling any pain right now but being naked and being a fireball wasn't my idea of powers. He threw a

bucket of water on me and that didn't help.

Me: am sorry.

He ran to open the balcony and told me to go stand there since it mostly metal and I cant burn anything. I went there as he was thinking than I closed my eyes trying my best to calm my nerves and myself and everything in me and I felt myself slowly getting back to normal and he looked at me with dark grey eyes and ai knew he was angry and I panicked next thing he was pinned against the wall. His eyes went darker.

Me: oh my god what am I doing am so sorry.

Siyabonga: Get me down from here he vibrated. And I felt the walls shake. Fear got to me and I ran in the house

took his gown and just as i was about to go down the steps his father and brother Syamkela were there. They saw the burn areas didn't comment as i pointed them to the balcony. I stayed inside as Winnie walked in and I rushed to her and she hugged me as I started crying and just as I started crying it rained like it was hell on earth.

Siyabonga: you are channelling your powers Kamo. Stop it right now before you end us. For the first time ever since

iv known him he was both pissed and angry.

Am not sure

if he was angry at me or the situation. I turned to look at him and he had his hands in a stop sign pushing me and it right than that I realised that he was fighting me pushing him to the wall. Instead of him flinging to the wall I did.

And I remembered my mother words: You are linked to the most supernatural being in the whole world. His powers becomes mines and my powers becomes his.

Only difference is that his more power since he can control it better.

Me: you hurting me

Siyabonga: stop channeling babe. His voice was pained between trying to stop me and knowing his hurting me.

Me: am trying but I can't. I raised my voice at him since it was raining too hard causing the clouds to give up the loudest thunder clap I've ever heard in my whole life.

Siyabonga: he ran to me so fast and smashed his lips on mine and I welcomed him. At first it was hard and dangerous but as I gave in on him I felt myself become lighter and I felt the power within slowly subsiding and he caught me in his arms as I became Jelly and next thing I felt a slight headache and it was light outs for me...

Insert 14:

Siyabonga

The minute she fainted i placed her in bed and covered
her. Mom and dad was looking at me. I know
i was worked up. Waking up to a fire is no child play than on top of that having being flown to a wall. She really was something else.

Syamkela: what were you two doing? You woke me up with the walls.

Me: I was sleeping. She found her mother journal. Lord knows what she read or knowing Kamo what she chose to read. She was full on fire before this bra. Full on. My brains couldn't process it until i felt it tingling in me.

Syamkela: how did you do that.

Dad: They are one. What she has he has and what he has she has Mom: she can change to a wolf too?

Me: I don't know mom but all I know no more experimenting indoors she nearly brought the whole house down.

Mom: she still a baby in this world of super natural powers

Me: I told her to sleep cause wasn't okay. Did she listen?

They all looked at me.

Syamkela: you about to have your hands full.

Me: I think it safe for us to move to the cabin in the woods in the north. Its not safe for you mom nor the kids.

Mom: She will be devastated

Me: Its for the best. Until she matters herself.

And dad

can you organise my uncles this weekend we going over

to her home were she grew to pay lobola and do the gifting. That should keep her busy.

Mom: she will have to go there on Friday. She going to be there with people who tormented her for a whole night!

Tell me how that will work?

Me: she is a nice person by nature am hoping that she doesn't do something that she will regret.

Mom: cant the lobola process wait?

Me: i was suppose to have done it before we were linked.

We going there this weekend tomorrow they receiving a letter. Dion leaving in the morning to go give them.

Dad: You know what best for the family. Ill get the elders.

But is she okay. I looked at her tiny body curled up in a ball and I knew she was now sleeping.

Me: She fine dad.

Lindiwe

Its was Sunday. I was still home for the weekend and it was nice and calm. We woke up went to church and came back. We cooked and ate and just then a black car pulled up on the gate and two guys jumped off. One looked familiar and my blood ran cold. I knew he was the guard from kamo room. The other scary one looked like he will crush my bones. I never said anything to anyone.

Mom: do you know them. You look scared. I moved from the window as they knocked. I never had the time to answer her back.

Mom: Come in. They walked in carrying a big black envelope. Where on earth does a person get a black envelope. They sat down and I did my best not to more.

Mamncane(kamo mother): How can we help you?

Guard: we are her sent by the Musk family to deliver this letter. He placed the envelope on the table.

Mom: Musk?

Guard: Yebo ma(yes) my mom nodded as my aunt took the heavy envelope and when she opened it she screamed.

She took out so much money. It was four stacks of 200rands in an elastic. Then a tiny note that she gave to me to read.

“ ekhaya kwa Thema and kwa Thage”(greetings)

“ sengibone intokazi laykhaya engingathanda ukuthi siye kude nayo(i have noticed my intended in this family)

Bengizocela ukuthi ningivumele sakhe ubudlelwani(i deeply ask for an opportunity to create an relationship with this family)

Imali le ihambisans necwadi eyokhucela lelo thuba lelo lokuthi nivume size ngale phela sonto esiya kulo(i would like to come this coming weekend)

Ngokukhulu ukuzithoba laykhaya bengicela ivumo yokhuthatha uKamo Thage.(the lady in mind is Kamo Thage)

Than it was signature and it was the end. My mom and my aunt looked at each other shocked. My mom came to her senses quickly.

Mom: Yes we shall welcome the family. The two guards
got up and left.

Kamo mom: Aybo imihlola ke le uMondli wonke lo?

UMondli yena yedwa? She asked shocked.

Mom: Wena cc mawubheka uMondli angafika months ago
ehlanya esifuna ukamo and uMondli abale incwadi

ehloniphile kanje? (do you seriously think it Mondli?)

I kept quiet like I wasn't even in the room I counted the money while they went back and forth.

Me: 50 thousand rand? I screamed that out stopping them from talking.

Mom: what did you just say?

Me: he sent 50 thousand rand?

Kamo mom: ukuthathaphi umtwana ka Sizwe lezingebengu zakhe?(where does Kamo find these gangsters?)

Mom: why do you always think the worse of the child maybe this one is not!

Me: His not. They both looked at me. I told them exactly what happened that day and they looked at me more shocked.

Aunty: and you kept quiet all these months?

Me: did you miss the part where he said he will kill me.

This guy is a tycoon. I bet you 100 rand now if you open the business channel ukhona. I read about him after that day. i took my phone typed in Musk and showed them a picture of him. They both looked at it and started commenting.

Me: if you know what good for you two ill
take this money
fix this place up and make sure that when Kamo comes whenever she comes you treat her like gold or else uzofa
mamncane (you will reap the day you trouble her)

Mom: That child has been nothing but a good girl. I don't know what wrong with you Phumelele. I saw my mom

was getting worked up

Aunty: Ill call the uncles.

Mom: ill do it. Wena take this money return it back in it
envelope and let start planning your sister lobola

negotiations. I picked up the money just as Mondli BMW
parked outside the gate.

Aunty: ungafunga ngathi she was made out of gold nangu

uMondli(one will swear she was made out of gold here

comes Mondli. I quickly hid the money as he walked in without knocking and just made himself at home with his guard standing by the door. Mondli was the rudest person

ever.

Mondli: aw kanti usaphila lindiwe ngithi ufile ngoba

ngiyafona kodwa dololo(you alive lindiwe, i thought you

died because am calling to no answer)

Lindiwe: I don't answer to you Mondli kade ngaso asimazi

ukamo(we have no idea where is Kamo)

Mondli: and the black Mercedes that was here?

Mom: awubabuzanga ngani ngoba ubabonile?(why didn't you ask them because you saw them?) he kept quiet for a

while.

Aunty: nabo bafuna Kamo njengoba umfuna( they looking for kamo too) the look of shock on his face was surreal.

Mondli: what is secret service looking for kamo for?

Mom: yini ke leyo secret service?(what is secret service)

mondli looked at us. I guess he got the answers he wanted cause he got up and left us sitting there.

Aunty: what is secret service?

Me: i shrugged my shoulders going to my bedroom to put the money away where Kamo mom wont find it. That woman can be evil and am going to do everything in my power to make sure that Kamo get what she wants. Iv been so horrible to her in the past. She has had a hard life and i could have been there for her but instead i added to her already harsh life. I have a chance now and am going to use it and I do not want that guy to kill me with his bare hands. At least Mondli is now out of our lives.

Mondli

The family really didn't know where kamo was. I saw it in their faces. They also had no idea that the two guys who were there were secret service. Heck they didn't even know that there is a thing called secret service. What the hell is kamo involved in? Did she snitch on me to get protection?

Are the big boss after me now? But what did she know?

All she did was cry herself to sleep daily to even notice the kind of a job that am involved in. I called my guys.

Me: check with Hawks if there are any special cases opened against me or any secret service special ops. And also check if there is anyone by Kamo Thage who has entered the protection service unit. I hanged up. I need to go home and plan my attack strategy and put all my affairs in order. I called one of my guys.

Me: put two guys at the Thage home. I need to know everything any anything that might be happening in this household and report if any secret service car or any car
stops by the gate and take photo's. I hang up.
Am going to find you kamo and you will pay for this no one. I mean
no one leaves Mondli Gasa...

Today iv been avoiding Siyabonga. I have seen the guys worked on the house and they were gone. The family went to service and I pretended to be sleeping to skip the church service. So iv been in the kitchen with the family chef almost all morning cooking the massive lunch that should be an apology enough for all the troubles. The helpers have been very helpful in setting up outside on the patio. The kids will be eating inside so we could have an adult conversation. When done I went upstairs took a bath and changed to my white and black dress and wore my sleepers. I did my braids in an untidy bun and went downstairs. Just as the family was sitting in the set up.

After some time Siyabonga walked in.

Winnie: This is amazing.

Me: Thank you ma. Everyone enjoyed the food and spoke of the service and had light conversation.

Siyabonga was quiet through out the lunch and I told myself am not going to start a conversation with him unless he talks to me.

Elon: You outdid yourself.

Me: I wanted to apologise about last night.

The room

went silent as they all looked at me.

Siyabonga kept quiet.

Me: I know I should be careful since this is a home with kids and actual humans. So I really needed to apologise I never thought i had any powers until you know i was in flames. I panicked and things started happening. So I know this isn't much but I wanted to say sorry.

Elon: Its okay dear. Everyone mumbled for me not to worry and we ate as Siyabonga was still silent. After he was done eating he cleared his throat and everyone looked at him.

Siyabonga: as you all know i asked Kamo to marry me.

The whole table erupted in chaos as everyone wanted to see my ring that was sparking yellow at that time.

Siyabonga: we moving out end of the week when we come back from her family to do lobola negotiations and to do the gifting. I looked at him shocked.

Me: home?

Siyabonga: yes. I felt tears sting the back of my eyes. Its not that I wasn't happy but home. Go see the very people

who never wished to see me have any good in my life. I quickly looked down because I wasn't about to cry in front of the family. I nibbled on something and I felt a strong hand on my thigh. I knew it was him giving me
reassurance but the panic was too much. I kept quiet as
the family went into a full blown planning.
When done I went up the room that looked brand new.
The guys really did a wonderful job. I got there and took a bath and

changed to my nightie than got in bed just as I heard

Siyabonga walk up the stairs.

Siyabonga

I found her curled up in a big ball on top of the bed. I knew she really wasn't feeling the whole going to PMB

thing.

Me: I hate it when you ignore me the whole day.

Kamo: I was busy

Me: avoiding me? She kept quiet. I got in bed with her

and scooped her onto me as i leaned at the head board.

Me: talk to me

Kamo: we moving out.

Me: we going to be newly weds. We can't be saying my family all the time plus i want you to be free too be able to learn your powers without fear and this environment is not for that. She looked at me. I saw she knows i was making sense.

Kamo: when you need me to go home?

Me: i sent them money to fix things up a bit so you can leave on Friday because the weekend will be the ceremony but if it was up to me you will leave sooner so that things are prepared the way that you want them to be.

Kamo: my step mom hates me.

Me: with money involve i doubt she will say or do anything to you but am sending you with your 4 guards.

Two for the morning and two for the night.

Kamo: I have no one to help me plan things my cousin
hate me.

Me: I like to differ. I saw lindiwe that day she looked like someone who acted like any child who was threaten would act.

Me: I can send you with two helpers that would help and

One chef. She nodded but I could still see the fear in her

eyes.

Me: I have the secret service team on speed dial for that town.

Kamo: Mondli probably already knows that.

Me: Not my team. I know his been asking around to no avail. I got you okay!

Kamo: Am going to miss you.

Me: so will I but will talk every day. Plus you have 2 more days with me.

Kamo: I think its best I leave tomorrow. Just so things can get going.

Me: Fine with me but we going out in the morning for lunch and of course some shopping for your essentials plus i need to pass the bank and collect your premium card that you will use to take care of things that side. Oh

and also to pick the car that you want ready for you that side. She looked at me with tears in her eyes
and she
wiped it away.

Kamo: Thank you. She got closer to me and gave me one
small peck of a kiss that drove me insane.

Me: I know am not expressive when it comes to emotions
but you are my world and a man protects his world.

Kamo: I love you. This was the first time in my whole life apart from family iv ever received those words and I felt

my heart beat out of my chest for a bit.

Me: i love you more. She smiled her cute one dimple sided smile.

Me: you know am a public figure right?

Kamo: yes

Me: At some point we will have the media talking about us and going in this journey that we are on you need to maintain a public image and mine is being private at all times. Now am not saying run past everything to me but you will see it get crazy at some point so you need to make sure that your circle is small. You don't reveal to much of yourself for them to exploit it however and the more mystery you are the better. At least what they write wont hurt you. She nodded.

Me: Cool. Next week will go more into detail about living in my world and introduce you to my assistance. She looked at me shocked.

Kamo: You have an assistance?

Me: Yep. You going to get one too once the world get a wind of you.

Kamo: but am a nobody!

Me: you never was a nobody and Never will be a nobody.

You are Kamo Musk. Wife if Siyabonga Jayden Musk. A friend of mine. A place where i call home but mostly my Gift. Wena uyisipho sami(you are my gift).

Kamo

I don't know if it was me being a cry baby but the way he said it touched at the corners of my heart. He really did mean those words. I closed my eyes as my heart was full with love and peace and i dozed off in his loving arms.

I woke up to fresh flowers on my side table and a note “ meet you at 10 in the basement “ i looked at the watch it was 9am. Ay i can sleep shame. I got up and took a shower. Today it was my first public appearance with him and am sure the tabloids will be there somewhere. I opted for my black skinny jeans. I wore black sneakers. I took a white shirt that covered my ass and wore it and tucked one side in. Wore one of the chains he got me. Got the stud earrings that he got me and took a black small bag to put my essentials and sunglasses. Did an untidy like messy bun and went downstairs. I found him learning to a red Matte benze. He was in full black from glasses to shoes. Black jeans , sneakers and gold shirt and watch.

Siyabonga: You look nice. I blushed and wore my glasses as he opened up the door for me. I got in and we drove around his home town showing me places than we finally sat down and ate. The secret service team was in they own car a little distance away. At the restaurant they set at surrounding tables around us so people are a little far from us. I was smiling at something he was saying when I saw a person in the bushes taking photos of us. I laughed at how ridiculous he looked.

Me: does this happen all the time. I pointed at him and he turned and looked at the guy who wasn't even ashamed of taking pictures.

Siyabonga: I just tune them off.

Me: ill try and do the same.

