Our Dark Love by Gracepule

Prologue

They were all pick up from their location and they were told it was an emergency and their life's where in danger and which human being is not scared of danger, so they all agreed and are heading to a safe house in different vehicles and when they reach the safe house after a long car trip and couldn't recognize the place the house is situated but it was a three story building with a private beach so the all arrived and it was the whole family and they still had a lot of questions as to what danger they are in. but to the grandparents it was not that shocking because it was a life the lead before and they had an idea what was going on because they knew about Aloha's other life so it was not shocking and they helped come down the rest of the family to wait to hear from Alutha.

Grandfather:"can you all calm down we are all here as a family and I know it's unusual but I'm sure there is a good reason we are all here and I guess because princess is not here she is the one with the information so let settle down and wait for her to explain" and the brothers all looked shocked of how could princess be involved in all this thing. to them it had to be the Cuban brothers because they too where not here so what their grandfather was saying didn't make sense.

Molemo:"what if she didn't make it here in time and something happened to her? I don't think it's the princess because the peréz brothers are also not her so maybe this danger is after them and it involved us in some kind of way"and the brothers nod their head in agreement because they couldn't imagine the princess in that light. but it seems that they are the only people in the dark because everyone one else in the room knew it might be the princess and right on cue they head cars pulling up the driveway and it seems the time for answers was now and all the peréz brothers and the couple came in and they had looks that could not be read by any of the people in this house and when the mother saw all her kids coming in she lead out a sigh she didn't even know she was holding and said Amen because she knew all her children had a life she did not approve of but as a mother all you can do is love them and hope and pray they change but now she can see they are fine and she really thought marriage and children would change her princess but it seems she is exactly the same if not worse so she will still pray for all their safety.

The whole room has come to silence only the noise of the kids are making happy to see their aunty after a while and the question that follow about the babies in her tummy and how they got there and when did she swallow them. And when the little reunion end she instruct them to the kitchen to find snacks because she knew her husband was always thoughtful when it come to his safehouses to accommodate the family so the kids ran along and it was time to address the pink elephant in the room.

Alutha:"hello family I'm sorry you had to be dragged out of your home for this but it needed to be done I can't explain right now because we are still waiting for the rest of my family to come then we can explain in detail so for now we can settle down and the ladies can go choose rooms you will be occupying for the remainder of you stay" the ladies being her mami,grandma,tshidi,Thandi(tumelo's fiance) mbalenhle(pontso's girlfriend) and her friend Aya who has become part of the family,they all went upstairs like instructed. the Motaung brothers where still not convinced and now suspect their former friend now brother in law had a hand in this since his family was also coming and the cars that the Mkhize family were in drove to the parking garage and the house was full of the both families now and everyone could see this really serious because even both Mkhize sisters and their families where here and Alutha being the good daughter in law welcomed the family and show them where they where sleeping and only come back after making sure her mami and grandma where also settled. the older ladies where all in the kitchen now preparing a meal for both families and the man where having drinks but the tension between all the young man was too much and need to be addressed soon because they are now family.

After dinner and all the kids where put to bed the adults gathered in the lounge waiting for an explanation so Alutha and her husband together with the peréz brothers stood to address them and the Motaung brothers all stole glance amongst each other to confirm their suspensions.

Alutha:"so family the are things you don't know about us but before that we need to be sure telling you this we can fully trust that all we say here will end here so since we have lawyers amongst us they will know what this documents we have here are but for those who don't know these are NDA these are to say anything we say or do here stays in this house stays here and if any of you disclose it you will be in trouble.so family we would like for you to sign them before we proceed"and she hand them the papers after going through them and it is just standard NDA and they all sign them and hand one of the youngest peréz brother the contracts "so why are they not signing them because we are all equal here"asked Tumelo and the brothers just looked at him with blank expression"I will explain abuti"says Alutha.

Alutha:"so family now that is out of the way what I'm going to say might shock some of you if not all me and my husband together with my brothers are a part of the Cuban mafia and we are very dangerous people but we have kept that under control with my brothers here as the face of my organisation back in Cuba and my husband works independently without a team many know him as GH....." She didn't even finish the sentence and the were gun drawed at them from her grandfather"you son of bitch thought you could get way with this right? this was you plan all along to sleep with my baby and be close to me and I would not find out" ghost just stood there unfaced by all of this meanwhile the ladies in the room were on the floor the only people who where still standing where ghost,Alutha,the peréz brothers, Ntate moshimane(Alutha's father)and both her grandparents but everyone was on the floor and the old man seen ready to kill because this was the person he has been looking for years without success and now he is standing there but also the father of his great-grandchildren. Alutha:"papa can you please put the gun down you are scaring the people in this room papa and I also want to know what is going on here papa:"WHAT GOING ON HERE IS THE FACT THAT YOU ALUTHA IS SLEEPING WITH MY BIGGEST ENEMY THAT WHAT IS GOING ON HERE AND I CAN'T BELIEVE YOU DIDN'T TELL ME WHO HE IS AND THIS WHOLE TIME HE HAS BEEN WORMING HIS WAY IN MY FAMILY,AND I WILL NOT LET THIS DEVIL NEAR MY FAMILY I WOULD RATHER DIE FIRST" he shouted and ghost was still not faced by all this because if he wanted to kill him he would have done it by now.

Ghost:"would you calm down old man you will give yourself a heart attack"he say that to the every angry man with a gun and that just fuels his anger but when he glanced at his princess he sees something he thought he could never see. his own blood ready to kill him for his worst enemy and he knows Alutha more than the people in this room so the look in her eyes says it all and that just makes him sad because it took a lot for a man like him to be sad. What make him even more sad is that this here is his heir the only person to carry his legacy after he is gone and it doesn't matter that she is a girl his name will never die as long as she is alive that for sure and that person is looking at him will a nothing but death even after he told her who this man is and he knows right there she is will never be separated from this devil called ghost and that makes him very sad so he drops his gun and Alutha notice the change of emotions from him and she rushes to his side to try and assure him of her love and loyalty because he is the only person who support her dreams and she can't afford for him to be broken especially now that the enemy is out for her family she need to fix this but he just turns to leave and his wife follow after him because she has never seen her husband like this and Alutha goes on following them leaving everyone with so much questions and and a seed of doubt in the Mkhize family in what kind of a person their son took as his wife and mother of his kids excusing the fact their own son is also in the Mafia.

I follow them to the room because I need to assure this old man that he is my rock and nobody can replace him in my life but what happened to in there was just crazy I know ghost has a lot of enemies and it was a possibility that the leader of African mafia would be one of them but for him to threaten to kill him like that and you all know how possessive death is when it comes to ghost that's why she made an appearance but this is not the time for us to fight amongst ourselves we need each other and I need him so much right now because I don't know who is the enemy now and I also have trust that ghost will sort this mess out my babies can't born to these danger.

When I get to the room I find ma leaning on his knees I guess she is trying to calm him down and I don't think he is still upset but I think he is just sad and I'm the reason because his code is family above all so this here is his breaking point Imagen your heiress willing to stand against with the enemy but the thing is he is family too and I know that ass ghost knew about this and he never mentioned it to me but I will handle that one later now I need to charm my way back in this king's heart I say king because he is my king I love this old man.

Me:I signal ma to excuse us and she stands and pats my shoulder on her way out and I go to where she was and I sit on his lab because I can't go on my knees I'm heavily pregnant for goodness sake I put my arm around his neck and he puts his around my waist and I know not all hope is lost because he has acknowledged my presence I knew this action was going to soften him up he is a girl's dad anyway"I'm sorry if her actions hurt you it was not my intentions you know I subscribe to your code and it has become one of the many codes I leave by but you have to understand that he is my husband and yes I knew he was ghost and I didn't say anything because it was not my secret to disclose so as a good partner I kept his secret like he did with mine and you never told me he was your enemy WHY"and now I can tell my husband's name get his blood boiling the hate is visible.

Pa:"you know I have never been hurt like this before because I never give anyone except my wife the opportunity to do so and I let my guard down with you because you are my heiress for goodness sake but now that this day has come I don't know how to deal with the pain and that asshole married you knowing that is what is pissing me off and now I get why we are all here because I'm also a part of the people who are after him and now i brought the enemy home unknowingly so do you get where my angere comes from.

Me:but Ntate you didn't know and we can deal with this you know it's only a matter of time until the know about me and the babies so please help me fight this danger that is at my door and we can deal with everything else later what I need now is Leo the leader not Lenard Motaung my loving grandfather okay"I say to him and I know with this speech I can get him to do anything because once a mafia boss it never leaves you.

Pa:"okay baby and I'm only doing this for you and my babies not that ass and please make sure he stays out of my way because I will not be held liable for what I might do to him"you know I would love to hear the story behind the hate but for now let me get out of his hair.

Me:"I promise he will stay away and you will be working directly with me"I assure him and I stand up after kissing his cheek and he gives me a dashing smile"okay let me go and talk to Sean he has been quiet since I got here and it's unlike him"and he nod and I go to find Sean and he seem fine but I know him better"so young man tell me what really eating at you"I give him a look that says I'm not leaving her without an answer.

Sean:well I guess there is no one that knows me better than you so sometime ago I met these girl and I know she is the love of my life but she is nothing like the woman I'm used to. she arrogant and I know she can change but her drama is just too much you know the last time she got to my apartment and found that I was not there she literally tracked my phone till she found me and when she did she said I'm smelling of sex mind you I'm at work so now I'm embarrassed at work because I have a crazy girl friend and she gets mad when I don't introduce her to my "friends"and that being you and Aya because she also find it hard to believe I don't have friends and you know I can't introduce her to ma and pa because well she is crazy but right now my biggest issue is that I'm here and she has no idea where I am and I'm worried what she might do if I don't reach out and I can't do that because I will be putting the family at risk so there you have it" well he is in a bit of a jam and I need to help him or he will be like this the whole time and I need his expertise for the mission ghost is going on.