After eating he made shop until i was exhausted than we went to Volvo and picked a car that he liked for me. When done we walked out and I saw waffle house and I screamed in excitement dragging him there. We brought one and sat down and shared. He had some cream on the side i licked it off while he laughed in that sexy chuckle i notice he has been doing all day. I wanted the wall shaking laugh but i knew that in public he does it best to not show who he is. Siyabonga: you crazy Me: and you love me just the way i am. I smiled as he looked at me with so much fondness. I took out my phone and took a photo of him. He smiled.

Siyabonga: what that for?

Me: You always serious so I treasure the moments you smiling.

Siyabonga: You tend to make me do that a lot.

Me: can we have tonight. Ill go in the morning. He smiled and kissed my cheek something I thought he will never do in public.

Siyabonga: I thought you will never ask. We went past the pizza place got those and some wine and went home.

Siyabonga

In the morning in the front page of almost every magazine was the yesterday dinner date that I had with her. In some articles her ring was circled and people were speculating if we are engaged or not. I had all tv shows calling aboard and here. People were asking themselves who is the mystery woman. One picture in particular stuck to my heart it was her looking at me and I was holding two dresses for her to pick from and she was making funny faces as i was laughing at her. I looked happy.

I was happy. She brought on a side of me that i never knew i had. After that picture i saw one where she was teasing

me making rabbit ears behind my back while the cashier

laughed. I remember i was lecturing her. I turned on the tv

and entertainment now was on and boom

our pictures:

Anchor: just in yesterday our billionaire made his relationship known to the world with who we might say is

a girlfriend or fiancé judging by the big diamond on the girl finger.

Lindiwe

I was watching entertainment now news and there she was

I screamed for the family to come see. Seeing her perfectly fine and happy and loved was the best feeling ever i found myself smiling like a retard as the show took us through her day.

Mondli

I watched as I saw her. It was her but not really her. This girl looked perfectly fine. Her body was to die for. Her smiles and the way he looked at Siyabonga

Musk. Yes i knew him from far. We never mixed in the same circle but I knew him well and I knew that fighting him would be the biggest mistake of my life but could I just let him take my girl just like that???

Somewhere in South Africa “ luthando yehlisa hawu” (luthando lower the volume) she didnt and i walked to the lounge and i saw what she was watching and i froze in place as i watched my daughter. I saw how happy she was and how she was connected to herself and than i saw the ring and I was most certain that this is the one. The glass slipped from my hand and my husband and step daughter turned to look at me.

Luthando: uright ma?

My husband looked at me. He knew of who i am and my past and he knew i had a daughter. He came to me and moved me as i could speak or say anything.

Him: luthando cleaner la(sweep here) he moved me to the kitchen and gave me water.

Him: is that her? I nodded.

Him: she beautiful. Does that mean we have to go?

Me: no not yet. She will find me. Right now i just want to lie down. He helped me to our room and i laid down. God bless this man. He has been there through my worse till

now. My daughter is alive and well and he has found his intended. I couldn't have asked for anything else...
Its an early night zithandwa. Goodnight

I woke up took a shower got dressed in jeans and top. I went to my closet packed a few things that ill need from there than went and placed them by the entrance. I took everything that Siyabonga brought for me to take then I went down to the basement to the guards room and asked one of the guards to load my things in the car. When done I went to the house and found Elon in his office. I knocked and walked in.

Elon: You been circling in the news world everyone wanting to know about you.

Me: Iv noticed.

Elon: how does it feel?

Me: being suddenly famous or being engaged to the most powerful men in the world?

He laughed and looked at me smiling.

Elon: You doing great by the way. You not a demanding person and you accept a lot. You have accepted him as he is and not one day doubted him.

Me: He is my perfect version of things. What he sees as flaws I see as strengths.

Elon: Am glad. His really at peace and he laughs more. I found myself blushing cause am really addicted to his

laugh.

Me: I wanted to say my goodbyes.

Elon: well see you over the weekend.

Me: am nervous but hopefully all goes well.

Elon: its will. He hugged me and I left. I walked to the home office and found his door ajar. He was sitting there with a big crew of TV guys and he was seriously talking with a girl sitting across from him interviewing him. He looked at me and smiled the minute he saw me and excused himself. The girl nodded. Am guessing these are recorded shows not live. He walked to me and I smiled up at him.

Me: sorry to disturb. I was just saying am leaving. He smiled placing his head on my forehead.

Siyabonga: You call when you need me. You call when you need a person to vent too. You called when you confused, angry or sad. Simply put you call me whenever you need me.

Me: I will

Siyabonga: If we weren't in a room full of people ill be kissing you senseless. I turned to find them pretending like they not trying to listen but we were whispering or look at us.

Me: a peck on my forehead will be okay. He kissed me my forehead and I giggled as his other had moved to my ass grabbing it.

Siyabonga: can it be Sunday already.

Me: what happening then?

Siyabonga: as me that on Sunday. He kissed my cheek and moved a step back and i sorted him out and left.

Siyabonga

I watched her leave and I stood there for sometime until I didn't hear her footsteps than I walked back to the recording.

Kamo

After a few hours I was on the drive going home. I was nervous as all the horrible memories of me driving down

here through panic came. I lowered the window a bit and

closed my eyes for a second as the guard drove me there.

My guards and I will be sleeping at a bnb close by and Ill

just be going home during the day to sort things out and

go. I didn't want to impose even though that was my father house but the people in there never made it seem like home. The next thing I was by the gate.

Me: please

give me a moment to breathe.

Guard: Yes ma'am. I looked up to find that Dion was my driver. I might have been too occupied not to notice. Dion is Siyabonga personal guard iv never seen him leave his side. I took out my phone and called him. He picked up.

Me: you gave me your personal guard?

Siyabonga: How you feeling? He asked not bitting in.

Me: am about to go in.

Siyabonga: remember to breathe.

Me: I will

Siyabonga. And yes I gave you my personal guard that I trust with my life. He needed a change of scenery and you are it.

Me: his your guard.

Siyabonga: his yours now.

Me: his scary. I whispered which didn't help much since we in the car.

Siyabonga: the whole reason why his there.

No one going to mess with you now.

Me: am going in. I closed the phone looked at Dion.

Me: Are you ready? Why am I asking him vele cause his ready this is his job. I guess the nerves we doing it most.

I walked out of the car with Dion right behind me. For now its was just Dion and I.

Mondli

I watched as she got out of the car. Rumours have been saying there going to be a small ceremony happening at her place so i jumped at the first flight here.

To my surprise i saw that they were busy. They even painted the house and got a person to plaster the front. I watched as

the black range rover parked and for sometime no one came our until I saw her. I know that tiny body from anywhere. I saw her get out of the car and take some things from the back and then I saw her guard. I knew him. I knew him from the video tape that I got from the break in and slaughter that happened months ago. My body ran a chill. I really loved kamo but this fight is not mine to fight. I've been a gangster for this long because I know which fights to pick and this one is really not mine.

Me: start the car and let go. Tell the guys to never set
foot near kamo again nor follow her am done.
Kamo
I got in the yard and the kids ran to me hugging me and screaming. I smiled and they helped me with things. We walked in the house and it was a buzz with people walking around sorting the house out. Its looked better kanti how much did he give them. It's weird being here now knowing that my mom and aunt are not really my mom and aunt. They just people that my dad took in after marrying his wife who now is my step mother. Its kind of make sense all the things that Iv been through with this family that now i know that they not really my relatives. I placed the things by the kitchen and just than my step

mom walked in looking a mess from painting.
She really just smiled at me. Like am I dreaming or what.

Mom: you here. I nodded as she walked closer trying to hug me which was something that she has never done in her life. Everyone walked in from my cousins to they moms and the two aunties. They were too friendly and that confused me. But i told myself ill be civil.

Mom: you look nice

Me: thank you

Mom: Lindiwe brought the magazine with you and we are so happy for you. The ladies at church are so jealous that my baby girl is on the newspapers and tv and magazines.

I looked at her as if she grew a big head. This is why she was so friendly and loving all of a sudden.

Because of the mini fame I got. Is she serious? I kept calm and smiled.

We walked to the lounge with Dion close by. I guess he was doing his job to the point.

Aunty: Uright kodwa?(are you okay?) God bless Lindiwe mom. Why didnt my father marry her instead of this one.

Me: Yebo ma(yes). Uhm am not sure if we could talk.

Aunty: Lindiwe at the stores she shpuld be back soon.

Me: okay. Dion please make sure everything in the car is out. He nodded and left.

Mom: You swimming in money. Usuwu madam. She laughed. God why? Why did I have such a step mom? I kept quiet not answering her just than Lindiwe walked in

with two buckets of paints.

Lindiwe: Cuz. I smiled at her. She had a kind soul but jealousy always got the better of her.

Me: Hy. I gave her a mini wave. And everyone got a glimpse of my ring which was a pure white diamond today. They screaming and came to see making beautiful comments.

Mom: Its must have cost a fortune.

Me: I don't know.

Lindiwe: you look good

Me: Thank you. I see you doing great.

Lindiwe: yeah we got a letter and some money so we figured the in laws might want to come to a clean house you know.

Me: Thank you. I appreciate everyone effort.

Aunty: its a pleasure.

Mom: how did you meet him.

Me: he saved me after Mondli goons shoot me and left me to die after I came here asking for help and you chased me away. There was silence. No one spoke.

Everyone looked ashamed even my evil step mother.

Me: Which is okay. Iv made peace with it that when it comes to receiving any help about mondli am alone. They still kept quiet.

Me: which brings me to my next point. I really didn't expect you all to pitch in like you did and to the deepest

part of my heart i thank you all for your efforts. Secondly I know you not my mom. I know dad came here with me
when I was a small child and for you Aunty to love me like your own. Ngiyabonga kakhulu. Lastly I know dad left
this house for me under my name and in some twisted
way I think you treated me badly so that I don't chase you out. I looked at mom. I was saying the words but I didn't know where all of them came from. The courage and the audacity of me saying such. I was shocked but I never showed it. They were shocked that I knew all of this.

Me: am never going to chase you out of this house but i also want it to be my home. You guys are the only family i know and I should feel that. That all am asking if you can't offer me that. Tell me now so i pack and leave and never come back. They all looked at each other nodding.

Me: now that we got that out of the way I got you guys some things. I saw my step mom genuinely smile at me for the first time in my life. She came and hugged me. A real hug this time around.

Mom: Am sorry for everything. She had tears in her eyes.

Somehow it felt so real and I felt myself get lighter.

Me: I forgave you long time ago... did I just channel my powers of truth without noticing? I read it in my mother journal that with the power of sight I also get the power of truth. I see things and they automatically reveal themselves. Is that what just happen?....

Kamo

The days to the event were closer and I was getting nervous with each moment. We have been talking daily with Siyabonga and I missed him too much. I spent so much in fixing so many things that am even afraid to ask him how much I spent.

Jasmine

I woke up feeling lighter today and I took my bowl and looked in it and I saw the smiling face of my daughter. I knew that in order for her to have eternal happiness I have to not see her until the traditional ceremony was done. My husband was taking me to my cabin in the woods today for a while so I can try and hide her scent from all the evil powers that are after her. The days of me seeing her or even touching her are near and I just cannot wait.

Kamo

I woke up and it was Friday the day of the Musk family coming over for negotiations. I woke so early and we cleaned and around 7am they were here.

Siyabonga

The family has been in there for hours while I was outside and finally at around 10 my brother came to call me. I went in and we were served with the most delicious breakfast ever. I never saw kamo and I really wanted to see her. After eating we left to the hotel that we were staying in with my family. We brought gifts and that service was going to start around 2pm. I tried calling her and I couldn't find her so I left a message letting her know to call me when she is free.

Kamo

Iv been nervous. Yes the negotiations went well but my nerves been killing me. His family and my family and they friends has come for the gifting celebration. I was wearing the beautiful dress Winnie and the girls helped me wear then afterwards they left to the front. The colour of the day was white with a touch of blue and baby blue. I finished sorting myself out and the family came by. The gifting was a beautiful ceremony with my family so happy and so were the Musk family. My highlight was seeing Siyabonga wearing something other than black. He had on a white pant and a light blue and royal blue top and he looked like a snack. I saw a couple of the ladies eye him bit his light grey eyes only was looking at me. He was watching every move i made. Which felt good. Somewhere in the distance We parked the car and we watched the ceremony.

“ remind me why we here again”

Me: to take what ours

“ which is” i turned and looked at my big brother.

Me: for years the wolfs always take what ours. Witch
fairies are ours. They are made for people like you and me. Now i learn that this guy has his claws on one of the most pure fairy of our generation.
“ his an alpha”

Me: and am a vampire, what your point?
“ you about to start a war”

Me: one that am willing to take. Iv been tracking this fairy for years now. I have been having sleepless nights about
her. She is mine and mine alone no one else should have
her.

“ funny you say that yet here we are watching her get married to someone else while we sit in the backseat”

Me: I can't just walk up there and take her. I need to plan.

“ oh well than. Are you done cause am starving all these humans are making me thirsty”

Me: we can go. We started the car and left with Kamo in my mind. I finally learnt her name today.

Kamo. An chinese name that means Maybe... maybe she shall be mines...

Insert18:

Kamo

I sat in the room listening to all the woman that were advising me about marriage and things of the world. When they were done I walked out the room and found Lindiwe.

Me: Thank you. Thank you for everything.

Lindiwe: it was a pleasure. He really is whipped. We were standing outside watching the celebration. I smiled at her.

Lindiwe: you are happy. Am so happy to see you happy.

Me: Thank you cuz. We hugged and she wiped a tear. “

we okay.”

Lindiwe: I pray one day am as pure hearted as you are. I smiled at her just as Philile daughter Madden came.

Madden: uncle calls you wife now. I smiled at her.

Me: why do you say so?

Madden: he said go call my wife and pointed at you. We both laughed and I walked towards him while people were having fun. My world stopped the minute i was in his presence. The way my heart felt was beyond the world.

Siyabonga: you looked beautiful today, couldn't take my eyes off you.

Me: blue looks good on you too. He smiled looking at me with a twinkle in his eyes.

Siyabonga: where is your phone?

Me: Dion has it. I gave it to him when things were hectic.

Siyabonga: i tried calling earlier. I had an unsettling feeling but now it gone. I looked at him and saw he was worried.

Me: we can leave now.

Siyabonga: are you sure?

Me: yeah let me say my goodbyes and we will go. He nodded as i walked in the house. I said my goodbyes to the family and when done walked to the Musk family. We then left and there was a full blown conversations were loud. Siyabonga was quiet throughout the journey. We got to the hotel and we got in our room.

Me: you not okay

Siyabonga: I feel something weird.

Me: How?

Siyabonga: am not sure. But i feel heavy.

Me: being around people was to much.

Siyabonga: Maybe.

I watched as they left the family home. I knew which hotel were they at. I followed them keeping my distance since I knew that he was a sensor and he could sense if I was too close. I watched as the family had fun and walked in.

“ not for long. Ill will rewrite history and take back what was ours even if its the last thing I do in earth” i turned and drove off.

Siyabonga

I felt lighter as i was sleeping on my bed with my head on kamo legs. She was brushing my head and we were enjoying each other peace.

Me: I feel better

Kamo: you sure.

Me: yeah

Kamo: does this happen often?

Me: no it has never happened ever..she was quiet for some time.

Kamo: maybe its being around to many humans and being out of your comfort zone

Me: maybe. She kept quiet for a while brushing my head.

Kamo: thank you

Me: for?

Kamo: today. Making me the happiest that I can be right now. Thank you.

Me: its a pleasure. You make me happy to.

Thank you. I

moved closer to her and she was now under me.