Me: "okay buddy I'm not sure how I can help but I will try what's her name" siphosethu Hlophe and she is clean I checked" he answers and I just nod "but you know right now I can't afford you like this so snap out of it and let's work we have a real threat coming our way" he nod and I stand to leave I'm ju..."thank you for lending me your ear even when you are going through so much yet you make time for me thanks sis" and I just nod going out so where was I? oh I'm just asking myself how this whole leaving arrangement going work because I know the Mkhize family probably back to hating because I put their precious son in danger and that danger being my grandfather. so I head there to manage the situation because it need damage control.

When I get down the first floor I can see they are still shocked and you can tell because they are sitting in a group like their lifes are in immediate danger well this family is very dramatic and I'm sure that ass I call a husband left without putting their minds at ease" hao bomme you are not in your rooms resting pela it's late n you are supposed to be sleeping by now" and they give me a bad eye this woman act like kids really that why ghost just left them here" how can we sleep when we don't know if we will wake up with all this danger in our sons house I mean he almost die just now I'm sure he is praying to his ancestors to protect him" says mashandu like really he almost died wow this man need to come here and deal with his family because I'm tired mina" ma Bheki will come and explain what happened just now but for now I need to make sure you are comfortable okay so please go to your rooms and we will come and explain this" and I see the man nodding so I guess they understand where I'm coming from with this issue and they stand to go sleep so now I can check on my mami because I know she has questions I mean it's very hard being me because now I'm going up and down assuring people because this is my house and my mess so I go to the second floor to check on the kids it's only us and the kids in this floor and it has a cinema and kitchen play room and when I find all of them sleeping I go down the elevator to ground floor to check on my parents and all the elders rooms are here but further down in the East wing so when I get near her room I hear giggles and I think I know what is going on here and I'm glad I caught them in the act so I knock and it goes silent and I hear come in and she is laying in bed alone SMH these two are way to old for this" mami I thought you had company I hear voices" and she shake her head shying away" voices no Hijo I'm alone maybe it's the TV" I just glare at her taking a sit on the ottoman because I don't know what was happening on that bed" DAD JUST COME OUT YOU ARE TOO OLD FOR THIS HIDING IN THE CLOSET PLEASE COME OUT" and my mom hides her face with her hand and he comes out from the walk in closet with his tail between his legs

"we are all adults here I have known about you two for a while now so stop this hiding because you are really bad at this sneaking around because even the boys know about you we are just waiting for you to tell us,I came here to check on you so since you made my job easier by finding you together and I see you are fine I will leave good night parents"I say already at the door leaving going to the basement because that's where the crew and my husband are working so I go to find them.

Bhekokwake Mkhize

I have been here for a while now trying to break through this firewall and I'm not winning this is all frustrating because I have a family now I can afford to act like a loose cannon. but I have a couple of leads and the first is Santos and Leo (grandfather in law) they both share one thing in common and that is not letting go and this always pisses me off is gangsters that bring emotions to the game and you know that why we are in this pissing game with the both of them about things that were pure business that went sour but Leo would not do that especially since hurting me would be hurting himself because I love and married his heiress so I put him aside and I focus on Santos he is still acting bitchy because I refuse to eliminate DEATH and he doesn't even know DEATH is my only weakness that comes with a lot of weakness because believe it or not my wife might seem tough and deadly but she has a lot of weakness and that makes her different from me and it gets very difficult for me because she is my only weakness and because we are one her weakness are mine as well so now it falls on me to be the man and put my foot down and because she is at her most valuable because of the babies although if push came to shove DEATH will take care of them even if it kills her that how much I trust her and also this minions here in my layer they are a loyal bunch you would swear they are blood siblings to my wife with the loyalty they present all four of them think, talk the same and work together like well oiled machine and I wish I had that when I was starting out it would have spared me a lot of headaches along the way because these siblings are everything you would wish for in siblings. and then comes my beautiful pregnant wife and I can see she is tired and annoyed and the annoyed part comes from her newly found weakness the Mkhize family and I know she will complain soon because they are handfull she walks like a Pinguin now because of the pregnancy and it's weird because her tummy is so flat but the big nose and boobs are evident that she is pregos now she goes and kisses all these idiots and they're smiling bathing in my wife's love looking at her like the only thing on God's earth these boys really love and respect her like she is the eldest even the older one and the respect goes both ways with them. its only now she remembers she is married wow the wife's we have SMH.

Me: when she reaches me she is breathing heavily but I spot a little worry and I know it's because all her loved ones are in one place so if they find us it would be deadly for all of us" don't worry mama I will never let that happen ok"she nods with a lot of reservation"you trust me right"I ask so that I'm sure she will let me take of things and she come closer and lays her head on my chest and I have my answer so I kiss the top of her head"okay mother of monsters let's get to work because I keep hitting this firewall and my answers are here and she breaks the hug and goes to the monitor and stare at it for while like she is thinking of something before turning to me"I might have just the person to help you" I give her pazzled look when she reaches for the house lines that goes to every room and dial the specific room number"come to the basement.....yes you will see it"and we are now all looking at her to see which miracle she has come up with because I don't remember anyone better than me with computers in this house and after a while we hear foot steps and along comes Sean her nerdy and quiet cousin this boys looks too good to be a nerd I'm telling you okay let me give you a picture he looks like those Sicilian man just the Black version and it's just weird that he is a nerd "oh guys you all know him as my cousin only Manuel knows what this guy here mean to me he is my go to person with everything even work so in a way he is DEATH'S secret weapon meet Eagle the hacker but don't call him that just Sean will do"she says like she just introduced a nobody and I have been trying to hire this guy for my company for awhile now and I always hit a break wall in finding him and he only works anonymously I mean this guy

one hacked NASA, FBI and CIA just to name a few he has affiliation with Boko Haram and Al Shabab as clients and he is here wow I mean one of the few people I respect in the game"so buddy do your thing hubby here has been trying to get through that firewall"and he just nod and gets to work and the idiots are just star struck by him and well so as I.

Sean:"well it looks like you made quite a mess of things because you are now under the FBI most wanted and the only good thing about it is that you know how to cover up your work identity well I know this because you come as highly recommend but that all now falls at your disadvantage because those recommendations are now all your enemies are they want you out because it seem you know where most bodies are buried so that why you are R.E.D(Ru ruthless and extremely dangerous) right now but not to worry I have delayed them for now sent the them on a wild goose chase in Brazil and you know how these agents the are like a dog to a bone for a good arrest so now the real work begins and please remember I don't do bullet that your thing my work end here in this room okay " well it's only now I get the severity of the danger I put my family in because I'm not just looking at one enemies but all my previous clients after me and that means I will have to pull some serious strings and my wife might hate me after this"so this means what exactly?"asks my wife and I know by just a look she knows what we are facing and she wants confamination and right now I need her to trust me"it mean the will be blood rain before we see a rainbow sis"that him giving it to her like it is"well I might have the guys to help you but it might mean more harm than good and it might open you eyes to the most dangerous and mythical world you never thought existed I mean thing made from fairy tales i tell you but that will be our last resort right you need papa and it seem someone made an enemy of him as well"he says looking at me and I have a hate love for the kid not like this idiots next to my wife that seem to have scammed their way in my heart this one here is yet to be decided"don't worry buddy pa is on board we had a talk earlier"he nods and she smiles.you know I married good I tell you my wife represent a few respect woman in the world she has gained respect by just being herself and I really like her when she is being her self she love hard and that is one of her strongest traid because people just love and respect her naturally not like me the fear me more than respect me so she is the right fit for me.

Me:"thanks man you really came through for me because I don't know how I would have known that if it wasn't for you expertise"I say shaking his hand he has my respect "so he does know how to humble himself wow how the mighty have fallen"says the idiot José and they all bust out laughing you know this one thinks we are in a competition for my wife"SO YOU ARE BUSY HOSTING A COMEDY CLUB WHEN MY WHOLE FAMILY IS SQUASHED IN ONE HOUSE LIKE SARDINES"and the whole room goes quiet you can hear a pin drop and that can only be the big bad Leo and only my wife is not scared of this man because she goes and gives him a kiss on the cheek and I see all the wall fall he bring he in for a hug and a kiss on the forehead "no pa we are working and we have made a few good leads tell him buddy"and he looks at Sean"oh yes just the Man I wanted pa remember you old friends in the mountains we need them now

can that be done?"and he gives him an unexplainable look and I think it's maybe fear"well thing can't be that bad that we need them"and he exclaimed hard "code red?"he asks and Sean nods and with that he come and punch me and that hurts like hell this old man has a mean right hook "get the message to them son we have alot going on so let's get to work you princess you go and rest remember you are carrying precious cargo "he says to her and she nods and we go out together because I need to tuck her in she is my wife after all"let me put her to bed the I will join you guys thanks again Sean"and he nods and we leave and I'm glad this house has an elevator because it would be hard for her going up those stairs with the monsters in her tummy.

Me:"mama you need to trust I will do anything and everything to protect you guys from thread right?"and she looks at me with the most loving eyes ever and just melt that this person really loves me and I kiss her lips like I never did before and responds to it and it gets heated fast and in no time our clothes are all over the room and only our breathing you can head in the room and I reach my hand to her moist nuna and she is ready for me so I put my member on her entrance and slide in slowly and the warmth is some thing I would never explained it is an out of body experience and I would die here"aaahhhh baba that feels so good"and I know that permission to move and I give her my most slowest and hard thrust and she is in a world of her own and that does wonders to my ego so I thrust deeper"oh.....yes... that's it Ahhhh...fuck come on my sex God give it to me ...Ahhhh thats...so goodoh my god I love you so much"and she cums hard and after a few strokes I follow suite and now we are both breathing hard and I carefully slide out going to the ensuite for a towel to clean us up and when I get to the room she is sleeping in the same position I left her in SMH she really was exhausted from the day from hell we had.so I clean her up and tuck her in bed and kiss her forehead before leaving the room to join the man.