Me: I want to make love to you but I have fears. She looked at me blushing.

Kamo: what are those fears.

Me: We going to be connected in body and mind moving forward and that scares me. I've never shared that level of intimacy with anyone in my life.

Kamo: am sure we can manage. We been dealing with this supernatural stuff okay all along am sure we going to be okay too.

Me: I've slept with four people before you and one died 3 days later and the other is in a wheelchair and two died, that when I later found out that wolf dies when they mate with the wrong person and since am not any kind of wolf those were my consequences.

Kamo: At least cheating will be the last thing on my worry
list. But on the serious note. Am your mate.

Am your chosen one. Dont have any fears.

Me: easier to he said then done.

Kamo: we not going to force things. One day at a time
love. How did I get so lucky. I moved my head a bit than kissed her slowly as I felt all my insides wake up, i felt

my head get lighter as if am floating in a fluffy cloud.

Kamo

My whole body began to feel like it was on cloud 9. His lips on mine made my heart beat faster and I knew that all along iv been doing this whole love making process wrong. His hands went under my top brushing my breast and I felt the tingling sensation going right through my body. He then hiked my panty and lowered it leaving me naked as he slowly moved me to be on top of him. I felt his hump on me as he removed my top and I was fully naked. I looked at him to find his eyes warm and dark brown.

Siyabonga: you okay? I nodded and lowered my head for him to kiss. He rolled me to the side with him on top of me and took his time kissing me all over my body leaving small fires everywhere. Am not sure when he got naked because I was at the to of losing my mind when I felt him in my entrance. I held on to him as he slowly tried pushing his way through. He tried twice and succeeded on the third when my walls welcomed him. I felt him freeze

for a second and our bodys connected and vibrated
making me climax on the spot with him holding on to me
and his nails digging into me causing me to scream in my head in pain. I knew if I screamed in real life he would stop and the pleasure will end. He then started moving slowly and lord Iv never felt every each of my body getting awake with every stroke. I felt myself nearing the edge

again and I knew that this time if his fingers dug into me
ill scream. But instead he went faster and harder growling
like a wolf and I felt my mind go in a frenzy as it was climax after climax. My breathing was too shallow. I felt like my insides were being pleased to death with every strong fast stroke. I felt him go rigid and I knew he was near. I quickly flipped him over. Am not sure where I got
the strength from but I had it and I slowly moved as he went deeper making me scream and him groan. Then I went as fast as I could feeling the weave from my toes to my body. I vibrated just as he pushed me off him and pinning me against the wall. With my back arched he went in and I screamed as he went in and out with so much strength and force that I felt each stroke wake up every part of me. Each stroke he me banged into the wall. The adrenaline and the rush was to much for me and I felt myself squirt. He turned me around lifting one leg up as his fingers worked it magic while I was weeping as all my juices left me. He was biting my neck. Leaving small bites

marks awakening my nerves on another level.
When I
finally finished squirting he slowly inserted himself and I felt full as he slowly moved us to the floor with me on top. He held on to my hips so tight i felt like my bones
will break as he helped me move. Dear lord iv never in my life had this much of through sex. The roughness and smoothness of it all was to much. The way things got tense fast and quick always brought me to a climax. He was now looking at me as I moved and I was staring at him as I felt him grow bigger and taller. I felt him touch a

please that i knew thought I ever had and I felt myself
relief stroke after stroke as my body went weaker and weaker as he went deeper and deeper. At this point i was screaming like a mad woman. Our eyes still fix on each other. He was groaning like an animal. Am not sure how
and when but i was flipped over with my ass so high and
him pounding on me releasing his juices mixed with my

squirting and come and I thought to myself this will be it
since we both released at the same time but i was back
on the bed and he was slowly loving me.
Making my legs
curl and shake in the air and I felt a bigger wave come
and I knew that this is about to blow my mind he intensified his strokes and I felt the bed give up as it
crashed while he went faster making me scream till I had no voice and The last thing I heard before I went into deep sleep was a howl accompanied by a loud groan....Goodmorning

Insert 19:

Siyabonga

I was up looking at the mess that we have made. I don't know what got over me. I just couldn't control myself as I ravished her. She hardly slept as I kept on waking her throughout the night. I was up looking at the whole in the wall and I remember punching it as I came.

Even now my little guy was up. I knew she was exhausted it was 11am in the morning. I slowly left her leg and went in. She arched her back giving me more room to go in and I found myself groaning. One thing I noticed about her no matter how tired she was she allowed me to have my fun and indulged me. I moved slowly allowing her body to adjust to mine and she arched her back some more and I went in deeper and I felt myself lose my head as I ravished her to my heart content and when I came I saw her clinching the sheets and I knew she climaxed again. I took her in my arms and placed her there as she slowly

closed her eyes dozing off to sleep. I dozed off too.

Kamo

I woke up and my body felt like it was ran
over by a truck. I tried to move a limb but I just couldn't. Everything pained and I felt the tears at the back of my eyes sting
me. I kept quiet for a while then I felt his strong arms
scoop me up and walk and I looked around
the room
looked like it had been hit by a tornado. He got in the

bathtub with me and the water walked it wonders on my body. I felt it relax all the muscles that needed relaxing. I caught a glimpse of his face and it was hard and his eyes were grey. I knew he was pissed at himself on letting go
like that. I kept quiet and placed my head on his chest as he worked his hands on my body working out the tangled parts. After the bathing he picked me up again and placed
me at the love couch then dried me he wasn't looking at me and I stopped him with both my hands at his face. I looked right in to his eyes for a while then kissed him like my life depended on me. He kissed me back and I don't know where I got the energy from and how did I even begin to move my sore stiff body but I did and I was now

on top of him slowly riding him while looking right into his soul. I need him to be okay with our situation and this is the only way I knew how too. Once we both came he rolled me to the side as we curled up in a small ball.

Siyabonga: I love you. I felt my heart fill up to its rim.

Me: I love you more

Siyabonga: You look like you just been under a train.

Me: that what happens when you have been throughly ravished.

Siyabonga: Food lady should be here and I called the manager to explain the issue in this room. I laughed lightly since my ribs felt heavy as if it has been punched.

Me: how did you explain this? I looked at the room that looked like a tornado came through the window. The furniture was broken and the bed was on the floor the head board broken in half.

Siyabonga: i hate the bruises on you though. I looked at

my thigh and waist that was turning dark and he picked

me up and I stood in front of the mirror and

lord I looked

a mess. I turned my neck and i had mini bite marks

there.

Me: you don't worry yourself about my bruises. There was a knock he placed me on the couch and covered me with a sheet and he took a gown and wore it accepted the food

then came back. He helped me eat. I ate and slept and woke up again to him waking me to eat. I ate and slept.

Siyabonga

I went downstairs after feeding her since my family was leaving today.

Dad: Is she alive? Everyone was looking at me holding they breath.

Me: she is alive.

Philile: can we go see here

Me: Philile how would you feel if your in laws comes and check up on you just because you just had sex with they son who happen to be a wolf and who happened to forget about how horrible the ordeal is if he loses his composure?

Winnie: we just worried

Me: am so not about to talk about my sex life with my family. She fine. Just resting. We will see you in a weeks time when she has healed.

Syamkela: a week? Kanti what do you do?

Me: we going to our cabin house so we will visit in a week so can you all relax. I just came down here to tell you guys to be careful. I sensed a vampire yesterday. I watched as they eyes twinkled.

Me: calm down puppies. I know it been a while since we hunted one but this one was smart enough to distance themselves a bit.

Sbonga: can you still feel him.

Me: no cant feel him or her or smell him.

Dad: You too be careful. You know every supernatural being thinks that a witch fairy is theres to have.

Me: I know. She truly is my mate. Iv never ever felt like this in my life.

Mom: am so happy you finally found her.

Me: me too mom. Now i just hope i dont mess it up.

Dad: you won't. Cause if you do ill kill you myself.

Me: Ill see you guys in a week time.

Philile: did you even plan a honeymoon?

Me: what that? I asked with a serious face and all the ladies almost killing me and I laughed.

Me: see you guys in a weeks time. I walked up the stairs and went to the room and it was empty. I looked everywhere and she was nowhere to be found. I knew that she wasn't in a position to walk cause she was still recovering and I was now panicking looking everywhere and running down the steps screaming for her name like a mad man....

Insert 20:

Kamo

I woke up to an uneasy feeling and i called out for Siya

but he wasn't there and i tried to move but my body wasn't corresponding I closed my eyes wishing I could just disappear. And I looked at myself as I slowly disappeared. Did I just do that. I watched as two tall guys walked in. One short and one tall. They literally looked everywhere in our room then stood right in front of me. I knew they couldn't see me so long I told myself that am invisible.

Tall guy: The boss said she will be here

Short guy: uyabona nje ukuthi akhekho(you can see that she is not here)

Tall guy: but I saw him going downstairs alone. This was suppose to be a clean grab.

Short guy: well she isn't here, now what?

Tall guy: let go before the angry looking guy comes back.

You have heard rumours about him and his guard. I only took this job because i wanted the money not because i have a death wish. They left the room talking and murmuring. I sat there shocked. I was supposed to be kidnapped today. Kidnapped by who? Why? I sat there and Siyabonga came back after awhile and was frantic before I even said anything. Siyabonga My heart was beating so fast as I asked for video footage. The guards were sweeping the building.

Philile: uhm

Me: if you tell me to calm down one more time Philile i swear am going to kill you. She turned the phone and I read the message. “ dont freak out but am in the room and am stuck “ i saw that the number was mine and I ran up the room with the family following me.

Me: babe?

There was silence than I watched as the remote got lifted from the coffee table to the couch.

Me: You invisible? Kamo? I felt the air leave my lungs so fast almost making me faint. I saw my phone in the air and I knew she was texting as my family laughed they heads off.

Dad: this marriage is going to be fun. Enjoy son. He patted my back as everyone left.

Philile: am going to need my phone.

Me: ask Dion to bring Kamo phone. I stood there looking at the wall.

Me: am not even going to ask what happened. I saw a pen moving on a paper.

“ two guys came here “

Me: for what?

“Kidnapping me!” I looked at the empty room.

Me: channel yourself to be visible, don't think to much just channel it and breath. I watched as she slowly reappear and she ran to hug me so tight. I held her just as Dion walked in with the phone and placed it by the table and left. After some time she appeared and throw her hands
on me.

I hugged her thinking about how i might have lose her.

Kamo: someone after me. Someone wanted to take me
away from you.

Me: am not letting that happen

Kamo: you not with me all the time. Anything can happen.

Me: look at me. She looked at me and all I saw was fear.

Me: have I ever let anyone get to you?

Kamo: no

Me: am not going to start now. So trust me okay. She nodded as I rocked her to sleep....

Just a litte something before you guys kill me its been a busy week with work and my mom birthday soon....promise to post soon as I can

Insert 21:

Somewhere in a hotel

“What do you mean you didn’t see her”

I looked at the two morons who came back empty

handed.

Me: just go. One of the guys hesitated.

Me: what?

Him: do you know who wife is that? I looked at him

because I did my research about Siyabonga.

And I think I know more about the guy than any other human.

Him: do you know about the punisher?

Me: what about him?

Him; some say it him but there was never really any proof. I kept quiet as i signalled for him to leave. Do i really want the punisher to come after me? But Kamo is mine and I cant be close with him smelling me. I moved to the window in frustration not sure what next.

Kamo

The past two days have been heaven on earth. I walked out the balcony of the new place we were at in cape town.

My phone rang and i saw it was Siyabonga.

He had a meeting to attend and he was attending it.

Me: Hi

Siyabonga: you sound down

Me: am not. Am thinking of going to the mall.

Siyabonga: Dion will take you, am going to be back around 5.

Me: I should be back by than.

Siyabonga: Ill bring dinner

Me: okay

Siyabonga: see you later

Me: okay

Siyabonga: You sure you okay?

Me: yeah am sure. Don't stress yourself.

Siyabonga: okay. He hang up and I sat down.

Was I

down? I sat there for some time than I took a shower wore my jeans and blue top and left the house. I went to the park sat there for hours.

Siyabonga

I was feeling un easy and I called Dion.

Me: where you?

Dion: we at a park.

Me: doing what?

Dion: nothing really. She just sitting there.

This worried

me.

Me: is she okay?

Dion: Sir, she usually chatty but today she was silence in our drive. Never said a word its like she here but not here.

Me: am going home now, see you guys in awhile.

I hang up and looked at the ceiling. This is a long day.

What got into her. I packed up my things and prepared to go.

Kamo

I got up and walked to the part where people usually take deep walks and of course my guards followed. I walked a bit just admiring the birds looking at trees when I turned to see one lady who has been following me for some time now. I stopped and she walked passed. Maybe I am just being paranoid. Then I looked up and I saw a guy in the corner who looked very odd. Something pulled me towards him.

Am not sure if it was the awkward way he was standing by the tree or the grim expression he had on his face. I smiled at him and he looked surprised so I turned to Dion.

Me: stay here please and within eye distance.

Dion: you move, i move.

Me: you not the most friendly looking person and someone needs me.

Dion: you move, I move. He said more sternly and I turned in frustration put my hands up to the awkward looking fellow and walked towards him as I got closer

I saw his eyes were bloodshot red. He looked around his teen years with his clothes torn and the look of fear in his eyes. His hands were dirty and his feet wearing the most awkward shoes ever, shoes I would have long thrown away.

Me: am not going to hurt you. I whispered and he went deeper in the woods more scared. I looked at my two guards who had their guns drawn out. Dion looked like he has seen a ghost. I turned back to the terrified boy.

Me: what your name?

Him: Avery

Me: am kamo. He nodded and I saw the two dors on his side of the neck like they were bite marks.

“ are you hurt?”

Him: am thirsty

Me: we can go get something to eat. He looked up and looked at me and moved his head no.

Me: promise to be here when i come back?

He nodded. I turned and Dion touched me.

Dion: We need to leave. I watched as his character was different and i swear i saw a little fear in his eyes. Am not sure what was going on but he needs to get a grip.

Me: You look like you seeing a ghost but that tiny boy needs my help and am going to help him. You can either walk with me to the mall or not but if i come back and I find a bullet in that boys head. Am going to kill you. He looked at me so shocked and I walked to mall getting Avery clothes, food and things that teenagers need...

Insert 22:

I watched from the distance as she walks back with plastics and I took out pictures of her kindness and tentativeness.

Kamo

Me: let start with shoes. I took out socks and gave him and shoes he thanked me and wore them and i saw Dion had a gun out but this time it was a silver gun and was weirdly shape and looking. I took out water and some snacks and gave him and he ate like he has never eaten in his life and drank the water. When he was done he looked at me with so much gratitude.

Me: you okay?

Avery: am still thirsty. He whispered. I gave him my juice and he drank it in one gulp.

Me: now. He looked down. I moved closer to him and my arm got caught in the thorn of the rose tree and i cut myself and I saw his eyes go fire red and I knew he was a vampire. He stood there gripping the tree with all his might and I really don't know what got into me but I saw myself extending my bloody hand to him.

Me: drink up. He looked at me confused but his eyes excited

Dion: Ma'am

Me: it okay Dion. I looked at Avery.

Me: drink. He grabbed my hand and I felt my blood slowly leaving my body. I kept quiet as he drank.

Siyabonga

I felt my whole body vibrate and tinkling sensation and I knew something was wrong. I tried calling

Dion to no avail. I looked at the time breathing in and out. I grabbed

the car keys and left to the mall.