We have been at work all night trying to clean this mess and it seems having this team a has come in handy and I have to say again thank you to my forefathers for the wife they gave me because this is all her team and they did most of the heavy lifting and I now have the names of people after me and I'm a afraid the have brought death at their doorstep because I will not let this go unpunished it's a betrayal to a very old code of honour amongst thieves but I will safe one for last because I'm going to enjoy this one Santos because it will be in honour of DEATH because she is still unavailable right now so that one will be for her"so I guess gentlemen from here on wards it's on me because I'm not letting them get away with plotting to kill me and therefore putting my whole family at risk I smell blood"

Leo:"what pisses me off about you ghost is that you have zero loyalty,you only look out for self and enjoy shedding blood. somethings require you to monitor them from afar and not act"he say with a disgust look on his face.

Me:"well Leo it's both a curse and a blessing because I would kill and die for what's mine that includes your family aswell"I tell him and he shakes his head not losing the look on his face.

Leo:"Imagen having a blood thirsty beast as a son wow Hai Alutha really dealt with me on this one my very own heiress I think this a punishment for all the wrongs I did in the world"he says going out living me with these idiots and Sean of course because you can even forget he is in the room the way he is so quiet so I go to him "so what are you doing here so quiet" I say because he has been clued on the piece of paper in his hands and it's only now I see it's a drawing of a woman.

Sean:"and you know how to rattle his cage right " he signals Leo with his head and I just chuckle"well he like it when I do that and I guess the past never really goes away so based on our past we might never get along so who is she?"he take a look at the pictures and goes back to glaring at the wall"she is important"he say more like he is making a statement"you know from what I know about you it's known that you are not very sociable but I guess the sources were wrong because you are sociable you have talking since I got here, and except for your intimidating look and your reputation you don't seem bad as they make you out to be"and I think about it for while and his observations is wrong and who ever is the source is right I hate people and he just has the kind of aura I fuck with it is dark but not heavy so the is light to him it's only his mind that is dark just like mine "well that being with a person like your cousin can do wonders to a lonely heart you find yourself living life to enjoy it and not just to exist"and at the mention of Alutha he lights up "well that true she a jam that one you got one in a million you are a lucky man I tell you some of us can only hope" so this is about a woman "so why is she not here if she is as important as you say she is?"I ask in reference to the woman in the picture "man it's complicated she is different and this here would freak her out" and now I why this life is not for everyone "so different good or bad and I suppose she doesn't know about Eagle right" he nod and I feel so lucky when I met Alutha she was already in this world so telling her was not a problem at all "well a mixture of both good and bad but very clean and I think she has the most captivating presence ever so she is not made for this other lifestyle I live" okay this is difficult situations he finds himself in so I just pat him on the shoulder and that one thing I don't do it's human contact so this means he is special that I'm comfortable with touching him and with that i leave the room to join my wife in bed.

Molemo Motaung

As an older brother I'm concerned about my younger siblings all the time but with princess it's like she purposely takes away every role I play in her life and as brother it doesn't feel nice because for a long time I have always been a go to person to my siblings it's in me and I like it like that but with princess it's different she has this life thing on lock down and it's even worse now she married the only person who understood me, so now I have to run around like a headless chicken trying to figure out when she will need me but she also has another person doing my job and it's that boy Manuel she goes to him about everything and she became shocked when I'm not very welcoming with those boys she is our little sister but now they have completely taken over from us that my problem. I even need to ambush her with a sibling meeting just to see her I really need to address this but not with the brothers just the two of us so since it's morning and it seems like all the important men in her life are sleeping because they were all up the whole night doing things that are not so legal and it seems my dad is okay with this whole thing because when I tried talking to him about this life she leads he said "molemo my son please talk to your sister because I feel like my wife is not at peace because her womb has been divided in to two and that was always her biggest fear because of the age gap so please try reaching out to know the kind of person the last fruit of you mother's womb is" so today I'm having this conversation with her when I get to the kitchen I find the woman who own my heart busy I'm sure she is making breakfast and I know that she is pissed because in our house everyone is incharge of their own breakfast we are okay with cereal so here she has to be a daughter in law and accommodate everyone and she hate house chores with a passion,she is a complete slay queen I tell you and that one of the things I love about her she has never been anything else since I met her she made it clear to me that if I'm in love with her like I say then I will have to deal with the fact that she doesn't clean or cook but her job is to look nice always and I loved her ever since but my family is not a fan but mom is very nice to her and she like her just the way she is and they are very close that one of the things that made me call her mom she is a complete mother to all my siblings.so I go to her and give her a hug from behind "morning my king you are up well I'm glad so that you can help me with this big breakfast for every one in this darm house you know I never liked you sister she has always rubbed me the wrong way but what she said last night made me her biggest fan like she is a complete boss bitch and I fuck with that not that pretentious perfect little miss doctor from Cuba I hated that bitch but this one well she is queen I tell you. plus she gave me a mini vacation nyana and this house is to die for so later we are going use that private beach because it looks so neglected so I will use it and it's a bonus you don't have to work" and did I mention she can talk for all of Africa and my little princess took after her with this loud mouth so I turn her around to face me and kiss her and she respond "good morning my queen how are this morning okay you don't have to answer that I can tell you are okay and yes we can adopt the beach it's not like we can do everything in this prison and I'm glad you like her now because one of us has to because she is not my favourite person right now and I need an agent meeting with her about this life, because I liked the doctor from Cuba" I say and she turns to switch off the stove and she pulls me to the foyer I guess she need to talk to me because she find a sit and she sits me down and sits on my lap and because this is how we usually have our serious talks I know she is about to make sense.

Tshidi: "so my king you know she is a grown woman with her own family right?" and she begins

Me: "I know love but she is also my little sister and I feel she has also forgotten that because since she came from Cuba she has completely changed and I don't like it one bit"

Tshidi:"you don't like it because she grew from needing to be helped by all of you with everything or you don't like it because you feel like she doesn't need you guys anymore?" Here goes the sence I was talking about

Me:"what is the difference between the two because she is never too old to need her brothers" I defend

Tshidi:"I feel like you guys feel like she replaced you guys with the chicos and that why you are all so hostile to them and you are all wrong they have a place in her life and you guys also have a place it's just that you are too quick to judge her because according to you guys she has always been your responsibility but that is your dad's job not yours and he seems fine with it so what is wrong with you guys?"

Me:"you don't understand she is the baby of the family the very youngest and we helped raise her and it seems she has forgotten all that because we are always the last to know what goes on her life and that get me worked up an...."THAT IS A LIE AND YOU KNOW IT" we both turn to find her standing there with tear in her eyes so my beautiful wife to be excuses us and I signal her to come closer and she comes and sits where tshidi was sitting and she breaks down and I try to comfort her but she keeps crying "WHAT THE FUCK DID YOU DO TO HER NOW? SHE WAS FINE JUST A MINUTE AGO YOU ASSHOLE MADE HER CRY" says hulk coming in for the rescue and she jumps in his arms like I was not comforting her just now little traitor. they have a moment and she has stopped crying and he kisses her lips eyes and nose that he wiped with his shirt so now I can see that this idiot is whipped because guys hate germs and for him to do that is a big deal. So now that she is back on my lab and hulk has left it means we can talk.

Her: "so you think I don't appreciate you guys and I'm selfish?" she asks in a breaking voice and that breaks Mr heart.

Me: "well to some extent yes I think that because you have totally forgotten about us and you make decisions about your life alone now and I feel we don't have use in your life's now that's why we have to sign NDA'S to know your secrets".

Her: "well you never took interest in my life all you guys do is to dictate to how things should be in my life. and quite frankly you guys don't involve me in your lives too and I also don't know what's happening in your life and even way back you guys did that and I used to know what you guys were doing because you had to inform papa and I was joined at the hip with him".

Me:"well I didn't know that but you know somethings we could not discuss with you because you were a baby to understand".

Her:"and yet I understood when you told papa because he took time explain everything you just shoved me to the side like a last thought and you know I never had friends growing up and you continued living your life with no concern about how I dealt with teenage problems and your excuse was she is not a trouble some teen so we don't have to worry about her"

Advertisement

Me:"but you were not trouble growing up so that why it shocks us that you are always involved in so trouble now"

Her:"you know I have never met your girlfriends like your little I'm supposed to be your go to person about such things but you all denied me the opportunity that why I ended falling for your friend because I didn't know your people and that why I don't get along with you girlfriend/fiance because I don't think she is good for you because I judge her from a distance and I don't know your type to judge clearly"

Me:"okay I guess we are both in the wrong here but I also have a problem that you trust Manuel and them more that us and we are the last to know about things".

Her:"well that is because you guys are judgemental and you would dismiss me before I finished the word mafia and with them it's easy Manuel I have stronger bond with him because he trained me, as difficult as it was to him he put his reasons aside and trained me and during that training he would beat me us so bad that I wouldn't be able to move for weeks just to prove how I was not made for this life and each time he felt I enjoyed the life he would have me beaten up so I can quit and do you know what he did the time I tried smoking he got all his friends to offer me a smoke in most awkward places and I made a decision to stop. so he didn't make a decision that I should stop but he gave me a chance to choose if I want to be hoe or a lady and he never mentioned it once to me instead Luis is the one that told years later. so you guys are doing this brother role wrong because you think you can dictate to me like I'm a two year old and I'm a wife now and a mother to be, and I just felt it's too late to educate you guys".