Somewhere in the distance

I watched as she feed the little boy. She truly was the gifted soul. I packed up my things leaving. I need to go

find Jasmine and tell her , her daughter is alive. My niece is alive and I have found her and left her with a guardian. I know she not going to be happy with my choice but I had to do something after that dream that I had.

Kamo

He stopped and looked up and his eyes were brown. I smiled as I felt faint and he looked worried.

Me: Am okay. But i could feel myself getting dizzy and in seconds I felt myself slowly go to the ground with tiny

hands holding me.

Siyabonga

I got there found Dion point his special gun at a little boy who was holding my pale wife and the minute i saw the boy i knew he was a vampire but he was different. I slowly walked closer and the boy hissed. Dion: she been out 20 minute and when we trying to get closer he hiss. I looked at the boy and raised my hands to show him that am not going to hurt him. He looked at me. Me: That my wife you know, if she dies in your hand am going to kill you with my bare hands. Did you feed on her? He looked at me confused.

Me: did my wife give you her blood? He nodded.

Me: show me your neck. He moved and I saw the two dots. The myth was really happening. Yes I didn't expect a little boy and a vampire as her guardian but that what we getting I guess.

Me: Now am not going to hurt you but I need her alive.

Am coming closer . I moved closer to them and he allowed me to pick her up. We went to my car with the little boy a few feet away from her. I placed her at the back and little guy was holding her head so carefully.

Me: get the security tapes of the time you were here.

There was a witch her and i need to find her.

Dion nodded.

Dion: is she going to be okay?

Me: yes, my wife is special. He looked at me.

Dion: is she a wolf too?

Me: no

Dion: how did she know he was a vampire?

Me: I'll explain later now find me that witch.

He nodded

and left and I drove us to the hotel and called a doctor friend of mine to bring me blood and injected it to her and waited with the little boy who didn't want to leave her side.

Me: she going to be fine. I looked at the scruffy boy and studied her very well. From her posture to the way he was looking at her and the delicacy she was holding her with.

Me: how many times do people mistake you for a boy?

She looked at me so shocked confirming my assessment.

Her: all the time. How did you know.

Me: I have an eye for certain things. What your name.

Her: Avery

Me: Siyabonga

Avery: Nice to meet you.

Me: How long have you known about her? He looked at me shocked again.

Avery: The day the old woman came to my town took me from an abusive alcoholic father and gave me a home and a reason to live.

I looked at her.

Me: So you aware of all that happening to you?

Avery: reading it and being told about it is different from experience.

Avery

2 years ago an old woman knocked at my door just after my father have raped me once more in his drunk powerful state. She offered me a chance. Changed my appearance

to a boy and gave me a purpose. She gave me books to read about supernaturals beings and gave me hard training. When done she sat me down and told me about a fairy witch. A fairy witch that will be the centre of my world. A fairy witch that I was destined to be its guardian
and that one day when the time is right ill meet her. I trained so hard making sure i pass every test she gives me and making sure i ace everything. She then told me I had to be a supernatural. The only way she can changed me is with a vampire venom she had in a big syringe.

Being a drop out from school this was the only thing that got me going so I agreed. Two days ago she woke up from a dream screaming telling me it time. She injected me helped me through the first twelve hours so I wouldn't hurt kamo and flew us to cape town. Dressed me like a homeless boy and now here I am in a room with the world super supernatural and am scared yet Am cool. I know my destiny and if he does too he not going to harm me right?...

Insert 23:

Avery

I watched as he got up. His bite can kill me.

His strength

can crush me into a ball. Oh not to forget his powers.

Siyabonga: how come you don't upset my peace?

Me: am your wife guardian. Am not suppose to bring havoc into her life.

Siyabonga: you a vampire.

Me: one that was created from a syringe

Siyabonga : still

Me: one that had a witch perform all kind of rituals. He looked at me for some time.

Siyabonga: how old are you?

Me: 18

Siyabonga: finished school?

Me: no

Siyabonga: any family?

Me: none that will stop me from serving my purpose

Siyabonga: what that purpose

Me: protecting her and guarding her in this journey. Being her advisor.

Siyabonga: What am I than?

Me:her husband.

Siyabonga: you mentioned things that am to do.

Me: look you an Alpha you have your advisor.

She is a fairy witch. A rare creature in this universe.

Am a vampire.

She needs all the help she can get to fight off what still to come. Am not here to take your job but am here to make life easier for the both of you.

He was quiet and looked at me for some time and I swear

i was sweating.

Siyabonga: no having humans for breakfast, lunch or dinner.

Me: only the ones who hurt her are not off the menu. But otherwise am on a diet.

Siyabonga: good, any powers?

Me: strength that all nothing fancy like you two oh and am smart.

Siyabonga: iv figured that out hence why she chose you.

Kamo not a fan of vampires.

Me: all books says witch fairies dont like us. But ill like to think that the olden days. She a new generation and the only one of her kind. So we shall see.

Siyabonga: we shall. Now go bath and make yourself presentable. I booked the room next to the guards on the lower floor. I've asked management to send proper female clothes for you not a dress though. And ordered you food.

As much as you her guardian but you report to me. If you two are about to embark on anything dangerous you call me or Dion.

Me: yes sir. Dion?

Siyabonga: what about him.

Me: his a human. Why not change him?

Siyabonga: what I am is my curse. I don't infringe it on another soul.

Me: but his loyal and he knows of us I saw the gun with the wooden bullets.

Siyabonga: he knows and he is protected by a spell but he is still human.

Me: cool. I got up after checking her steady pulse and walked out of the room. That was a lot to take in. When Jaya said his scary she didn't do him justice that man is terrifying.

Kamo

I woke up with a headache and looked around to find Siyabonga sitting there by the couch looking at me and his eyes were light grey. Okay he doesn't know about the park ordeal than. He was calm. I sat up and looked at him trying to find words.

Me: You back.

Siyabonga: I am. How was your day?

Now how do i answer that. I looked at him for a second as he looked at me.

Me:i don't want us to have a marriage full of lies so am going to tell you what happened but promise not to be angry.

Siyabonga: okay

Me: you were right today felt weird. I didn't know until you pointed it out to me.

Siyabonga: okay

Me: so i went to the mall but not really go in the mall.

There was a lady there staring at me weird than I walked and meet a special boy. Oh my gosh the boy. I got up quickly. I have to go back.

Me: you have to take me to the park. I whispered. How on earth did I get here. I closed my eyes breathing

remembering what happened and quickly

had my eyes

open.

Me: The boy. You know? I looked at him and he looked

back with his eyes changing and I knew he was angry.

Siyabonga: you let a new born vampire feed on you?

Should I faithfully answer that or should I lie.

Let go with the truth.

Me: yes

Siyabonga: Why?

Me: i really don't know. He was there and he was hungry and scared and lonely...

Siyabonga: and you were like oh here my blood.

Me: its not like that.

Siyabonga: how was it like then?

Me: he needed me.

Siyabonga: is that all you going to say? That he needed you? What about me? What about Dion and Melo? They humans and you put them in the line of being butchered by a vampire. A hungry vampire. Did you think about them cause clearly you were not thinking about yourself or else you wouldn't have done what you did today! He turned and stopped talking. I stood where i was cause I didn't know what to say. He was right. I was stupid but the kid needed me.
Me: am sorry

Siyabonga: you apologising to the wrong person.

Me: am sorry, it won't happen again. He laughed a bitter laugh.

Siyabonga: I can't change who and what you are but you need to be careful. Not everything is as black and white. I nodded.

Siyabonga: your vampire is downstairs in the room next to the guards. My heart took a beat.

Me: you brought him back? I whispered and he turned looking at me.

Siyabonga: not everything is black and white. You need to be careful. Today could have gone horribly wrong.

Sometimes just stop and think for a second okay. I saw his eyes were back to being light.

Me: am really sorry.

Siyabonga: Its okay

Me: can I go see him?

Siyabonga: actually its a her. I looked at him shocked.

Me: his a she? He chuckled and I smiled.

Siyabonga: Yes his a she!!.....

Ps: making up for all the other days

Insert 24:

Kamo

We walked to her room but i stopped at the guards room and knocked Dion opened.

Dion: ma'am

Me: please call me kamo. I came to apologise

Dion: for?

Me: today. I was reckless and put you and you man in danger. Am sorry. I know it your job to protect me but its not my job to blindly put you at risk. Am sorry.

Dion: apology accepted.

Me: good. See you tomorrow.

Dion: goodnight. He closed the door and I knocked on the door next door and a young lady open up. I say a lady because she was wearing a jumpsuit and actually looked feminine.

Me: you a woman? That what came off my mouth and looked at her and she moved letting us in.

Avery: Yes am a woman. I kept quiet and looked at her.

She was skinny like me but a lot muscular than me. More tomboyish. She shaved her hair and had huge eyes. She really looked like a boy at first glance and baggy clothes.

But now she looked like one hell of a woman.

Me: you okay? She looked at me and her eyes welled up in tears.

Avery: your kindness is amazing. Jaya said you are to pure but now that am experiencing it. I made you faint and you asking me if am okay?

Me: i guess i am

Avery: am okay and you?

Me: am okay. We were silent.

Siyabonga: you usually have a lot of questions.

Me: am thinking.

Avery

I watched the couple. Love and bond was there and being in there presence was amazing.

Kamo: you ate

Me: yes thank you.

Kamo: i mean a proper meal. I knew what she meant.

Me: am on a diet. Your husband was kind enough to order my food the way I like it.

Kamo: First time am in contact with a vampire. I don't know what to say.

Siyabonga: well Avery will be here in the morning.

Kamo: will you have breakfast with us? I nodded as i got emotional again. This woman will be the end of my toughness.

Kamo: cool than. Sleep tight. If you have any issues the guards are next door or fall number 7. I nodded. She walked closer to me.

Kamo: is it safe to hug you? I nodded with tears

threatening to fall. She smiled and hugs me.

Kamo: you safe now. She mumbled and I looked at her husband who looked at me with kind eyes.

Am I imagining

it? Did he look at me with kind eyes or i want him to be like his wife or is he calmer when she is around. She moved from me and walked to her man.

Kamo: goodnight

Jasmine

I opened the door and found my sister there.

Its been

years. She is a witch and a fairy so we sometimes don't click.

Me: how did you find me?

Jaya: same way i found your daughter. She walked past

me. One thing about Jaya she always did as she pleases.

Me: you found my daughter?

Jaya: yes. She beautiful like a model. Loving, caring and so kind. Not one evil born in her body. Very pure.

Me: Just like her father

Jaya: I agree with you on that.

Me: i take it you got her a guardian?

Jaya: Yes i did.

I watched as she looked guilty.

Me: what did you do now?....

Insert 25:

Kamo

I woke up and went to took a shower. Today

my mood

was in good spirits so I think it was going to be a good

day. Its marks a week since I have been married and good lord its been a ride. Today we leaving

Cape town.

Now how do i convince my husband to allow me to take

Avery home with us? The girl have been close to Dion. Iv never seen Dion talk so much in his life but she manages to get him talking. I stood there by the shower as his hands crept through me and slowly pushing me to the wall.

Siyabonga: you thinking too much. What up

He slowly moved his hands down my body leaving tangling sensation. He bit my neck two making me arch

my back. I swear loving making with this man is way out

of this world

Me: nothing

Siyabonga: I called you four times and you never answered. He slowly spread my legs and I felt his big guy slowly finding his way.

Me: Sorry.

Siyabonga: you okay though. He stopped and I moved allowing him in and he groaned in pleasure. It amazing having the power to make groan out of pleasure. The power of knowing that I pleasure him. He made love to me making me feel every fibre of my bones and than took his time bathing me than picking me up and placing me on the bed. I always lose my ability to walk after that love shattering love making.

Siyabonga : now what is it that you want? You biting your lower lip.

Me: am not, i stopped.

Siyabonga: you were. I took a deep breath and cuddled closer to him.

Me: Avery. Can we keep her.

Siyabonga: okay. I moved from bed and looked at him and he closed his eyes with a smile.

Me: let me get this straight, you allowing me to keep a vampire? You do understand what am asking here? He opened his eyes and there were full of laughter.

Siyabonga: the way you look right now its like i said have all the candy

Me: you said i can have my own little kind vampire

Siyabonga: yes i did

Me: but why? Didn't you tell me i need to think more and be careful?

Siyabonga: if i want you to be away from vampires, which better way to stop that by getting one that will be there to warn you against your crazy activities plus she is your guardian.

Me: my what?

Siyabonga: guardian. Speak to her about it.

Now come

snuggle closer to me. I moved closer to him

and

snuggled.

Jasmine

“ you did what?”

Jaya: you heard me do you really want me to repeat

myself?

Me: she hates vampires

Jaya: says who?

Me: history has it...

Jaya: that right, history but she is the present and she will not hate her.

Me: its a her? Guardians are suppose to be males

Jaya: says history? We doing things differently now. What have you been doing while i was doing the guardianship.

Me: you messed it up

Jaya: that your opinion. I like to think i spiced things up a bit.

Me: you got a kid to be a guardian to the most powerful individuals in the universe.

Jaya: fascinating isn't it? I watched in disbelief as my sister giggled. Trust her to do things her way and hope for the best.

Lindiwe

I woke up in my new apartment that i had kamo get for me. She really didn't have too but she wanted to help and this was it. I walked to the lounge and found Mondli sitting there. He looked stressed out and jumpy.

Me: what wrong?

Mondli: Kamo husband does he know about me?

Me: why would he?

Mondli: answer the question dammit does he know about me. In my life iv never seen him so scared ever. The mighty Mondli.

Lindiwe: how should i know, what going on.

Mondli: his going to kill me, his going to kill me for what i did to kamo. I watched as tears ran down his face. I was too shocked to move. What happening to Mondli. He got up and left my house like he was never there.

Kamo

“ where are we driving?” We were in a car

now back in his home town and we were not taking the drive to his home

but w different route.

Siyabonga: I thought it best we have our own home.

Me: you were serious about that?

Siyabonga: yes. I kept quiet and looked out of the beautiful scenery in front of me. Then there was a small board and we took a turn to a dirt road and the air change to cool and calmer. I was literally half out of the car looking at this beautiful place. The flowers blossom like they were being watered with honey it self. It was like a picture out of a fairy tale and right as he turned the most beautiful dark brown house popped up in the middle of all the lush green trees. The brick house was huge almost looking like a cabin but amazingly huge. The architectural state of it was to die for.

Siyabonga

I watched as her eyes were popping out of her eye sockets. The smile on her face and the stars in her eyes.

I should have showed her this place sooner.

She got out of the car and was twirling like a little girl. I watched as flowers bloomed brighter in her presence. I took out my

phone snapping each moment so she can see herself. She walked to a little pond and Stopped looked at me and screamed.

Kamo: you got me a tiny pond with fish. Oh my god is that a tod? She moved closer and jumped up just a a tinny bunny hopped about near by.

“ oh my world this is perfect, I have bunnies” she jumped on me hugging the life out of me.

Kamo; tell me its ours to keep forever.

Me: you haven't even seen the inside i smiled at her.

Kamo: I love it. We have pets.

Me: Its a wildlife area so I didn't want to disturb them you know.

Kamo: it's perfect. I love it and just than a peacock gracefully walked by like it owned the place.

“ I can't believe it”

Siyabonga: come let me show you around the whole place. She stopped looked at me and smiled with tears in her eyes.

Kamo: Ever since iv meet you, my heart has been overflowing with love. Iv known piece but mostly iv known unconditional love. Thank you. Thank you for being my foundation. Thank you for being who you are.