Me:"so basically we suck as brothers" and she laughs out loud

Her:"pretty much and it suck because I love you we come from the same womb for goodness sake".

She says sulking and I'm glad we had this talk because I feel mom would have smacked all our head for not being close that was a thing for her because she was an orphan.

Her:"just for for example why did you break you longest friendship? Because I dated him? and you still haven't reached out even today and you even fail to see he does need you as his only friend you are too blinded by pride to see he is not okay.and it's not like he corrupted me he found me a mess".
Another point because I also don't have friends outside my brothers he was my go to person for everything and just to be honest he treats her like a golden egg and that all I wanted for a person she would end up with.

Me:"okay you made your point I will have a talk with him and this is what I always wanted for him anyway and to have our kid to grow together so I'm really happy he found his peace with you".

Her:"we dear brother let me go look for my husband he needs to make us food because I saw your slay queen making food and I can't put my kids in danger like that". She says laughing and I shout PRACTICE WHAT YOU PREACH LESS JUDGING and I guess the peréz brothers saw her they all come to greet her with kisses and the respect they show her resonate even from an outsider I wonder why I never saw it before? okay my ego got in the way. So I go have breakfast and my wife is still slaving in the kitchen and the couple are Ingrossed on each with Bheki making weird food for her I mean who eat avocado mixed amasi"you asshole want to kill my babies what's that you are making" I say hugging my wife and I whisper in her ear "you know you don't have to do this" and she gives me a boy bye look and I focus on the couple and they make such a cute couple shame "why are you staring at us idiot haven't you seen people in love before" and I just chuckle at that because that means we are good now "well what I don't get it why did the people in love didn't get a chef because some of us are not made for this life" and that would be my crazy wife tired of playing the perfect Makoti "you really didn't have to do it mami could have done it or the Mkhize ladies they are very domesticated I tell you while I burn even an egg but I can kill a man in my sleep so don't beat yourself up we are all good at different things" and this one talks about killing people like it's drinking coke "so tell me how does it feel I mean killing someone, and how do you apply for such a job maybe I could kill at it don't you think so my king". and she is putting crazy ideas I'm my woman's head and they are laughing at my shocked face when she asked such questions "just join my security Academy for that no need for applications" and she continues "so that what the school is for Jesus Alutha princess Mta.... Mkhize I know we just spoke about this now but Jesus you are making more of you even those nice innocent girls I saw when I went for a tour. Hai! you are going straight to hell I tell you" I say this pulling my wife leaving the kitchen but she seems interested in this whole conversation.

Aya

She has taught herself that life is never what it seem that why she makes the decision she makes about her life. To her when something doesn't serve the purpose its supposed to she lets it go and she has lived with this rule all her life that why she left her ex,she found that love was not enough when it come to relationship respect and other aspects come to play as well so she left before it got messy because she does not do messy ever. so that why this whole thing with Lesego it's confusing because she has known him for years because he is her bestfriend brothers and Alutha is not just a friend to her she is her sister she has played a huge role in her life and since she is an orphan she usually feels lonely but not with Alutha she went to Cuba and come back with the world's best mother for all of them because that Alicia peréz is. she is God's gift to earth she plays the mother role so effortlessly you can tell that this is her purpose in life.so back to Lesego they were both picked up at her apartment because they have been sleeping together and it all started this one crazy night of clubbing with her ex and a couple of friends and yes she is friends with her ex because again she doesn't do messy so the breakup was peaceful so they stayed friends.so Lesego was there at the club on the day in question he was there with his brothers because they are more friends than brothers so when he met her losing her step near the toilet he took it upon himself to take her home because she was more like a princess to him he could never have left her there so that when things took an unexpected turn, she kissed him when they got to her apartment and that the first time he saw her as a woman not this forward teen she was when they first met and the opportunity to see her as one was never afforded to him because she was his baby sister best friend so the kiss took him by surprise but not her. She said after kissing him "I have always... wanted to do that... they look so juicy" and indeed the kiss was none like he has ever had so he kissed her again which led to a whole night of passion and that night turned into a full day of 'getting it out of their system' because this was never happening again and that when they were told their lives were in danger so maybe it was a good thing they were together because it made things easier for the team that was sent to pick them up.

So now she finds herself in a predicament because it seems he has not left her system because of sneaking up in her room in the middle of the night and because everyone is so focused on Alutha and her mafia husband well that was not such a shocker Alutha has always given gangster vibes since she came back so and the fact that Bheki was the one she lost her virginity to back in Cuba was completed gangster love vipes, so back to Lesego who is cuddling her since the early hours of the morning and he is being an ass like usual moaning about how Bheki corrupted his baby sister and frankly this thing is redundant to say the least.

Les:"that friend of yours will be the death of us I'm telling you" to tell you the truth this brothers are narcissistic I tell you so Alutha can't be anything if it does not align with how they see her.

Aya:"Les can we please stop talking about my friend now. Alutha is a big girl and she can handle this life and she and her husband seem to have this on a lockdown and I really think you guys should let it go now it's has reached its expiring date now let her make the mistake she is so young she will learn from them. What I want to know is what are you still doing here because we said no cuddling it complicate things". And he squeezed himself even more into me.

Les:"well I like you Aya and I just realised I can never get you out of my system so I'm not doing it I will be here until you see the light and maybe one day we can be more than this.

Aya:"what do you mean I can't have a player as a boyfriend I'm too old to be mothering an old man or to try and train you to be perfect for me and that why I'm single. I'm a perfectionist in all aspects of life so my partner should be close to that and Wena bhuti are not it. you might like the idea of being with me but I promise it's not going to work no matter how good you are between the sheets so no it's not going to happen". Well that might seem a bit harsh but I'm being honest he is the only one without a stable girlfriend between the brothers and he has a kid.

Les:"that's unfair you are judging without knowing me and what I stand for and quite frankly I'm offended by your assumptions because I have a reason for me to stay single and yes I do fool around because somethings need to be taken care of but I will not expose my child to different woman because my parents were a very good example to me and I know my mom would rise from the grave if I become anything less than, so sisi you won't have to "mother or train" me because I have a mother and I'm not a dog that needs training I'm just a single dad that is raising a daughter and trying to provide her with the most normal childhood because the world has dealt her bad set of cards by having a fucked up mother and I'm compensating that by being the best dad to her that she never lacks. so yes I play around a lot because I haven't found my one and today when I saw you with her feeding, helping to tie her shoes I thought now that's what I want for her and you are already it for me so keeping you made sense". Wow keeping me just wow I have never met a more self absorbed person in my life, you know most of the things he said are nice and good qualities to have in a partner and yes the little princess is so perfect but Hai! I give up on this one so I was a decision he took based on how I fit in his life wow. I get out of bed without saying anything go to the ensuite to clean and I put on my bikini to clear my mind at the beach "so now you are going to leave while we are discussing our future" this man is an ass I tell you so I leave without even looking at him.

This house is beautiful and I can see it in my future and it seems everyone is doing their own thing. it is a lot of people in this house but there is privacy because the house has space so instead you feel like you are in a hotel, I'm at the beach watching the wave and I can't help but think where I'm going with my life yes I have a great job and I'm doing well for myself but this can't be it.... "Penny for your thoughts" a voice pulls me out of my introspection and when I turn I find my very pregnant friend she doesn't look pregnant but the nose and hips say it all

Me: "I will take one of those millions in your bank account Mrs Mkhize. I like calling her that since she got married and she loves it. she slowly walks next to me and try and sit "no don't sit let's rather take a walk it's good for my babies" so I stand ready to walk.

Her:"I have been looking to talk to you about my announcement and the NDA to try an....."you don't have to explain anything I know you trust me but even I would have made you sign it so we are cool" I say before she explained any further.

Her:"okay I know you what's up?" She is right she knows me better than anyone.and the fact that when her life and family were in danger she thought of me says a lot about our relationship so I trust her.

Me:"well it's a guy and he is a narcissist before anything so I should put it out there be for I say anything so yeah we kind of hooked up one night that turned into one full day of goood tlof and he told me not so long ago that he is 'keeping' me because I'm good with his kid so yeah". And she laughs out loud and I punch the side of her arm just a bit joining her in laughter.

Her:"that...sounds like one of my dick head brothers you know I think there is something wrong with those boy.....no Aya it can't be one of my brothers oh my gosh Aya" she says after looking at me while talking and I guess the look on my face sold me out when she mentioned her brothers.

Me:" well it kind of happened and the dick decided to ruin the moment by being himself" she has her eyes wide open and I think she is shocked at the possibility of me fucking her brothers because I have always said I don't like any of them. "Which one?and to think those dicks gave me a hard time because I was dating their friend wow" "it's Les" I just blurb it out waiting for her to go crazy but that would be out of character for her but you can never know with pregnant women.

Her:"Hai ke le wena you had to go for the biggest ass of all that one I wouldn't recommend even to my worst enemy he is never been in a relationship as far as I know and you are right Lesego is a narcissist okay come down Alutha and I'm trailing off so he said he is keeping you how?"

Me:"well it was this morning after he sneaked in my room last night and when I woke up this morning I wake up cuddled on his chest and I ask him when is he sneaking back out because he seems to forget that we are just a casual fucks.he is just said 'I like you and I saw how good you are with Lesedi and I decided to keep you' " and I continue telling her what happened after that and her mouth is on the floor.

Her:"well that's a lot. well you know he has a point. he has been a very good role model to the child. And you my friend are a walking red flag and I'm just being honest". I really can't argue with that because I'm always the first person to notice red flags in the opposite gender and that is a red flag on its own. so I get where she is coming from with that so I nod in agreement.

Me:"Well my friend the thing is I think I like Les it's just I won't admit it to myself and yes I like it when he is being his obnoxious self and I don't know how deal with that because I like his flaws more than his perfections".