I kissed her

soundlessly and I heard a humming bird from afar and she smiled. In that moment i knew I was content.

I knew she loved me for me. Not of who I am or what I am but for
me. My heart overflowed with so much love.

Avery

The place was to die for. My room was at the far back of the house with total privacy but gosh i loved this place. I loved how the Musk took me in like they own child. Dion

teaching me how to fight. Its been 3 days since we are here and for the past 3 days kamo been locking herself in her study. She wanted space and that what am going to give her. The rules were to not tell her anything until she finishes the journal so most of the day I laze around and enjoy my holiday while it lasted. I walked to the kitchen and found Mr Musk in shorts drinking water like he has never seen it before. I know he goes running in his full form around this time and i make sure to stay indoors. I do not want to end up being his breakfast Siyabonga: you a difficult person to find in the mornings.

Me:avoiding being someone breakfast is a tricky job. He laughed and I felt the floor vibrate. Talk about power.

Siyabonga: than that means if i have you for breakfast my wife will chop me into pieces before lunch.

Kamo: who am i chopping. She came out looking like a model out of a magazine. She was bare foot with shorts and a baggy top. She had her braids lose.

Siyabonga: no one, let me leave you two. He walked past me and kissed his wife and left.

Kamo: come let make something to eat and we can talk. I saw her eyes change and I felt my heart beat faster. Oh no, shit is about to get real for me. Guardian 101 is loading....

Insert 26:

Kamo

I watched her as she made herself a sandwich.

Me: how does normal food taste? She laughed lightly
showing dimples.

Avery: like cardboard but i have to eat to sustain a healthy body. Blood is just to quench my thirst. Like water for
you.

Me: i see. Well i read my mom journal and iv calculated 7
powers that I have so far. The rest am unsure about. Now.

I want us to talk.

Avery: About? She looked nervous..

Me: your choices.

Avery

I looked at her confused.

Me: My choices?

Kamo: yes. You are 18. There is more to life than being

my guardian. So here is the deal. You are welcomed here

for forever. This is your home. We are your family. I can send you back to school or college. Do what you always wanted before life happened. Graduate and get a job or family somewhere. Live life to the fullest.

Option B stay

here with me and we figure this new world out. Do know if you stay here. You not staying here as my guardian. You going to be a child of the family. Yes ill ask for help here

and there but dangerous things you sit them out. You will be more kind of my assistant part time though. You will earn a salary too. I looked at her confused. Is this a test?

Yes I wanted to be a teacher growing up but life happened

and here I am.

Me: Thank you for the offers but I think I like the last one.

No salary. You already put a beautiful roof on my head.

Clothes and food.

Kamo: than we opening up an account in your name invest your salary in it for rainy days. Am not asking am telling. I nodded.

Kamo: secondly knowing my husband. I know he already said you report to him?

Me: yes he did. I couldn't lie to my leader.

Kamo: Oh well you kinda do but sometimes we will do things that both of us will think it right if he didn't know.

Me:my loyalty is too you and your protection.

If its beyond

me than Your husband will know. I watched her smile.

Kamo: you have passed. No matter how right i think i might be if you see it fit that he should know then tell him.

Me:got it.

Kamo: last thing. I saw you leave out of Dion room the other night. I saw her eyes change to yellow and it finally made sense when she wants to say something she embarrassed about she blushes and her eyes change.

Me: it wont happen again.

Kamo: that not what i was saying. Its your life.

What you do with it is up to you. Just be careful that all and please don't ask me any relationship advice. I suck at it. I looked at her shocked. She and Mr musk are perfect. She smiled.

Kamo: seriously i suck. I dated a monster before and now am married to the kindest wolf ever. You see . She laughed and looked at me.

Kamo: seriously. Am happy you found a person. Enjoy it but also be careful.

Me: will do.

Kamo: Good lastly we paying your family a visit. I looked at her with my eyeballs out and my chest pounding so hard.

Me: why? I whispered.

Kamo: Have you ever wondered why my aunt chose you?

Me: no

Kamo: part of my powers is healing. Am a healer to others and I can heal myself. My ex shot me multiple times but here I am not a mark to show but just a dimple. She smiled and it showed.

Kamo: my family hated me and I never understood it until recently and now its like we were never a sad vicious family. You my guardian/ assistant/ daughter. And ill always want what best for and the first step is healing from the past.

Me: we will go when you forgive your ex.

There was silence. I know a lot about the ex Dion told me all about it. The way he worships her its amazing.

Kamo: iv forgiven him. Now that took me back.

Me: you have

Kamo; Yes i have.

Me: he abused you, turned friends and family against you.

Kamo: it was part of my journey to be where i am today.

To see life in that horrible manner so that when blessings start showing they way to me. I appreciate. I kept quiet.

Me: you can't expect me to go see my rapist?

Kamo: wanna know something that I don't think anyone know?

Siyabonga

I was walking past when she said" want to know something that no one knows" and I stood there and listened.

Kamo

Avery: yea

Me: i finished school and life was hard luckily i had a bursary. I meet Mondli when my family was chowing my

dads money and no one really cared about a girl that looks like a Chinese doll and had a chines name that means “ maybe”. Mondli was great at first.

But after a time he changed. One day he came home. I was now

living with him against my will and he kissed me. I allowed it but than he started touching me when I said”

no” I saw him change and things got ugly pretty fast. For some time i blamed myself telling myself if i should have just went with the flow he would be so rough. Or if I have got out when he first slapped me the first time maybe he would have never got a chance to rape me but none of those things happened. So me asking you to go home is not me asking you to go see your rapist. Its me asking you to forgive yourself. Forgive yourself so you can forgive him to because you never going to get an apology. Trust me I know it and I went through the same shit is you but I chose to forgive myself for letting it get too far. That all

we can do in order for us to feel sane again.
To get some sort of peace. She looked at me and I saw the pain in her eyes. I just learnt the power of healing so I closed my eyes and touched my inner core let my inner peace into play then I opened them.

Avery

I watched in amazement as her eyes turned pure white as she glowed like a moon. I she walked to me and touched

my hand and I felt lighter. As if the weight of the world has been removed from my shoulder. I let go of all my burdens and I felt myself cry silently as all my screams and cries of the years washed out from me. Siyabonga

I watched as my wife used her powers effortlessly. I knew she was healing Avery. I knew they going to be okay but I knew if i never find this Mondli guy than ill never be at peace. I left them going to the basement where my team was working.

Me: Dion

Dion: I found him. His in Johannesburg.

Me: Get the helicopter waiting we going there and get the guys that side to detain him. Time for him to be punished of all his sins. He nodded and I went back upstairs to find the girls chatting in the kitchen.

Me: babe a moment please.

Kamo: You look good. She sorted my collar.

Me: am going to be late tonight.

Kamo

I felt the uneasiness in the pit of my stomach.

Me: you okay? He nodded and I looked at his dark grey eyes and his veins visible pumping blood.

Me: talk to me

Siyabonga: its work. He kissed my forehead and I saw him standing in a room covered in blood and I knew that room. It was Mondli study. I moved from him with tears in my eyes.

Me: You going to kill him? He looked at me confused.

Me: Don't look at me like You don't know who am talking about.

Siyabonga: he hurt you before.

Me:and that gives you a right to kill? Since when? He moved closer trying to touch me and I moved away from him.

Me: Kill him and we done. I left him standing there. Am not about to have a man kill for me. Husband or not. Werewolf or not. Am so not about to stay or sleep in one bed with a man that killed my ex. No ways.

Insert 27:

Siyabonga

I stood there watch her leave. Is she angry at me for wanting to kill the man that made her suffer? Am I seeing right? Is she still in love with him? What happening?

Dion: we ready sir. I looked at Dion confused.

Me: sorry cancel the trip and drive me to my office

please. We left.

Jasmine

I looked at my sister while she was baking a cake.

Me: When are you leaving

Jaya: when are you going to see your daughter?

We were both silent. Why did i fear meeting her? Was it the knowledge of knowing i left her and a lot of bad things happened in her life? Was it the fear of thinking she would blame me? Take out her anger on me and maybe tell me she don't want me in her life? I have so many fears. I know iv failed as her mother but i really wish to meet her at some point.

Jaya: oh well am leaving tomorrow. If you want to come with me you can come cause ill definitely going to meet her it time. There is a great deal she can teach me.

Me: am going back to my husband and kid

Jaya: suit yourself.

Kamo

I got dressed in my blue dress and did my hair up in a not than got out of the house.

Avery: want me to come with?

Me: no its okay am going to drive myself get some lunch for Siya and go to the office and drop it. I don't like how it ended.

Avery: you not taking any guards so am coming. Its me or the guards.

Me: fine.

Avery: cool Am ready. I smiled got in the car and drove off.

Avery: Its not my business but I get where his coming from.

Me: I know. I get it too but I can't have him kill him and live with it.

Avery: I know and I guess he will get it but sometimes
you are too kind

Me: kindness is a form of peace. I like to bring peace in the world

Avery: hmmm

In a distance

Its been two days since iv been here and I finally found out where she stays. I couldn't really drive up to see what

happening since it too secluded but i waited at the bottom

of the drive and saw her husband leave and few hours

later i was following her. I know it was her driving and no

security following her. How can that dog be so stupid leaving a fairy unprotected. Does he think his the only one who knows of her powers? I watched as she drove to the mall and then I saw another skinny boy with her. Does she have her warlock already? But that not possible she only just meet him. I followed them as they walked to the Asian restaurant. I was standing behind them waiting for our turns to place an order.

Kamo: Would you like anything Avery.

Avery: nope am good. She made a face. I heard her laugh and I felt so complete and my heart beating so fast in excitement.

Kamo: Its not what you think.

Avery: you don't know what am thinking.

Kamo: are you sure about that? They both laughed and i saw her move her neck and there was a bruise at the back and I felt my blood boil. Is Jayden doing the same thing

that Mondli used to do but she seems so happy.

Kamo: am getting you a chicken chow mein and you will love it. I guess this is just a friend they placed they order

and got themselves fried ice cream while they were waiting. I ordered something simple and sat behind them.

I watched them talk about everything and anything. Smiling laughing till they order was called out. I knew right then that I Marcus Ncuma will make this girl my partner come high or low. She will be mine and mine forever.

Kamo

We drove to his offices which were amazingly beautiful for an office. Avery was like my mini guard as we walked to the receptionist and she got up and smiled. I guess she knew me.

Receptionist: Mrs Musk. Oh well she knew me. I smiled at her welcoming smile.

Me: hi

Receptionist: how are you Ma'am

Me: good and yourself?

Her: good. Is he aware you coming.

Me: no. His not. Am just here to drop lunch.

Her: oh perfect. His on the 9th floor. You will find his assistant there and she will let you know if his free or not.

Me: oh okay. No problem. Thank you. We walked to the elevator

Siyabonga

I looked at my assistant who was half naked.

She had her

shirt unbuttoned and a red and black bra was showing.

Cynthia has worked for me for the past five years. Her telling me she has had a crush on me the past 5 years is to much. We worked so well together.

Me: get dressed now. I gritted my teeth as she just made me angry

Cynthia: don't you want me? Iv loved you from a distance for too long and i just can't anymore. I know marriage is not a thing now that you are married but i can give you

things that your wife wouldn't even dream of giving you.

She squeezed her boobs and hitched her skirts up and there was no panty as she sat down on the visitors chair.

I quickly turned because all i wanted was to rip her throat
out for disrespecting herself, my wife and mostly my marriage.

Kamo

I quietly walked in the office after Avery said she will wait
outside and the sight i saw was too much. It was woman

in a chair being slutty my husband looking out the window.

Siyabonga: am going to say this once Cynthia and I pray

you listen. If you still want a job in this company you will get dress. Close away any thoughts or imagination that I and you will ever happen. When I turn from here. I do not want to see your face ever again. Iv never in my life seen

a woman stoop so low and iv never been disrespected to the extent that you just did. Lastly, never ever say my wife

name in my presence or to your friends or anywhere for that matter. Are we clear? His voice rang loud in the room
making the woman quickly stand up and sort herself and when she turned the shock and fear in her face.

Woman: Mrs Musk? She whispered and I saw the angry

Siyabonga turn. His eyes were dark with anger to the point that his veins were visible. I kept quiet as she was hastily
walking past me fixing herself. Two minutes later Avery
and Dion walked in and found the Angry Siyabonga fully dressed and neat standing so far and myself standing just near the entrance with tears slowly streaming down my face. The looked at us and left and we just stood there.

Siyabonga getting himself calmed and I trying to wrap my head in everything I just saw. Was Cynthia a sex buddy or companion that he had before marrying me? But he knows that mating with anyone but his mate result in consequences or is he a type of man that didn't care what happened to the woman so long he got laid? But that not the man I married and came to love and cherish. All these thoughts ran in my head as we both stood there not moving....

Insert 28:

Siyabonga

I looked at the hurt in her eyes and the tears and kept quiet.

Me: Hi

Kamo: I brought you lunch. She raised the bag of food and i nodded. She walked to the table and placed it there.

Me: Thank you. I had my hands in fist in my pocket. Am not sure what she was thinking but the pain and hurt in her eyes was there for me to see.

Kamo: Ill see you at home. She turned and when she was at the door I called her and she looked at me with a hand on the door.

Me: I love you. She looked at me ~~and gave me the saddest smile ever. My heart broke into a million pieces.~~

~~Kamo: I love you more.~~ She opened the door and left and I walk to my chair sat there defeated. I called the lower ground receptionist Nkule.

Nkule:sir

Me: you my assistance for the day. Please close off all meetings iv have had and call HR to my office now and make sure no one come up.

Nkule: yes sir. I hang up and waited for HR. I know she probably over thinking it like how i over thought our first fight in the morning but ill deal with it when I get home after I sort this out.

I walked out smiled at the receptionist and left with Avery tagging along me quiet. We got in the car and I drove off.

Avery: Alphas only mate with they mates. No one else.

Apart that wolfs only sleep with one partner all they life but Alphas since they bonded to they mate. Once the bond has been consummated mated he only sleeps with his mate.

Me: I know

Avery: Than why you crying?

Me: You wouldn't cry when you walk in your husband and find one of his workers naked and ready for him?

Avery: No, not if I know he didn't touch her.

Me: how do you know? Yes he didn't touch her today but what about any other days? I looked at her.

Avery: cause he wouldn't hurt a person just for sex. You his wife and he gives you bruises and you are his mate.

Made to accommodate him. Now imagine what happens to a normal human being? Which normal human being can manage being intimate with a supernatural and be okay afterwards? I turned looked at the young girl and smiled and looked forward.

Avery: You smiling that good

Me: Now i get it why i need you in my life.

Thank you. I

saw her beam with pride.

Avery: its a pleasure. We drove in silence. We got home and we went to our study to read more about my powers and how to use them.

Marcus

I got home to find more than 30 vampires and

I looked at

my brother confused.

Me: what? He moved me to the side.

“ i kinda mentioned to a friend that you have found the only living fairy witch”

Me: are you fucken crazy?why would you even do that?

What wrong with you?

“ i didnt know he will tell his friends and before i knew it word spread”

Me: What are they doing here?

“ they have problems that only she can help with”

Me: you fucken stupid do you know that. I went to the lounge and looked at them.

Me: am sorry about the confusion which iv explained to my brother. The woman who i though is a witch fairy is not one. Now pack your things and go.

Vampire1: I knew this was to truthful to be true. I watched as they murmured things and than left apart one guy. He stood there looking at me with grim eyes.