Her:"well I suggest you talk to his about his future plans and if they line up with yours then you can work on this thing and maybe it's a good thing he is keeping you for Lesedi she does need females in her life I know how that affects can affect a child".she is making more sence and I hate it.

We have been out here for a while now so the best thing is to take Bheki's wife back to him before he complains. And as we are walking in there are man in traditional Sesotho blankets walking in with papa(Alutha's grandfather) and I'm so scared from what I have head of the people who wear this blanket, I'm scared they have a very bad reputation and so I let my girl go join them and i retire to my room because that where people are maybe I was the one who missed the memo.

Papa;"litumeliso Beng ba ka le amohelehile ke kopa le ntatele ka nqa ena" (greetings gentlemen welcome please follow me these side)

Gentlemen1:"rea leboha(thank you)and we all follow them down to the basement and my grandfather pulls me aside"princess this is the big leagues so right here is break or make if you get these man to respect you they will be your allies not because it's your birth right but because you earned it okay knock them dead)

Papa:"ka hona Bahlomphehi bana ba ka mona ke bana ba ka,ba iphumana ba le bohlasoa ke ka hona re leng teng kaofela" (so gentlemen these here are my kids and they find themselves in a bit of mess that's why we are all here)

Gentlemen1:"malome oa hao o ile a romela tšoarelo ea hae o ile a tšoaroa" (your uncle sent his apologies he got held up)

Papa:"mme ke ne ke labalabela ho mmona e se e le nakwana"(and I was looking forward to seeing him it's been awhile)and they all laugh maybe it's an inside joke

Advertisement

I look at my husband and he is not even intimidated by all these powerful men and you can just tell that they command respect when they enter the room and he has his eyes on these one gentlemen who couldn't take his eyes from me and I sense he wants to be a problem but not here in this house there is only one boss and that is my husband so he better gets in line.

Gentlemen2:"hantle ke hlooho o re bana ba hau empa u tseba haholo hore ha re bue litaba tsa banna le mosali ho thoe'ng" (well I head you say your children but you know very we that we don't talk man's business with woman around so what's this)and I did say he is going to be a problem but I need be a lady and represent papa well as his heiress because I know men like these hell my husband is one of them traditionalist egotistic maniacs they think women place is in the kitchen so they are in for a big shock with these girl.

Papa:"oa! Bahlomphehi enoa ke setloholo saka Alutha ke tla mo lumella hore a itsebise" (oh! Gentlemen this is my granddaughter Alutha and I will let her introduce herself)and just like that he puts me on the spot and I must say the testosterone in this room it's overwhelming and all eyes are on me okay girl it's time to show them you deserve to be here.

Me:"afternoon gentlemen my Sotho it's not very good I hope you don't mind the language of choice" and I see them nod "so gentlemen my name is Alutha Motaung and this here is my husband Bhekokwake Mkhize I'm both a business woman and a wife and I excel at both roles but that not why we are here,what brings us here is business and it seems someone has become a thorn on my side and that threatenens the well being of my family and I really don't like thorns. Me and my husband both run a smooth businesses and it's seems someone has discovered his real identity and that means soon I will also be made and we can't have that because it means we are all dead I mean me and my family.

Gentlemen2:"ke khoebo efeng ena ke kopa o fihle tabeng ngoanana re banna busy ha re na nako ea sena (which business is this please get to the point young girl we are busy man we don't have time for this).see what I mean by egotistic but I don't know this man and I can't really tell them about us but when I look at papa andhe nod I know I can trust them.

Me:"well gentlemen I'm known as DEATH and my husband as GHOST"and I hear gasps and I know I got them hooked "so as you all know how important it is to keep that a secret because we are also expecting our first children twins and we would like to eliminate every thread coming our way and I would like to know if we can count on you when the time comes".

Gentlemen1:"well my dear it's tricky because we have no business with your husband and I can tell you right here that if it was not for you or the surname you carry he would be dead by now but we respect your surname too much to make an enemy of you and I do know how you two are good at what you do but there are other mafia groups that won't like that we are doing business with you turning us into enemies".

Me:" well I get that but you haven't really introduced your self and we would like to get that out of the way before we continue"

Papa:"oh! Princess these man here are known as the Marashea the Lesotho mafia and the control most the country even their economy and government and its leaders is your great grand uncle it a pity he is not here but he is my uncle and he inherited it from my father him from my grandfather and it was supposed to be passed down to me but I already run Africa and you as my heiress have to take over from me and run Africa but he doesn't have a son to take after him but has a daughter and she will have to marry in to the mafia so that her son will take over one day until we have a boy good enough to inherit it back to the family".

Me:"okay gentlemen as you have mentioned you have business to attend somewhere let's get working baba can you take over" I address my husband because he has been too quiet and I know something is bothering him.

Ghost:"well as you all know I'm a man of few words I let my work speak for me and my beautiful wife has said enough but the person after me is after a sit I'm about to acquire and that is the Cuban mafia leader and that will make me the first African to sit there and one of the most powerful man in the world and you will need me in you corner so that men is Santos. You see I'm in line to the sit and Santos has been waiting for it that's why he sent my wife in the arena to kill the person who was in charge and rightfully the person who killed him was supposed to take over from him but my wife here didn't belong to the Mafia then so she only took over his territories making her the person with the biggest drug and gun territory in Cuba but his sitter remains vacant and Santos was ruled out because he sent someone else to the arena and did not kill himself so I stand to be in line but the issue is I'm anonymous and I have to come out if I take the sit and that will put my family in danger and I have no team so I can't have a face to stand for me like my wife has her Cuban brothers as her face and she can stay anonymous but she too will have come out when she takes over from Leo on the African mafia".

I always knew that Santos was using me for his political gain in the mafia and at the time I was not interested but now my man deserve that position and that will secure our kids future generations I mean generational wealth.

Gentlemen1:"I know sontos is a very impossible man you can't reason with that fool so I suggest you take him out after we solve the issue of your linked identity.

So the meeting continue after we all agreed that we are in an alliance and the meeting I asked mami to prepare lunch for the gentlemen with beautiful blankets as good host and I do believe that I left quite an impression and I hope they see that girl children can inherit a lagecy not just boys it's a new world of equality amongst genders.and I do hope I can meet our family in Lesotho they sound interesting and to think the same blood runs through my veins it's amazing.so these thing was not just an interest I had but it's in my blood being an assassin I mean.

It's late in the evening and the delegates have gone and we reached a agreement that this was just an alliance meeting and ghost will take care of the immediate thread which is Santos and he will come up with a plan to take the sit without revealing his identity, and they seem very impressed with how we run things together but separate and they did see that they have more in common being that they are very traditional bunch. so now I'm with papa in the outside lounge sipping tea it's a beautiful night and the sky is full of stars even moon is out and tea seems to be the thing we bond over these days.

Papa: "are you really okay my princess it seems this whole thing has taken a toll on you being pregnant and all"

Me: "I'm really fine papa I'm trying to keep stress at a minimum and ghost is a great help" and he Groans at the mention of his name will these two ever get along I wonder. "what is your issue with him anyway i never got to ask you"

Papa: "it's in the passed princess so let's leave it there just bad business" and this business doesn't have a name.

Me: "okay old man you can keep your secrets but since it's in the past and it should stay there how about the hate you have with my husband stay there as well because I really love him and he loves me too and I know you know that. But now let's talk about Santos I want him before ghost finds him and you know he will not give him to me because I'm pregnant but I'm baing for his blood"

Papa:"just let your husband do his job of being a husband and protect you.all you have to do it's stay here and enjoy being pregnant it's about to get noisy in your life two babies at the same time is too much let me tell you"

Me:"maybe you are right and he would be pissed that I went behind his back so I will let him do his thing I can't deal with pissed ghost at this stage of the pregnancy I need peace and I wish I could keep all of you here for the remainder of the pregnancy but I seem to have gained a new role in my friends lives of being an psychologist because they seem to come to me with their problems I don't know what's make them think I'm wiser since I'm married and having a babies.

Papa:"it's because those roles come with wisdom princess but it's a you thing you are so easy to talk to that why I trust you with even my darkest secrets". Okay I never saw it that way but it's a great night all in all.

Alutha

Ghost:"mama I want you to look after yourself while I'm gone and I know death will take care of you guys when I'm not here".and I'm in tears because this feels like goodbye "don't cry my love I'm going on a mission you know and I can't leave you like this please don't cry I'm leaving you with Manuel and the boys please don't give them a hard time wanting to do everything please" he says this in a breaking voice and I know it's hard for him to see me cry it not normal.

Me:"just make sure you don't miss the babies birth Bheki it's important that you are present" and he nods I know can never promise me something and not deliver on that promise so the nodding is not assuring me "if you miss the birth of our kids just know we are over" and I see sadness from his face and I know he might not make it but and he didn't let me in on his plan so I'm going in this blind.

Me:"go before I change my mind" and he kisses me one more time before leaving and I know it's hard for him to leave me at this stage of our pregnancy and I'm so broken for him too because this is for the benefit of the family.

It's been two weeks since he left and he did send a go ahead for the rest of the family to go back to their lives so I'm positive that things are working in our favour, but I can't help but worry because we don't have any communication so it's all left to God to protect him and even DEATH has settled down so that means the thread is taken care off. im still at the beach house and I love it and I think I'm going to have my babies here in Durban and it's only me my parents and brothers(peréz) because the other brothers had to go back to work so I'm left with the crew here and our parents did sit us all down and tell us they decided to be together and because we already knew about their relationship it was not a problem but Manuel did voice out his concerns about the relationship because he was closer to his father than the rest and the responsibility of taking care of her was his before I came into the picture but she has to have a life outside being our mom and she is in good hands with my dad.