Me: bro leave

Him: You lying

Me: what makes you say that?

Him: I got a power of knowing when someone is lying and you are. You going to help me or I tell everyone here

that you lying. I laughed looking at the skinny guy. I had strength of a million man.

Me: are you for real? He gave me a piece of paper with an address.

Him: Meet me here tomorrow and you will see why you have to help me. He got up and left talking to the other

guys leaving and he turned and winked and I knew it was

him telling me if I don't come his going to share that am

lying. First thing first. I get Kamo and go to one city

where I know for a fact no vampire will go. I looked at the

address again memorising it and throwing the paper away.

“ am sorry”

Me: its fine bro. I ask you to help me with her you don't

but yet you go around telling the world that she exist

knowing very well that every supernatural being wants her.

for her powers. You pathetic bro. I left him standing there...

Insert29:

Siyabonga

I walked out of the shower and wore my boxers got in bed where she was glued to a box with her glasses.

Me: what you reading?

Kamo: reading more on having focus when am in a trance. Today I found out two more powers. I can hear what a vampire is thinking. It was so much fun. She really looked excited.

Me: how did you find out?

Avery: we came back from the office and we read more and I remembered when i was ordering your found i literally heard her voice saying “ am so not going to eat anything from a Chinese man” than when we were sitting and she was bored with reading and staring at the book

she was like “ can we take a break already am tired” i answered her and she looked at me shocked and told me she never said that aloud. So we then figured i can read

vampires mind. Now my worry is that is it her mind only
that I can read.

Me: Hmmm

Kamo

I looked at him and I knew she hiding
something.

Me: What

Siyabonga: nothing

Me: out with it.

Siyabonga: I can read everyone mind human or supernatural but I chose not to use that ability. I looked at him shocked.

Me: You can what?

Siyabonga

I saw the shock in her eyes.

Me: I can't read yours.

Kamo: why not?

Me: that what frustrated me. But i made peace with it

because i don't use that power. She looked at me for

sometime and I saw her concentrating and I smiled

because i knew what she was doing.

Kamo: I cant read yours too. She looked at me for

sometime and closed the book.

Kamo: am sorry

Me:for?

Kamo: my behaviour lately

Me: you mean behaving like a wife that cares for her husband?

She looked down shyly.

Me: ill also like to apologise on today scene. I knew she had the hots for me but I didn't think it was this bad. Am sorry

Kamo: am sorry i doubted you

Me: sorry for allowing a situation that put you in that position for you to doubt me. She looked at me for a second than smiled.

Me: what you smiling about?

Kamo: I like this. It different.

Me: I know

Kamo: there is something i wanted to raise by you.

Me: and that is?

Kamo: I think its time i look for my mom. She whispered.

I snuggled her close to me.

Me: Ill look into it tomorrow and let you know what I find.

Mind me asking why now?

Kamo: I think its time I guess. She missed out on so much in my life and I want to know her. Plus i think i should know my toots.

Me: its cool with me.

Kamo: Thank you. She kept quiet and grinned.

Kamo: do you want me to show you what i learnt today?

She was too hyped up for me to say no. So I smiled and said yes. She got up.

Kamo; look at the vase and don't blink. I looked at it and

she stood very far from it and then she slowly closed her eyes and lifted her hands and the vase got up from the

put it back.

Me: you can move things without touching them?

Kamo: yes and I can choke a vampire. She had a grin on her face. She really was proud of herself than she got undressed and turned around.

Me: what am I looking for not that am complaining.

Kamo: my love making bruises. I healed them.

I jumped out of bed and touched her. That the one thing i hated the most seeing her bruised up.

Me: they all gone. How?

Kamo: I have a power of healing so after i healed Avery cut. I turned it in me and healed myself in the process and it worked.

Me: any more powers?

Kamo: our garden blossoms in my presence am guessing

i can do something with nature but not too sure what yet

but we exploring that tomorrow

Me: can i find the yard and house in one piece am going to Johannesburg tomorrow. I have a meeting.

Kamo: Can I come with? I looked at her and felt a thud at the bottom of my heart. Am not sure what was it for but

the feeling sat there.

Me: so long you take security with you at all times when

am not with you.

Kamo: You don't sound sure

Kamo

I looked at him and touched his hand and I got a blank

picture. He smiled

Siyabonga: are you trying to work your voodoo on me? I smiled at him because i was really trying to see what bothering him.

Me: i feel like you not okay with me coming to GP with you.

Siyabonga: I feel like you not tell me why you want to come. I kept quiet because he was right. I wasn't being fully honest with him. But how can a wife tell they husband that the going to close a chapter in they life? How can I tell him that am going to see my ex and find closure. I can't be preaching healing to Avery and I myself haven't fully healed.

Me: You not going to understand if I told you and I feel like me telling you will come out as disrespectful since you my husband.

Siyabonga: am your friend first before anything else. I kept quiet for a while and moved to the bed.

Siyabonga

I watched her play with a pillow nervously.

Me: you can always talk to me about anything.

Kamo: this is so hard.

Me: am here. She looked at me and I saw her eyes get glassy with tears.

Kamo: I don't mean to disrespect you and I don't want you reading too much into this but... she wiped a tear falling down from her. I held her hands giving her comfort.

Kamo: I'll like to see Mondli. She whispered and the room went silent. She looked at me waiting for me to say something.

Me: Why? I calmly asked. She looked at me and I saw she wasn't about to tell me so I just made peace with the fact that this is something she wanted to do.

Kamo: I need to find closure of all the things

he did to me

and I need to let him know that I forgive him

even though

he never really apologised. That all. I knew

she was being

honest because that heaviness in my heart disappeared as she spoke and I just realised it wasn't my heaviness it was hers. I was holding her heaviness in my heart. We truly are linked.

Me: Never hide anything from me. Ill support you in all

that you do even when i think its something that you

shouldn't concern yourself with but if you think that its a must than you have my support. She gave me her biggest hug and I felt my heart fill up with love to my fullest content. I knew it was her as I was linked to her. I smiled knowing that she loves me without a doubt to the fullest of her heart.

Kamo

I woke up to find Siyabonga looking at me and fully dressed.

Me: you up early.

Siyabonga: i have a meeting to attend before we leave but than i saw how peaceful you were and i lost track of time watching you sleep.

Me: you shouldn't have. You just woke me up.

Siyabonga: sorry. He walked to me kissed my forehead and left. I got up went took a shower than packed for the trip. Went to the kitchen found Avery drinking from a cup and I knew it was blood. I watched her finish up and got her eyes change back to normal than she washed her cup.

Me: we going Johannesburg. Not sure for how long so pack up warmly and summer clothes. She looked excited.

Avery: I've never been to Johannesburg before.

Me: You will love it. Let me leave you to pack let me make a light lunch that we will have before we leave.

Marcus

I drove to the address and got to a shabby house there and parked then got out just as Josh came out.

Josh: thanks for coming.

Me: show me what you wanted to show me.

Josh: follow me. We walked in to the house and Right to the bedroom. One sick lady who could die any minute

stood there blinking her red eyes. They helped her up and I saw the most horrific sight ever. She had bruises all over

her huge tummy and looked as pale as a white sheet and

so weak you could blow her.

Me: is she human?

Josh: no she a new vampire but the baby is somehow

eating her in the insides.

Me: how on earth did any of this happen? We haven't

given birth since the 1800's

Josh: i don't know

Me: If the commander were to find out about this.

Josh: that why we need the witch fairy.

Me: to do what exactly? Witch fairies hate vampires

Josh: if she is the decedent of Jasmine and she is as kind as she is said to be then my wife has a living chance.

Me: she doesn't even know i exist how on earth am I going to get her here. They all looked at me with hope and i realised i have just confirmed that she exist

Me: fuck me. Ill see what i can do. If you dare tell anyone that iv told you about her or even helped you get to her than ill kill you myself. josh nodded. I walked and turned

and he wasn't following me.

Me: get in the bloody car Josh. He ran to the car.

Kamo

I finished up cooking and sorting out our things that we taking with us. When done I took my mom journal and went to the patio to read while waiting and Avery came
by.

Me: come here. I wanna try something

Avery: that twinkle in your eyes.

Marcus

We drove to where she stays and parked off the road and

covered the car hopping no one sees it.

Me: come we will walk through the woods.

He nodded.

Me: When you get there you will talk and I'll say nothing.

Josh: I thought you know her.

Me: I don't

Josh: than how did you know of her?

Me: same way that you did now please shut up. We on a werewolf ground.

Josh: what you mean? I looked at the clueless guy.

Me: are you asking me because you don't know or you skipped that part in your reading.

Josh: indulge me please

Me: she married a fucken werewolf man. I watched josh

eyes pop up and stand still.

Josh: if he finds here we are dead.

Me: than stop walking slow and let move it.

Siyabonga

I felt my blood boil and I knew it was alerting me of something. I excused myself from the meeting calling

Kamo.

Kamo: hey

Me: You out of breath.

Kamo: am trying to channel nature and its a bit difficult

but i know am doing it right.

Me: you home?

Kamo: Yes and no I wont damage your precious garden. I

laughed

Me: i never said anything about my garden.

Kamo: I know that what you were going to say.

Me: can you read my mind now?

Kamo: I know you too well to know what next. I laughed feeling lighter but still offish.

Me: am coming home. Stay put.

Kamo: where would I go? She kept quiet.

Me: kamo???

Kamo: am feeling a tingling sensation and this usually happens when Avery sneaks up on me.

Me:you home right?

Kamo: yeah

Me: nothing going to happen to you. Nothing get past
through the hedges closer to the house without your permission or mines. So if any vampires are lurking by they can't get in.

Kamo: come home please

Me: are you okay?

Kamo: yeah but I feel like i need you.

Me: ill be there in 30 minutes Dont think too much.

Continue trying to challenge nature.

Remember a clear
mind and breathe in and out and you will be good.

Kamo:thanks

She hung up and i went back wrapped up my meeting and left.

Kamo.

I looked at Avery and smiled.

Me: i think you need life insurance

Avery: so long you dont burn me am good.

Me: okay let try this one last time before we ho shower. I closed my eyes.

Marcus

We got to the hedge and we can see them.

The skinny kid

and her standing there. We tried to move closer but it felt like an invisible glass was stopping us from moving. I moved to the side and still couldn't go in past

the hedges. We moved to where there were none and moved

closer and still nothing but we stood there and watched

since we had the perfect view.

Josh: what happening why can't we go through?me: she has her house protected. She a witch fairy did you

seriously think we will rock up and she will welcome us,

now keep quiet please and watch.

Kamo

Me: ready

Avery:what are you going to do tinker bell. I laughed at her

so loud and raised my hands as twigs and branches came out from underneath holding her in place. I opened my eyes in excitement.

Avery

I watched her with light green eyes. She looked amazing.

Her hair and braids started changing to moss green and she lifted off the ground. She had a million dollar smile on her face. The higher she went the higher the twigs and branches grew taking me with. She spins and they twist.

Kamo: tell me when am hurting you okay

Me: so far so go. She really looked like a million dollar piece of art. She clapped her hands and the twigs and branches broke as I went down but she quickly grabbed me before i hit the ground.

Kamo: That was amazing. What else can I do. Her hair turned greener.

Me: oh no. She twirled and a mini tornado started. She screamed in excitement and it grew bigger.

Me: oh no keep your emotions in check please or you will lose control. But my words were lost as things took a turn for the worse as the tornado targeted the rose bushes and lilies. I closed my eyes as she started panicking

Siyabonga is going to kill us.

Siyabonga

I saw something shiny in the trees.

Me: Dion wait. He braked and I jumped off and went to see a car parked there and ran to my car.

Me: race it. He speed and I got there there was screaming

and whooshing sound. I ran with my heart in my chest.

When i got to the other side of the mini garden it was a mess. Kamo with green hair. She looked like forest

goddess and Avery running after a tornado and birds flying
for they life.

Me: Kamo!!!

Avery

His voice vibrated and we stood still with birds stoping
and kamo looking at Siyabonga with fear before anything happened she reacted sending twigs with thorns his way.

In a split of an eye he jumped and turned into the most scariest big white wolf that iv ever seen. I saw Kamo hear grow darker out of fear than I ran for cover in my running I saw two people take cover in my fair right.

Kamo was now a goddess with wind twirls by either of her sides she clapped her hands and I saw Siyabonga change back to his normal self with dark grey eyes and raise his hands
stopping the twigs half way.
Siyabonga: Is that all you got wife?
Kamo: is that a challenge dear husband?
Oh no are these two really about to show of they powers?
Oh lord what a hectic job I have.....

Insert 31:

Kamo

I watched him move and closed my eyes and I felt the ground shake and I snapped my fingers as rocks lighted. I saw him grin.

Siyabonga: You are really set in destroying our garden. I laughed lightly

Me: Ill fix it when we done playing

Siyabonga: we are playing and then his eyes went dark and I knew something was wrong as he changed into a full were wolf and went charging. I saw two souls dash for they life and I lifted them up just as he was about to bite into one. I saw fear than gratitude on the faces. Siyabonga quickly turned. He was so angry. I tied the guys in twigs and left them hanging up. I knew he couldn't fly and that frustrated him.

Avery

Thank god for kamo or i would have just watched two souls be attacked into shrimps. I got out of my hiding place and looked around at the mess. Its like dragon ballZ just happened. I slowly walked to Dion who looked like his used to this.

Dion: she finally unleashed her powers. She stronger than him. I never thought ill ever meet an individual stronger them him.

Me: Girl power rocks.

Dion: seriously.

Me: am a better shooter than you but ke asikho lapho(we not there) .

Siyabonga

I looked at the two dangling there.

Kamo: until you are calmer am not bringing them down

Me: I am calmer

Kamo: you don't look calm. I gritted my teeth and went inside to go take a shower.

Kamo.

I calmly put them down and untied the twigs and just as I

touched one of them I saw a woman in pain surrounded in darkness and i looked at the guy and I saw he

was scared. I touched his sleeve and I saw he was good man

been through a lot.

Me: would you like to come through for some light lunch?

They both looked at me shocked. The kind man nodded

and i walked to the patio and they sat down
as i ask

Avery to help bring the lunch i prepared. I walked to the other guy who thought the world evolved around him and i touched him and saw hate, anger and lots of frustration

but mostly i saw danger. I looked at him really close and I saw his intentions of ill heart toward my husband and his kind. I really didnt know how to use this power of sight
but it generally just came.
Me: if you hate my husband so much, than why bring him
here? I saw the shock in the kind man eyes and the evil
one looked at me taken aback.
Him: Am Marcus. He says looking at me as if am

suppose to know him.

Me: am new in this world, enlightened me.

Him: one from the originals.

Me: original what? He looked at me again skeptical.

Him: Vampires.

Me: so being from the close family of the originals some

how gives you the entitlement of hating my husband? Am
confused.

He looked at me for a long time and I saw his energy

around him change. So am an energy reader too.

Interesting

Marcus: you interesting. I turned to the guy next to him.

Me: you risked it all coming with him here.

Who is the lady clinger to you that ill?

Him: my wife

Me: am kamo

Him: josh

Me: a pleasure to meet you. Here have some lunch while i go pack a few things that I can help with.'

Siyabonga: You not going anywhere and

Marcus please

leave

Marcus: but....

Siyabonga: Please let me not repeat myself before i break

you in two pieces than have to explain to the committee

my reasons. Now go. He got up and signalled for the guy
with glassy eyes to get up.

Siyabonga: I don't remember telling josh to leave. If i see you 30km away from my house ill snap your neck in half and throw it in hell. I watched as Marcus got up and left

Siyabonga looked at Josh for a long time. My heart was pounding so hard and fast.

Siyabonga: Avery and Dion are going to drive you to your house. Pack up all that you need for you and your wife
and helper and they will bring you back. Am not doing this for you nor am I doing it for you wife. Am doing it for my wife because i know her not helping you after what she saw will haunt her forever. Now eat up and go. Oh and Josh?

Josh: yes

Siyabonga: tell anyone what you saw today or
what you
about to see and you are dead. I know only witch fairies
can help your kind with your problems but
No. he got up
and left is too leaving me grinning...

Insert 31:

Josh

I looked at the young lady in front of me and i just couldn't believe that i was here.

Me: uhm... I couldn't find the words to ask what I wanted
to ask.

Kamo: What on your mind

Me: I thought you can read my mind

Kamo: I can but am just respecting your privacy, so how can I help

Me: its my wife

I felt tears come to my eyes and i wiped them away just

as a tiny girl walked and stood in a distance and i noticed

she is a vampire. Kamo turned looked at her smiled and looked back at me. I heard that she hated vampires but she had some sort of a bond with this one and plus here i am sitting here looking at her. She kept quiet looking so elegant and Calm.

Me: am sorry to just pop up like this but i kind of didnt
have a choice. My wife isn't well and you the only one that can help me.

Kamo

I looked at him and saw that life has been really hard on him.

Me: let me pack

Avery: pack?

Me: yes pack

Avery: are we not going to Johannesburg

Me: If i go she dies. He needs me.

Avery: his a vampire

Me: and you human?

There was silence and I turned looked at Josh.

Me: Please give me a moment. I turned and looked at

Avery.

Me: You touch him and ill kill you.

Avery: I didn't do anything

Me: seems like you forget that I can read minds.

Avery: I wasn't even thinking of that.

Me: Avery

Avery: Fine but am going with you.

Me: Fine

Avery: I wonder if ubuthi will be okay with this. I took a deep breath and left to my room. I got in and took a few things from my already packed bag for Johannesburg and took my toiletries. Just than Siyabonga walked in and he looked beyond furious. I kept quiet and bite my inner lip thinking how to talk to him about this.

Me: babe

Siyabonga: please dont patronise me

Me: am not

Siyabonga: you have made up your mind right?

Me: he needs me.

He got up and I felt my heart race and I knew he was worked up.

Me: I can explain

Siyabonga: Dion coming with and Avery and Tshepo

Me: They humans and those are vampires

Siyabonga: its me or them

Me: Dion is a human. I can't have him protect me against vampires Siyabonga: Ill pack. I felt myself lose ground and looked at him.

Me: you an Alpha.

Siyabonga: so?

Me: I cannot make them uncomfortable in they own environment. He moved me aside and walked to the lounge where we found Avery and Josh in a staring contest.

Siyabonga: Will you object to me tagging along with my wife here.

Josh

I looked at the Alpha and knew the discomfort the family and community will have. Not once in history has an Alpha been in a community where loads of vampires stay and all ends well.

Me: Ill have to give the people a hands up.

Siyabonga: well get a head start, Avery go with him and report back. The cheeky vampire nodded and we got up and left.

I know it short but sengibuyile kancane kancane. Thank you guys for your support and prayers.

Insert 32:

Siyabonga

I looked at my beautiful glowing wife with pink hair. I have no idea what the pink hair is for?

Me: your hair pink. I mumbled. She looked at me and turned to the mirror and looked at herself. I walked to her and held her from behind and she leaned on my shoulder perfectly fitting in.

Me: You drive me so crazy sometimes

Kamo: I have to help.

Me: am not saying don't but talk to me. That all I ask.

She closed her eyes for a minute than open them. They were glassy

Kamo: Am new at this and curious too.

Sometimes i really don't know how to handle it.

Me: That why I say talk to me about these things and will figure it out together. She nodded and I slowly kissed her neck as she arched her back her ass rubbing

on me

driving me wild. I felt my whole body tense up and I stopped kissing her and looked at her through the mirror.

Her hair was back to normal black colour and
her eyes

were full of passion. I undid my pants quickly and the guy

sprang out and i moved her closer to the mirror and

slowly undressed her as she closed her eyes.

Me: look at me.

She slowly open her eyes as she looked at me from the mirror. I slowly parted her leg.

Kamo

I felt my body heat up as I knew what next.
He slowly
entered me as he was looking at me via the mirror. My walls clinched to him for dear life as he slowly started
moving making me arch my back some more.
I felt all my insides shatter then he picked me up and we went to the bedroom.

Me: am sorry

Siyabonga: Its would have been better if they come here
but than again i get your reasons for wanting to go to his house. But am coming with Me: I don't think its a good idea. Ill take Dion and Avery like you said.

He shooked his head no.

Siyabonga: am coming with

Me: I can take Philile

Siyabonga: what the difference between her and me.

Me: please let not argue on this. Am going to they home and yes ill take Avery and Dion but you are not coming.

Siyabonga: am going to Johannesburg than. I looked at him and he laughed.

Me: Fine. You coming but keep you distance and be friendly when approached.

Siyabonga: am the most friendly guy ever. I looked at him as he laughed and the walls vibrated. This is what I wanted. Him being happy. We took a shower and got dressed.

Siyabonga: its been awhile and Avery not back. I took my phone and there were no texts and I called her and it went to voicemail and I felt the pit of my stomach drop.

Siyabonga
I watched her as she started panicking and I called Dion to no avail. I called the back up team to come front so we can go to Joshua.

Kamo: am coming with. I knew nothing I was going to say was going to let her stay. Mdu and the guys came through and we drove to Joshuas with kamo quiet as a mouse clinging to my hand for dear life!....

Insert 33:

Dion

I woke up with a banging headache and looked around. I saw Avery tied up in one corner with wood studs around her ankle and hands. She was bleeding and turning more pale. I looked around and the room was dark with only one window. I checked for my watch that Siyabonga made me wear and it was still on me so i pressed the panic button.

Siyabonga

My phone buzzed and I opened it and saw that Dion activated the panic button and tracer. I knew he hated being vulnerable so I called the team and send the the coordinate of the place. I looked at kamo and looked away.

Kamo: Its Dion?

Me: yes

Kamo: are they okay?

Me: No

Kamo: I should have listened to you. I shouldn't have agreed to going there. I shouldn't have sent my Avery.

I watched as her hair changed to red. Her eyes were dark blue. I knew that hell is about to break loose and I didn't know how to handle it.

Philile

I looked at the text with the co ordinates and i knew that Siyabonga needed us. So I packed up texted the wolf pack the co ordinates and got in my full form and made a dash for it.

Joshua

I looked at the flock of vampires. My head was buzzing and my wife was getting worse with each minute. I had full blown tears in my eyes and the woman were looking at me with so much pity.

Me: You can't do this, she going to die.

Marcus: Listen to him. The Musk are the last race that you want to fight with them.

Stephen: listen to them please. The Vilakazi Clan laughed.

Mr Vilakazi: you cant tell us that you bringing a fairy witch here and expect me to just sit and let it be.

Worse you saying you bringing an Alpha to.

Me: to help my wife.

Mr Vilakazi: this is a vampire matter. We will deal with it.

Me: She is dying. She needs help now. I screamed.

Mrs Vilakazi: Kodwa baba just this once let us get help from someone else please. She begged while helping my wife.

Mr Vilakazi: we don't mix with witches nor Wolves.

Vampires don't die. She will be fine. Just than a black

Mercedes parked in a distance and I knew before they emerged out of it that it was the Musk family.

I saw a red hair and I knew things are about to get bad.

Kamo

He really looked majestic and huge and big with his white fur and strong. He was so big that he scared me too. He bounced off the car so elegantly for a wolf.

Josh

There she was with her red hair looking so pissed and her husband in his majestic form. I moved to my wife and Mrs Vilakazi.

Me: Move a little bit back please

Jocelyn: Is that her

Me: Yes dear its her

Jocelyn: She looks angry.

Me: That why am saying let move back a bit....

Insert 34:

Joshua

We slowly moved back and i got my oldest daughter to take the little kids to a distance in safety

while Mrs

Vilakazi ushered the other woman away from

Vilakazi and his man and we watched from a distance.

Kamo walked slowly with her hair fire red and her dress elegantly sweeping the floor. Her husband was right by her side

with his big shape fangs dripping of saliva.
The kombo
was frightening.

Mrs Vilakazi:you right she looked pissed.

Me: Trust me you haven't seen anything.

Kamo

The guys were ready for war and that pissed me off some more. I looked at the leader with his fans out and claws.

Me: You have my guardian and guard.

Him: And you are

Joshua

I saw her hair change a shade darker than what it was and

I looked at my wife face lighten up with hope.

I squeezed

her hand and she smiled a fainted smile.

Mr Vilakazi: Do you know where you are?

Kamo: Do you know who I am? She spoke with such a low voice and I heard the growling of Mr

Musk. From the sides I saw one Black wolf approaching.

Jocelyn: There more wolfs. How many does she have.

Me: Babe you know she married to a werewolf

Mrs Vilakazi: what you mean.

Me: I mean that big angry wolf next to her is her husband.

All the ladies gasp in shock. I felt sorry for Mrs Vilakazi

who doesn't know that she is about to be a widow if her husband doesn't back down.

Avery

I was losing blood a lot and I was in and out of consciousnesses.

Dion: Stay with me baby

Me: Am going to die. I whispered with my lips cracking. I saw Dion shifting and trying to get out of his chains.

Me: I should have stayed in the car like you said. Am just

than in The window I saw a shadow and we both kept

quiet not moving then out of nowhere the door banged open and one big brown wolf emerged and I saw Dion smiling for the first time as the wolf ran to him rolling him over in excitement.

Me: seriously Dion. They both turned looking at me as it helped him out of his chains and they broke free and ran to me to help me as I lost consciousness again.

Joshua

We watched in silence as she lifted her right hand up and all the guns that were pointed at her went up in the air.

The guys looked up and looked at her shocked.

Kamo: Now, ill ask one more time. Where are my people?

I saw Mr Vilakazi sweating a bit and Stephen and Marcus were hiding not so far from us with Stephen eyes popping out in shock.

Mr Vilakazi quickly took out a gun from his hip and aimed at her shooting and we watched in amazement as she lifted her hands and the bullets stopping right in front of them then she turned them around and clapped her hands

as They went flying to MR Vilakazi aiming at his thigh, leg and arm. She toppled down scream in pain screaming for the guys to get the Musk family and hell broke lose as all the wolfs popped up from they hiding spots. We watched in horror as the wolfs tore the bullies of our neighbours info pieces. Limb by limb and throwing them into a pile like pieces of dirt and when they were done and Vilakazi was left alone in the middle with his wife silently crying Kamo literally flys gracefully to him and make him rise with her hands without touching him.

Kamo: Now let try this again. Where is my Guardian and guard.

Mr Vilakazi: I rather die then tell you where they are.

Kamo: okay.

She pushed him with one clap to the pile of vampires bodies and injuries. I watched as two near by trees lifted and the leaves shaken off as she placed it on the pile than she rubbed her hands together and a ball of fire popped up and she threw it on the pile of bodies with Mr Vilakazi screaming in pain as they burnt to ashes. Out of nowhere

and quickly one of his sons aimed at her and shoot and we watched in horror as she went down and the clouds gathered quickly turning black and the most dreadful
soaking rain poured on us as we struggled to run indoors
while the wolfs gathered around her. I ran to them with my wife screaming no. I knew she or the wolfs wouldn't hurt
me and when I got there I found her husband in full human form.

Me: Pick her up and come to my house will tend to her.

He looked at me with dark grey eyes and it send shivers

to my bones. He lifted his hand and I saw blood oozing

out of her chest like a tap and I started panicking. She can't die. Not here not today and not because of me.....

Insert 35:

Joshua

I watched in amazement as they picked her up and placed her on the couch. She was no longer bleeding and her husband looked less angry at anyone of us.

The other

wolfs were guarding the front just incase

Vilakazi son

chooses to come and finish things off.

Jocelyn: is she going to be okay? She asked with watery

eyes holding her bump.

Syabonga: She okay. Are you okay?

I looked at him shocked. Did he just asked my wife if she okay while his has a bullet on her. Just then something fell and I watched him pick it up and it was a bullet. I looked at him confused.

Syabonga: she has the ability to heal fast. We all looked at him confused. He looked at us.

Syabonga: Please keep an eye on her while I deal with her shooter

Mrs Vilakazi: His the only son I have left. She cried. He looked at her and she looked scared.

Siyabonga: ill be back. He got up and left his wife with us and we all looked at each other to scared to say a word or to even touch her

Avery

I felt Dion hands on me before I even open my eyes to see of it was truly him.

Me: We okay?

Dion: Yes we okay. Go back to sleep.

Me: kamo,we need to warn her.

Dion: Go to sleep Avery. I closed my eyes and welcomed the warm bliss of sleep.

Dion

I looked at Syamkelo.

Me: Kamo?

Syamkelo: my job is to get you guys to safety and go back. Ill call if they any news.

Me: okay. We got in the car and i placed her in than we drove off as heavy rain started and I knew it had to do with Kamo.

Syabonga

I walked out and looked at the boy who was surrounded by my family in the majestic form with fangs out. He looked beyond terrified.

Josh

I moved to the window as the rain was calming down.

Joycelyn: Her hair

We all turned and watched in amazement as her hair turned back to her natural colour of black that if that her colour.

Josh: she alive

Joycelyn: do you think her husband would have left her with us if she was dead?

Josh: You right,we all were going to be dead.

Mrs Vilakazi: My son. I looked at her with pity as we looked out to the scene with her son surrounded by wolves.....

Syabonga

I looked at the young boy and signalled for my family to calm down.

Me: You shot my wife

Boy: Am sorry.

Me: What your name?

Boy: sfiso

Me: how old are you?

Sfiso: 16

Me: your dad was horrible to your mother.

He used to beat her and abuse her and you never did anything. Why shoot my wife?

He kept quiet.

Me: answering me will help me determine if I should let

my family have you for lunch or not.

Sfiso: I was afraid.

Me:and now you shoot the one person who came to help

you?

He looked confused.

Me: Am not going to kill you because I know

when my wife wakes up she will kill me for killing you.

But I need

you to do something for me.

Sfiso: what that?

Me: Make sure that no guns are around anymore and if

anyone else tries to kill my family or my wife.

I'll kill you

without blinking.

He nodded and looked at the angry pack of wolves and

slowly moved picking up guns.

Mondli

I packed up my clothes. The dreams I've been having are too horrible for me to bare anymore. Some days its me

dreaming Kamo husband chopping me up in tiny pieces.

Some days its me being thrown in a fire but the creepiest is having to dream being surrounded by snakes and literally feeling them crawling on my skin. I need to run away and I need to run away fast.

The doorbell rang and I quickly went to check and the door opened and there stood two ladies. One tall and one short that looks like a tiny doll.

Me: how can I help? The tall one threw dust on me and i started coughing and feeling my chest hurting as the stood there and watched.

Short lady: Am Jasmine. Which by nature and a fairy. You hurt my daughter so many times when all she gave you was love. I know she too kind to even touch you but am not. With this powder I want you to hurt Ten times more than she did. I want you to slowly die inside without succumbing to your death. I want you to feel her agony until you go crazy and lastly. May all you touch turn into ashes.

They both laughed some evil laughs and left me coughing and grasping for air. I finally got up drank water and looked out the window.