This ass hole has been on my gate since I came back from work and it's irritating because I have nothing to say to him he can't force thing I told him not to tell people about us just yet I need to find my feet in the relationship but what did he do he went and told his brother and busy posting me on Instagram I'm a very private person when it comes to my relationships but he keeps pushing my buttons and let's not even talk about the trail of girls I have to deal with its exhausting I tell you I'm dating the most wanted man in Jozi right now. The intercom rings once again and I have been ignoring it but now he is even hooting his car horn like crazy and I'm afraid the neighbours will call the police so I open the gate so he can stop this circus he is doing and he finds me waiting outside I don't want him in my house I know he is going to use sex to subdue me so outside it is they have been staying here since we got back from the beach house it was very hard for Lesedi to adjust to me not being there every day we have gotten really close since Durban so I told them to come over for a couple days then we will be in his house next week until we settle on a permanent place.

Me:"what do you want Lesego I don't have all day please state your case and leave because you are busy coursing a scene outside my gate what are my neighbours going to say I'm dating a crazy man?Hao!" He exist the car coming to me and I can help stare this man is a Greek God I tell you he walks like the earth bows to him with every step Hai! Maan snap out of it you are angry with him so i tap my foot on the ground in annoyance so he gets the picture of how mad lam.

Him:"you know how embarrassing it is for a man to wait outside his gate waiting for his overly dramatic girlfriend to snap out her tantrums?". So I'm the overly dramatic girlfriend wow this man keeps pushing my buttons I tell you.

Me:"so what are you still doing with a person that embarrasses you ha! Because if it were me I would have gone for my usual skanks that have no self respect and left the overly dramatic one to have peace"

Him:"don't tell me that shit Aya what is wrong with you woman do you enjoy this going back and forth we keep having"

Me:"why would I enjoy dealing with your narcissistic ass.frankly I'm too old to be dealing with this shit.you know out of all the frogs I have kissed hoping for prince charming you are by far the worst you stress me out you don't listen it's like you are in this relationship by yourself and I'm tired of it I want out go back to your life and leave me to mine while at it leave my daughter with me I don't trust those gold diggers you like so much"

Him:"so now we have resorted to insulting each other I'm a frog now and please refrain from talking about other man when I'm with you and right now I'm as good as you have it and forget about me going anywhere I told you I'm keeping your crazy ass I didn't know dating a kid will bring me so much stress and you say I'm the stressful one"

Me:"you see what I mean you say you are keeping me and not even talking about its like I'm some kind of object I'm really done with this I can't do it anymore" I say in a calm voice because it's like we are both pulling at different direction and it's just frustrating so he comes and kisses my forehead " I'm going to get our daughter from school while you calm down so we can talk about this like the adults that we are. I better find you calm when I come back and please cook woman I'm hungry and I know the princess is too" he says getting in his car leaving me a blushing mess Hai! I can't believe he can get me from raging bull to mush with just one kiss I'm so gone it's not funny I'm a gone girl right now but one thing I like about him it's that he never says my daughter or my money it's always ours and it means he really sees a future with me nor matter how hard we fight.

I'm busy cooking the intercom rings I know it's them I have to get him the remote for this gate this buzzing thing it's exhausting. so I open the gate and moments later the princess comes running "aunty" and she come crashing into my arms and I'm on my knees just to accommodate her height "how are you my princess how was school" I say giving her kisses all over her face and she is a giggling mess and she tells me all about school and this girl called Amanda who is mean to her and I take a glance at her father leaning on the door frame looking at us with pride and I know this has always been his wish and I love that he gets to see it the picture. he always invisioned a perfect family because that's what he had growing up and he wished it for Lesedi. the little princess keeps telling me about school and he comes and kisses me "ewww" "close your eyes Lesedi I'm kissing my wife" and I'm blushing so bad I'm even red as a tomato "aunty kissing boys it's yuck! Mrs Smith says we must not kiss boys and daddy is a boy" safa umlungu Bo we never her anything besides Mrs Smith this Mrs Smith that Hai! "Yes princess don't kiss boy but daddy is a man not a boy" I answer her sweet self and she still has her face of disgust and I laugh SMH "but she said only married people kiss and aunty princess (Alutha) had a big wedding and she kissed uncle hulk (Bheki) in front of all of us did you and daddy have a wedding aswell and why was I not there with my flowers and that why she has babies in her tummy, that what slindile said that her mommy got babies in her tummy by kissing her daddy are we having a baby too?" Wow what are they teach this kids at this private schools and this short person wants to trick us into answering questions we have no intantion of answering she wants to get clever with us and it that mlungu's fault " "please deal with you daughter I'm going to shower before dinner she had a snack on our way here so you don't have to worry love you" he says already on the stairs going upstairs and I have this little smart mouth looking at me waiting for an answer "princess please go upstairs to change into something comfortable and I bought you those uggs you liked "the one that looks like your are we going to be matching " "yes just like mine" and off she goes running "don't run in the house you will hurt yourself" she always runs but I'm glad I dodged the baby in my tummy questions and it's been like this since we came back from Durban and she makes me happy and I realised how much I wanted to be a parent.

I'm really worried about my Hijo she is not herself at all she is a walking shadow of herself she has been saying she is fine everytime I asked even the boys are worried now, it's been two full month's since my son in law left I don't know were he went to but from the reaction I get when I asked Manuel I know it has everything to do with this mafia nonsense but it's the life they choose to live and I as a parent I can only pray for their safety. I did ask Aya to help me with the baby things because we are welcoming them soon. I think hijo even forgot that because of this whole thing with her husband and as mother it hurts so bad because I know how it's like to be a first time mom and not have your husband present well with me my husband was forever working we had just gotten married when Manuel came and he works at a timber plant and the hour were not pleasant to me his heavily pregnant wife to be left alone and he was so late for the birth and that killed me but what comforted me was that he eventually came to the delivery room. so back to the story Aya made it but I heard from Manuel that she doesn't want a baby shower so all the hard work Aya put into planning it was for nothing she was hurt but also understood where she is coming from she misses that husband of her's so today I made sure I cook all her favourite and Manuel hired those massage people to come here so it will just be me her and Aya.

I go to her room because she has been in there from last night and we all tried to be with her but she just locked the door and I haven't seen her like this since Cuba and we all know how that ended so I have make sure she gets out of this dark place she is in. when I get to her wing this floor is to quiet but I can her groaning from the other side and it's the pain kind of groans and I full on panic trying to open the door she lock it from the other side and the breathing is heavy as well oh my God I hope the babies are not ready to come now because she is alone in there"Hijo..... please.... open for me" I say in tears now because I know what this kind of groaning means

I had three boys so I know labour pains when I hear themp "aaaaaahhhhhhhhhhhhhhh....shiiiiit" oh my God they are here oh Jesus have mercy on them, I start praying but then I remember I need to get in that room so I call Manuel"Manuel tráeme aceituna de la cocina y un bol por favor" (Manuel bring me olive oil from the kitchen and a bowl please) I'm in Hijo's room hurry" I know you can hear the panic in my voice and just then the door opens and she has sweat running down her face and her hair is all over the place she looks like a mess

"Mami this can't happen nooooooooooooo....w they have to wait for him he promised aaaaaahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh" and I know what she is saying and right then Manuel followed by Aya come running in Manu with a bottle of olive oil and the bowl I asked for "Aya boil water for me and put it in that bowl" and I think she just saw what's happening because she grabs the bowl from him and run to the kitchen on this floor and Manu is on the verge of tears brushing her back while she repeat what she said when I came in so I guess she is not fully registered that there is nothing she can do to keep them inside "we have to take her to the hospital mami I think the babies are coming" says Manuel in a breaking voice I know this is hurting him more than her "there is no time you have to help me lay her on the bed they are coming now and we won't reach the hospital lay her down and place that pillow behind her" and right then Aya comes in with the water and we get ready for the arrival of the babies and I tell her to get me a first aid and towels as many she can find and sanitize the scissors I still remember what to do I have done this one other time in my life but these are twins anything can happen but one thing I know I'm not losing my daughter today so I have to calm down to do this and everything is ready and she has finally agreed to laying after much protest and now I'm looking at the baby crowning and I know it time for her to push "Hijo look at me I need you to push for me when you feel the contractions coming okay baby" and she nods her sweaty head and she pushes hard and the head it's half way through because the olive oil is helping and I dab the towel in hot water and she pushes once again and the head is fully out and I help rotate it with the whole body coming out after another big push and there she is "welcome to the world my princess" I say trying to clean her in the towel and I clip the umbilical cord and cut it using the surgical scissors and I hand her to Aya when she starts pushing again but now she is not screaming like she was there is this energy in the room and I look at her eyes they have changed in being cold and these face has been gone for so long I didn't know it was still there and now my princess is long gone and I start praying and I can feel something pulling at me and I'm losing my strength but I keep praying and right then when she pushes one last time the lights to the room go out and now we are in the dark and I can tell from the silence that Manuel has fainted and so is Aya and I'm glad the baby was on the bed now I'm still in full on prayer and I acknowledged to God that I know this is not just a normal baby being born in prayer "heavenly father I know in everything that happens on earth it is your will and I believe even the mysterious birth of this child is your will. but I plead with you oh lord! to shine your holy light upon this life, sent your Angeles to guard and protect in the mighty name of Jesus Christ your son and today I declare and decree light upon this soul and binding all evil spirits that are in this room with you holy ghost fire. lord it is in you I trust and I know lord you shall not forsake me in this hour and I know this appointment was set by you lord this is your handy work oh lord! and I accept the honour and challenge of receiving your product your angel a Messiah on earth you chose me for a reason and I accept oh God in the name of the Holy mother of Jesus and the mighty name of your son I call upon Michael the angel of war and justice to protect his soul for eternity in the name of the father the son and the holy spirit I pray Amen" and when I finish praying the lights come on and the baby is finally born and he is born in his Amniotic sac so I have to remove it and when I do there is a little boy with glowing skin like thousands of shining Diamonds and right then he cries and it's nothing like I have heard before it's like thunder roars from the sky and he goes quiet and his eyes are open and they are a beautiful shade of grey it's the most beautiful thing I have ever seen in my life and nothing could have prepared me for what I heard or saw after that there was a light shining in the corner of the room and he says "tell them to wait for him to name his son we gave them their peace the one they have been seeking and his journey starts now it will be hard but eventually his destiny will be revealed but worry not for he walks with angels he fears nothing" and it disappears like it was never there and he is not even crying but his beautiful eyes are wide open and I'm brought back by his older sister screaming her lungs out and I see Hijo out and I clean the baby boy placing next his sister and attending my daughter after cleaning her and Im sure they are all okay I call the Mkhize doctor to check all of them here in the house before going to the hospital and it's only now the two wake up after I have cleaned and the mommy is still out "ma what was that or was I dreaming?" Asks Aya "nothing happened Hijo but you fainted and missed the little princes birth but he is fine now" and she is looking at them with so much love and I know she is indeed Alutha soulmate her love for her knows no bounds and Manuel is giving me looks of 'I know you saw it too' but I pay no mind to it because he is making a call and I know he is looking for the father of the babies and he is saying he doesn't care they must just get the message to him and he keeps saying code red over and over.