Me: Who are they? Which daughter they talking about? I scratched my head and came back with a patch of hair and I moved to the mirror and scratched again and patches of hair started falling off as I ran screaming to wash my hair and I looked in the mirror and the woman appeared “ That was for the countless time you pulled her with her braids and patches of hair would come out”

Me: Who?

And the image disappeared from my mirror. I tried to move and my ankle cracked causing pain to shoot up to my leg making me scream. Her voice came from nowhere “ that for stepping on her leg and breaking it when she fell when you strike her. I tried getting up but the pain was to much so I hoped to my bedroom. I really need to get out of her. I called my guards and it kept ringing until one of them picked up.

Me: where the fuck are you guys?

Guard: You fired us boss.

Me: when?

Guard: are you for real? You sent us letters this morning with pins for bank accounts with money apologising for the short notice.

Me: I did no such thing.

Guard: well my family and I are grateful for your generosity.

He hang up. I Tried calling again and nothing. I ran to my computer and punched in the pin and checked to see my accounts and they were empty. Not even a cent was in the. I looked in my offshore accounts it was also zero balance. I felt my head spinning.

“ that my dear was for always flashing your money at her and the power you thought it gave you, let see how powerful are you?” I held my head screaming. Maybe this is just a dream. Maybe if I get in bed and sleep. Ill wake up and It will all end. I threw my clothes on the floor and got in bed and closed my eyes trying my best to sleep.

After many hours of tossing and turning I finally gave in to sleep.

Kamo

I woke up to 3 faces looking in on me and scared little faces from afar. I touched my shoulders and felt that it has healed. I saw the sick lady and felt her pain and I knew she didn't have enough time before she dies from the creature she has in her.

Me: You all going to help me save her. They all nodded yet there was fear in their eyes.

Me: I need towels lots of them. I need lots of warm water and lots of blood. Kill a cow if you have too and I need you to move the mattress to the floor.

Her: but you just been shot, are you okay?

Me: The pain you been feeling is your child trying to eat they way out of you. If I dont do something.

You going to die and your husband will hate that boy. She nodded as everyone listened to my instructions as we prepared to remove a varko vampire out of her...
Goodmorning

Insert 37:

Kamo

I looked at the scared lady in front of me and I knew pushing wasn't going to be an option. The best was for me to go in there.

Me: I think ill need to cut you open.

Mrs Vilakazi: With what?

Me: Ill need a knife.

Joycelyn: maybe i should go to the hospital.

Me: I don't think you understand what you carrying.

The room went silent.

Me: look no matter what it still your baby and you should love him just like any other kid.

Joycelyn: What you mean?

Me: I touched her stomach to get a more clear picture and I quickly moved my hand. How is she going to cope.

How do you tell a person that they son is the devil himself. He has tiny horns. I kept quiet as Joshua walked in and he looked at me just than Siyabonga walked in and I closed my eyes sending the image of the child to him.

He looked at me and shakes his head.

Joshua

I watched the couple and I saw that the communicating and she was hiding something. I walked closer to her.

Me: Is she going to make it.

Kamo: She will. Its the baby am worried about.

Me: what about it.

Kamo: his different.

Me: how? Just than Siyabonga came to me.

Siyabonga: Let give them space. We walked out and sat there

Mondli

I woke up and I couldn't move and I tried to open my mouth felt like a train ran over it and that voice came “ that for when you dislocated her jaw with a bat” then it hit me. This is Kamo doing. Oh my gosh is it true what it said about her husband being a supernatural.

Is it true but two ladies came here not him. What on earth is happening and just then I heard the hissing and I looked down and the floor was covered in snakes and I saw some trying to go up the bed and the voice came through “for using her fears on her. Ifa inja” those were the last words I heard from her as a huge ass snake made it way to me and i closed my eyes as I knew the world was to be an end.

Avery

I woke up feeling much better and I looked around I was in Dion room. He was sitting by the far end.

Dion: Hey

Me: Hi

Dion: how you feeling? I looked at the drip he had of blood inserted on me.

Me: better. Thank you

Dion: its a pleasure

Me: Kamo

Dion: is fine

Me: where she?

Dion: you need to sleep.

Me: am fine

Dion: well relax while you get hydrated again.

I knew he was hiding something from me but i was also

not strong enough so staying in bed was the best thing

that I could do.

Jasmine

Jayla: We close

Me: Am nervous

Jayla: oh please why are you?

Me: I don't know. I feel like she will hate me for leaving her behind all those years and popping up now.

Jayla: oh please. Your daughter doesnt have even a tiny gene of hate. I don't think she knows that it exist. So no she wont hurt you.

Me: what if her husband rips me apart?

Jayla: we talking about the same boy that you help bring to earth?

Me: his an Alpha he has the power to end me

Jayla: am going to turn on the music now. Am in no mood to listen to you do your conspiracy theories about your daughter hating you and your son in law ripping you apart.

Me: Do you think they know?

Jayla: know what?

Me: That kamo is pregnant with a warlock.

Jayla: If you know. Am guessing they know too.

Me: not really. remember when I was pregnant with her you told me and I had no idea.

Jayla: how you know she going to have a warlock?

Me: I saw her in my versions helping a woman give birth to a varko vampire. Jayla hit the brakes hard
and turned
to look at me.

Jayla: and you telling me now!!!!

Me: why you screaming?

Jayla: a destroyer is born and human kind is at risk and

you calm

Me: His different

Jayla: oh do tell

Me: I don't know but his different. I don't know if kamo

has something to do with it but this one is different.

Jayla: I hope so because if not we are all doomed...

Insert 38:

Kamo

I sedated her using herbs then turned to Mrs vilakazi.

Me:I need a favour from you.

Mrs Vilakazi: Yes

Me: I need you to take all the kids out. And if you also have a weak stomach I need you to leave. She nodded.

Just than Philile and Pearl walked in they human form with a smile.

Philile: Siyabonga says you need us.

Me: Its a Varko Vampire.

They were both silent.

Philile: how is that even possible. All Varko babies were killed in the1970

Me: She wasn't. I pointed at the mother.

Joycelyn open

her eyes.

Me: I forgot it doesn't work on you guys

Joycelyn: his going to be like my brother.

Me: Your brother

Joycelyn: was killed when he was four

because he started changing. He had horns. Is my baby going to be like my brother?

I was quiet and I nodded as she cried.

Joycelyn: I can't keep it.

Me: what do you mean?

Joycelyn: you have to kill it.

The shock on my face must have spoke volumes because

I saw Philile and Pearl move back a bot and Siyabonga walked in. I know his connected to his sisters and he can sense they discomfort when they are at unease. He walked in with Joshua. He moved to his wife and held her hand as she was hysterical.

Joshua: shhhh what wrong?

Jocelyn: his going to be like David. The shock in Joshua face was hard to miss.

Jocelyn: we can't keep him.

Joshua looked at me.

Me: Am not killing him. His a baby.

Joshua: his a curse. People will throw us out of here. We can't raise a varko. What about our other kids? David killed 50 men!!!no children not woman, but full grown vampire men and humans and he was only fucken 4 years. You have to kill him.

Me: I hear you. I know it scary but am not killing an innocent child.

Joshua: his a Varko. What innocent about a varko?

Me: your wife is a varko too,has she killed anyone? They both kept quiet.

Me: my point,so will he! Now lie down.

Joycelyn: I rather die than give birth to a varko child. He will have to eat his way out. I felt myself boil and i saw

Siyabonga holding me to calm down.

Me: Ill keep him. You can give birth to him and ill take him out and leave with him and you can live your life and

you never have to see him because that child will not die

in my presence and am not killing him and you are going to give birth to him.

Everyone was silent. I opened up our communication

channel with Siyabonga

“ am sorry”

S- “ its okay, i know you wouldnt let a child die like that.

We will figure it out”

“ thank you”

Joshua: I feel ashamed.

Me: you should be. Now can you guys leave sol can get my son out please. They left and I helped her give birth to a bouncing child.

Me:Do you want to see him?

Jocelyn: his not crying.

He looked at me with the most adorable eyes.

I rolled him

up in a blanket and give him to his mother

were he cried

and I took him back to me and he kept quiet.

Joycelyn: am not a bad person. I cant raise

him.

Me: you know where to find him when you want him back.

I gave him to Philile and helped cleaned her up and stitched her. Being a vampire helped since she was healing already.

Me: we going to leave now. Are you sure you dont want him? She noddod with tears in her eyes and i noddod and left with the child got in the car and we drove off in silence.

Siyabonga: Can I see him?

Siyabonga

She gave me the child and i instantly felt the love. i knew that she did the right thing in keeping him. I looked at his forehead and saw two birth marks on his forehead and I knew it was a passage for his horns.

Me: Siphon

Kamo: Siphon?

Me: That's what we will call him. It's our gift. I know his an
unconventional gift but none the less a gift

Kamo: Siphon. I like it

Philile: you going to raise a varko.

Me: looks that way

Philile: His bite can render us weak for days

Me: I know

Philile: and when you two have kids, what about them

Kamo: his not like the other Varko.

Philile: I hear you and i know you have a kind soul but you cannot change the world. Varko are dangerous. You cannot change it. Its an abomination on it own. You two need to think this through and kill that child because trust me if word spread that you have a varko. Its going to be war

Me: Philile

Kamo

The way he said his sister name meant the conversation was over. The car was silent as she drove us home. I took the baby and went inside.

Siyabonga

Philile: seriously

Me: what do you want me to do Philile? kill an innocent child?

Philile: that no child, that a killing machine that was genetically modified to destroy us. Its was a lab rat.

Me: dont you start with your theories

Philile: You a smart man...Right now you playing with fire.

An going home

Me: Thank you for today. She hugged me and left. I went to Dion. I knocked and he opened.

Me: we back. We have a situation that kind of dangerous.

So for the next two days ill need you away from the house

He nodded and i checked in and saw Avery sleeping. I took a card out and gave it to him.

Me. take her out for two days. Its on me she needs it.

Dion: she knows we hiding something from her.

Avery

I kept quiet as a mouse

Siyabonga: You know how protective she is of kamo. Am not going to tell you what going on becauee I don't want you to lie to her too.

Dion: Thank you.see you in two days

Finale:

2 days later

Kamo

I woke up to find baby Siphos sitting by my bed. This baby is two days old and he's already sitting!! I read somewhere that baby Varkos have rapid growth until they get to a certain age then they stop growing in all. I guess he is one of those. I smiled at him as I picked him up and we walked to the kitchen where I found Avery, Siyabonga and two tall beautiful eccentric ladies.

Me: oh I didnt know we have guest. I smiled at them and one lady was in tears and I was confused.

Tall one: Is that a Varko? She quickly closed her mouth. I looked at Siyabonga confused and he looked away.

Me: am sorry?

Avery looked like she wanted a hole to open up and swallow her.

Me: anyone going to tell me what happening?

Siyabonga: feed the baby and come to the lounge we will talk. He ushered them out and i made the food for Siphon and when done feed him and then walked out with him placed him on the floor and handed him a remote to play with.

Me: am done

Siyabonga: Ill like you to meet someone.

Me: who?

The beautiful lady with pink hair moved forward and she was in tears and the moment she touched me I felt the love and all the memories of her wrap me around like a small blanket.

Me: mama???. The tears choked me and we cried for what felt like hours. Siphon cried too and I had to pick him up before his horns started showing.

Jasmine: You so grown. I laughed at her as she kissed me all over.

Me: I love you. That got her to start crying again and we hugged.

One year later

Kamo

I woke up to my bed wet and I looked around and I was in a puddle. I shifted and just than a cramp came by and I screamed and the door busted open with Siphos and my mom and aunt behind me. Siphos was now a big boy of 16 years in the one year that he was born and was hell of a smart champ.

Sipho: ma

Me: go call your dad I think your brother is on his way. I saw a smile while he dashed out.

Mom: have you packed?

Me: yes am packed.

Mom: let change you to a new gown and night dress

before you leave.

Aunty jayla: ill mix you something to ease the pain.

2 hours later

Kamo: I was holding my baby boy who looked adorable.

He was fast asleep and an splitting image of his father.

He walked in with Siphos and took him from me.

Me: what his name

Siyabonga: why ask me?

Me: you named our first born so its only right you name

our second.

Siphos: Salizwa

I turned and looked at him.

Me: what does it mean?

Siphos: Gift of God

Siyabonga: why gift of God

Siphos: he sent him to the world to fight my battle of life.

For people like me and you

I was shocked i looked at him.

Me: where did you get all this?

Sipho: I found a book in the attic that speaks about you and dad and it says when an Alpha and a witch fairy give birth to their first son they will be amazed by the powers that he will have apart from being a warlock. He is the strongest immortal human on earth. So I thought Salizwa fits him. I stretched my hand for him to come closer and I kissed his forehead where his horns usually pop up with his angry and that always made him blush.

Me: I want you to remember something.

Sipho: what?

Me: you will always be iSipho sami no matter how many kids I have. You will always be that little boy that I feel inlove with the minute I delivered. The little boy that will always be by his brother side no matter what
and that
little boy who will always be the apple of our eyes. I wish I could tell you how much I love you but I hope you see it
and you feel it
Sipho: I feel it and I love you both Siyabonga: staying with you two cheesy people have made me soft. I love you too son. You will always be our pride

and joy.

I wiped a tear away.

Me: Salizwa

Siyabonga: its lizwe Salizwa Musk

Sipho: I like them.

Siyabonga: you can rest. We will be here when you wake up.

5 years later

Kamo

I woke up to the screaming noise and running footsteps. I got up and open the door found 30 year old Sipho. His

been 30 for the past few years and I saw Lizwe in the air

with his wings laughing like a naughty kind that he is.

Sipho: ay ngeke ma this child will be the end of me

Me: am sorry. What are you guys fighting about now?

Sipho: we suppose to be on our way to school and he doesn't want too.

I raised my hand bringing him down and he hid his wings.

That what happens when you have fairy blood in you.

Me: what did mama say about troubling your big brother?

Lizwe: i was just playing with him

Me: apologise please

Lizwe: sorry

Sipho: come let go to school.

They turned and left with Lizwe on his shoulder. I love the bond they have and the love Siphos has for his rascal of a brother. I walked back to my room to find my phone buzzing and I saw it was Siyabonga. I picked up.

Siyabonga: Dion and a bunch of body guards are coming over we packing. I have already told your mom and aunt to pack. It not safe anymore. People know of Siphos existence and they are threatening to come burn him. In 3 hours you should have everything packed and ready.

Me: They going off to school

Siyabonga: stop them. I ran down the stairs with my heart

beating so fast. I found them reversing. I stopped him and he looked at me and I saw his horns starting to grow.

Me: Am fine baby don't!!! It was too late he has already

turned into the full red beast that he was.

Sipho: Am sorry

Me: I know you just protecting me and no need to be sorry. Your horns are growing. I touched them.

Sipho: iv noticed

Lizwe: This is so cool. I want horns too mama.

Me: You dad says we leaving

Sipho: why?

Me: ill explain later

Sipho: its because of me isn't it?

Me: look around you Sipho. We all have powers that humans are afraid of even supernatural beings. Its not you alone its all of us. Now come let pack, your dad will be here soon

New home

Kamo

I looked at Siyabonga and he looked out the window.

Siyabonga: I want them to have a normal life.

Me: They not normal kids

Siyabonga: I know but they can't live in fear for ever.

Me: what do you suggest

Siyabonga: I don't know but I want them to have a normal life that all

Me: we will figure it out

Siyabonga: together

Me: together

..... The end.....