My body doesn't feel pain anymore and I have been in this hell for long I don't even know the date because in here one hour turns into years and the killing continue everyday i swore I would never come back here the last time but this mission got really difficult because Santos knew my every move since he knew my identity so coming here he knew I was going to kill him and made sure I get the message that he has eyes on my wife and she would be dead if I tried something so I went and revealed myself to the board of the world's Mafia. challenging him to a fight to the death in the area and we were assigned levels when we came in and he had to accept or he would be excommunicated from the mafia and that is worse than death I tell you so he thought he would use his power to buy everyone on the levels to kill me promising them the world but to his unfortunate he lost because I still killed them all and got to fight him and killed him but you know the rules of this place I still need to get to a certain level to leave and today seems to have given me a mysterious power because I can't feel anything and I'm a killing machine but I'm still two levels down before I leave and I miss my wife so much so I need to leave this place as in Tommorrow.

After I won the level I'm escorted to my new room and this time it written bullet on the door and I'm welcomed by new clothes and meal and a note is handed to me and I know the drill by now it's to welcome me so before reading it I shower and eat I haven't had anything to eat but protein bars and shake since I came here so I eat my two slice of brown bread with peanut butter and a glass of milk that my reward for killing 12 people in an hour just imagine but my goal it's my wife and kids that's my reward so I grab the letter and I lay on the bed and it's really not comfortable but It will do for now and today ghost is in his most powerful and I wonder why but I guess it coming back to a place were he was born that doi...."shit shit shit I need to leave this place as in now" I'm disturbed but what on the note it's written code red and I know I just lost my wife she will never forgive me for this. so I press the button on the door and when the gaurd come I tell them I challenge both Two levels to fight today I need to get out of here today and when I get out of here I will be the most powerful men on earth I will be a leader of all the Mafia's in the world I will sit on the chair because I'm killing the chairman today it just amazing how these men are cowards they come here to hide when thing get tough in the world but with him it's different because he came here as suicide mission because he lost his whole family I mean everyone it's only him so he came here to die but that what people don't get in here all that goes out of the window because there is a certain spirit that compels you to fight even when you don't want to it takes over your spirit and you fight but it's amazing most people who live are black and they say it's a myth about slavery they say the black people who died then come in the bodies of their fellow African brothers to fight the white people but maybe it's just a myth and the black man is just made of the will to survive that should explain it better but this place was an execution ground for the slaves that tried to run away in the old days.

My challenge was excepted and I'm now fighting with the second level and as I said ghost is on a mission to leave this place today and I'm going through them like cockroaches and I just see bodies dropping and I know I'm leaving this place because that was my condition of winning this challenge was to leave this place immediately and that what I plan to do and I know there is a chance that I'm going to loose my wife but not without a fight and I know I rather we die together than to be apart it's going to be challenge getting her to forgive me but I know she understands the kind of sacrifice coming here is no one would willingly come back here after they have left and that what scared people most about me and my wife because we were the first to leave it's like this place traps your mind and there is no living but with me and Alutha we came in as ourselves and left with other beings and sometimes I wonder what was the purpose of it all because no one lives here but we did but Ghost and DEATH are us and we have learnt to live with then but Masango did mention that we both died here and was reborn and in the after life we were mortal enemies but resurrected as lovers and now created life together that's freaky but life goes on dead or alive so now I'm facing this man and I'm shocked because he looks young like he hasn't aged a day "so they finally are giving me my wish to join my family because I have been here for a long time and it's only now I see my blood in your eyes they did say I will know when it's time and I want to thank you for releasing me I can hear my family calling on to me and it's only now I can answer but please make sure you never come back here if you ever get out I see you still have a lot to live for so thank you" says the man they call devil because it only who knows the hell this place is he lived it for longer than anyone " it's an honour" my voice comes out raspy because I'm out of breath because I have been fighting since left my room so we start fighting and he is the only one can match Ghost today because I can feel it even his blows are painful but I fight on but he is not making it easy so I decide the only way to win this is to fight smart not hard and it seems to be working and I have to thank my wife because she taught me that trick that when you fight with someone who over powers you study them and fight smart and I have to give it to that idiot Manuel who was her trainer from the beginning he taught her well and now the man I'm fighting with loses a step and I see it as my chance so plunge the knife into his heart and it is instant death and I thank him when I withdraw my knife from his heart and I promise to tell his story even to my grandchildren and I'm keeping this knife with his blood to preserve it as an honour to him and his sacrifice for his family so I stand after closing his eyes to leave this hell hole and I see two guards to escort me to his cell to clean up so I can leave and when I get to the door with his name I enter real fast in the shower change in my own clothes I come with I found them layed on the bed and after the shower I press the button and the doors open and I'm lead through the many steal doors until the very last and I'm impatient because I need to see my family and it kills me to think I still need to take a plan for hours to get to them but now that the outside air hits my face I know I'm one step closer but now I have to be alert because I'm not anonymous anymore but I'm the most untouchable man in the world because I'm the world's mafia now everything goes through me first and boy does it feel great.

When the plane lands at King Shaka International I can't even wait for anything I need to get to my wife and kids but I need to cleanse before. I need to touch my kids with pure hands not one's full of blood so I need to get home first and get to Masango's hut and I drive there like a maniac and I'm sure I'm going to get tickets but I don't care and I didn't even talk to Manuel and I think I have grown to like this boy but most of all I trust him with my life if he can take care of my family like his own what am I saying it's his sister and her children but I do trust the Pérez boys fully and I have big plans for them since I don't need to work anymore because of the title I hold now I don't need to work to maintain my underground ranking with this title it's like an early retirement plan so I get to raise my kids in peace.

When I get to Masango it seems he is already waiting for me and I drive to a near river to bath and after I drive to my house because I called Manuel and he said the doctor gave them a clean bill of health so he ordered for them to be in the inhouse hospital that I built for emergencies so I'm relieved because they are all okay and I'm finally home and I'm also glad masango is here because he says there are things he need to do for the special boy so when I park the car in the garage I rush to the inhouse hospital room and she is sleeping so peaceful and the babies are in a court next her bed and when I come close I see the most beautiful little girl in pink and I'm drawned to pick her up and she is the most beautiful thing ever and I find my self with tears coming down my eyes and her cute cries fill my heart with contentment and I know now she is the most priceless asset I own she is mine and mine alone and I will forefill her every dream. she is the sweetest thing alive and I put the princess down because Ghost wants to come out and I know it's because his son is awake but not making a sound unlike the princess here and he pick him up he can feel where that source of power came from it was his birth that came with all the power for him and it seems the young man has strange grey eyes with a very dark skin colour he looks nothing like me and his mom he looks like a Demi God of some sort he looks like he doesn't come from this world and he has this strange thing about him of demanding the world to lay at his feet if he was not ghost's son I tell you I would think he is of royalty a very handsome baby boy and I feel for Ghost and death this young men is going to be a handful and I just think my princess is the innocent and prettiest thing on earth this useless world does not deserve her she is made of all things good the only thing I ever produced that is good and I turn to my beautiful wife after ghost is done with his son she is resting and I know she is going to hate me when she wakes up and I kiss her lips and I know this people in this room are my life. so let me go change and speak to masango.

After I get fresh I go speak to masango and it seems he is taken with my mother in law and he doesn't know my father in law will kill him because he love that woman so I go and kiss her cheek it's what we do everytime we greet her and I had to adjust to it but now I'm comfortable with it germs and all and you can't help not love this lady she is the first mother I know who will never judge you but she will guide you as a mom and she makes sense with every word she says and never speaks when it's not necessary so she is the perfect wife for any man I tell you they don't make them like her anymore plus her cooking can make any man fall in love it beats me how she can perfect south African traditional food like this and my wife can't even boil an egg wow SMH.

Masogo:"ngicela ukubuza kosisi ukuthi wabekwa yini emva kokuzalwa komkakho emva kokubeletha (please ask the lady were she put the after birth of your wife after she gave birth)

Me:"ma what did you do with the after birth of the twins he is looking for them"

Mami:"I told Manu to store it in the blood bank so it doesn't spoil Hijo"

Me:" uthi kusaphephile baba ngizokulethela" (she says it's safe father I will bring it to you) and he nods still looking at ma like a rare jewel " Ngiyethemba awukucabangi lokhu engikucabangayo angeke ukwazi ukuthula emshadweni wakho kanti usethembisene umshado nobaba wakwami" (I hope you are not thinking what I think you are thinking you will never know peace in your marriage and she is engaged to be married to my father in-law) and he shakes his head like he is processing what I just said and pays attention back to me and just then Aya, the brothers and my father in law enter and this old man and swag it will never leave him he is always dressed to kill and that old money vipes you get from him is everything he is my role model I tell you. He goes to his lady and plants a kiss on her lips and she turns pink with blushing it's the cutest thing and there goes my happy mood when Aya starts coming for me and I just get out because I know she is Alutha's spokes person when it comes to these things and I pay no mind to her I tell Manuel to handle masango while I go to the hospital room to my family and they are still sleeping so I take both the twins and lay them on my chest and I lay next to my wife the queen sized bed accommodate all of us and I close my eyes but still careful not to hurt the babies.

Alutha

My eyes feel heavy and it difficult opening them it must be the twins... And it all comes back that I gave birth to my babies and mami was the one helping me and I past out when the boy was born but I did hear the princess crying what if the boy didn't live and I start panic and I hear a machines going off and I open my eyes even though they feel heavy but I push through and I see I'm still at home but in the hospital room and I turn to look around only to find the cutest pictures next to me the love of my life and our kids next to me in bed soundly sleeping and my heart jumbs in happiness that although he was late but he made it and I'm really happy about that but he doesn't need to know that we will just keep him on his toes as a punishment for not informing me on his step by step decision on the mission and that killed me alive I felt like I'm failing at this wife thing but I trusted him to win for our family but it was still not easy being in the dark so I will pretend I'm angry for awhile plus technically he did miss the birth of our babies.

I must have woke the three up when I went to the toilet because I hear the princess from here and it was a mission on its own to walk here with the stitches down there now I have to pee and I'm scare but it still flows out and it hurts like hell "aaaaahhhhhhhh.....Mmmmmm..shiiit" and the door bust open and it's my handsome husband and he looks a little bigger than what he was when he left the muscles and immediately my mood drops because I know where he was and I'm both sad and angry because he made a promise to himself not to go back there but here he is all shameful but I'm also sad because that means he didn't have an option but to go in and that means he did survive that shit hole again and I know how hard it is "my love I'm sorry I didn't mean to miss it" and for the first time in my life since I met this man he has his head on my lap right on top of my bloody underwear crying because I'm still on the toilet sit and I can't take it anymore it breaks my heart " it's okay you made it and you are here with us safe" and I keep brushing his back in silence and it's only his soft sniffs and it's only now feel how hard it was for him in there and the fact that he is still my Bhekokwake that means I was his anchor in there "I love you so much mama and even if you want to leave me I rather die than not have you in my life"

Me:"babawabo yes I'm upset you broke your promise but you are the be all and end all in my life so life without you wouldn't be life I was being truthful when I said over the hills" I have his bearded face in my hands making him look into my eyes and I kiss his bloody face " Hai! Maan baba this is not right now they will say ngikuhlisile with my menstrual blood on your face" and he pecks my lips one more time and humming a maskandi song going to the cabinet and comes back with my pad and a new set of underwear and helps clean me up and when I flinch he asks " is it still painful" and I nod and he finishes helping me I really missed this, having someone to depend on and he carried me to the bed and brings the princess first with the little man still in his gaze and I notice that is Ghost admiring the fruits of his loins and the little angel here bring the attention back to her she is so beautiful she looks so much like Bheki I feel betrayed and I give her the boob and she suckles away and I reach my other hand for my little boy and ghost finally breaks the gaze and hands him to me to feed and when I look at him he looks nothing like us indeed he belongs to them he has the most beautiful skin ever very rich in Melanin and it glows like diamonds his eyes are a beautiful shade of grey he looks perfect death is In love she even sheds a tears she is captivated by her son and for the first time she allows herself to be vulnerable she is at her weakest with this boy in her arms and she gives him the boob to suck and that hurts like hell it did hurt with princess but not like this he sucks his little life away and shit hurts like hell but these are one of the sacrifices that come with being a mom and I'm content "what are we naming them?" And he says nothing but takes his phone to capture these moment "Nomakhosazana" he just says and I'm waiting for the other one when my mom comes in "oh you are up I have a message for the both of you. The angel that welcomed him to life said I must tell you to let him name his son he is the peace that they have been seeking and he has his own journey in this life and he will reach his destiny with time but the journey will not be easy but worry not he walks with Angeles protecting him" and I guess ghost and Death understood because they are agreeing with what's being said.

Masango: "I have prepared everything for the boy his destiny shall find the sac when it's ready I have placed it were no man shall reach and sent it on its way the boy is of royalty he shall be treated as such remember he shall not be separated from his escort to the world she will protect him and love him always so don't create a wedge between them they are one flash and what happens in the right should also happen on the left for peace to rain in your house but she has her own journey as well she will be the one woman man don't mess with. With the spirit of a lion the curse breaker she brought light upon both families but the lion that dwells within her shall find a befitting mate and she to shall find her destiny"

Me:"baba you speak in riddles are they mystical beings and how come he is royalty"

Masango:"the question you seek you shall find when he finally finds his destiny for now we wait but remember he is royalty and he shall be treated as such and what happens in the right must also happen on the left yin and yen like the colour black and white" and he leaves us shocked but mami seems to understand.

Mami:"what he meant is that they are twins treat them as such but he is of royalty so if he is treated like royalty she should also be treated as such she came first to the world to see if it's safe for him to come she summoned him by her first cry and he new it was safe. so treatment to them should be equal because she is his guardian angel on earth so she is of utmost importance on his journey to destiny but she has her own journey in this world so basically it should not all be about him but her aswell.

Well I still don't get it but they are our kids and between the four of us they will be loved and cared for.

Ghost:"Akanu that's his name Arusi of thunder and lightning"

Alutha

It's been a week since my little miracle babies came to the world and it's been quite a journey from not getting enough sleep to the princess screaming non stop and my little prince just eats a lot and stirs instead of crying it freaked me out that he never cries but masango assured me that there is nothing wrong with he is not supposed to cry and he explained that his crying could be catastrophic to his destiny because he is a descendant of the sun. so I guess I don't have to worry about him much and it's been weird for me that death is now back after not being in her presence for so long and she is completely different to the death we remember she is still possessive and ruthless but she is softer now she feels more at peace like she was angry at something but now it's all gone she gives more mother nature vibes like I'm in touch with the very source of good nature and it's only now it makes sense that indeed she was an angry person/spirit as masango calls them but now they have their peace that why his second name is kgotso (peace)and princess second name Athena (goddess of wisdom and Warriors) so their full names are

Akanu kgotso Mkhize

Nomakhosazana Athena Mkhize

And the whole family is happy for their birth especially the Mkhize family because they were told that the curse breaker is here and that has made the little princesses the talk of the family and fussing that happens with these three ladies in the house my granny is not in the country right now but I know it it's going to be war of the grannies and the little bundle of joys will be suffocating in love and I really do I appreciate the support they have given us and I appreciate my mom and best friend the most for helping with the delivery of the babies it must have not been easy but they excelled at it.

Right now I'm with my little family in our wing and they have three nurseries with one in every wing to accommodate everyone and Aya wanted to stay a little longer but her family as she calls them also needed her and I'm really happy that they are making things work with Lesego because she deserves to be happy really and I do believe they are both happy even more the Lesedi. The twins are with ghost and I love how gentle he is with both of them and I love seeing ghost and Bheki working together because it always seems that the other shuts the other out at times but since the birth of the twins they both have been settled and I also think it's visiting that hell hole that has brought them equality amongst the two of them and he hasn't mentioned anything about the mission since he came back but I feel like he has something he need to tell me but he is scared so I will wait for the babies to sleep then I can get it out of him.

Me:"baba they can't sleep in you arms all the time let me feed them then put them down because the trio will have my head if they get used being carried around" I call the Mkhize ladies that because the three of them never separate and they have all these rules when it comes to the twins but with my mom she lets me be their mom and enjoy it but the trio it's hell living with them and I'm glad they will be gone next week and I can share a room with my husband because according to "culture" he is supposed to sleep in a separate room and that pisses him off and that why he been grumpy and it's hard to talk to him when he is like this because it comes natural to him to ignore you like he is doing right and it's even more when he is in ghost mode.

Ghost:"don't look at me like that woman these are my kids and I can do as I please with them and I'm tired of all these people in my house I think it's time for them to leave we can handle it from here and I think it's time to go back to Joburg now". It can only be ghost that calls me woman instead of my love or baby it's mama when he is in a pleasant mood and woman when he is bored or pissed

Me:"they will be gone within a week so don't worry and my mom is leaving tomorrow because dad can't function without her and we'll the trio I don't know but I think next week"

Ghost:"don't worry they are also leaving tomorrow I will handle it" I just nod there is no use arguing with him when he is like this maybe this is the time to bring the conversation up now.

Me:"i hope you won't chase them out because they will think it's my plan" he just gives me a look and I hate it when he is like this it's like talking to a brick wall "is there something you want to discuss with me because you have been ghost more than Bheki and I know he is trying to help you cover something because Bheki can't keep things to himself for too long so I know something is up so out with it" and his eyes soften and I know these two are hiding something from me because my Bheki is back and he gently lays the sleeping minions down before coming to scoop me in his arms and planting a tender kiss on my nose then my lips " there is something mama but it need me to explain in full and I wasn't hiding it I was just waiting for us to settle into being new parents first before dealing with business and the underground life" and I lay my head on his now bigger chest and I have to admit I really love the bigger him he makes me feel so small again him. He breathing in and out slowly and I know that a tool he uses to calm himself down " so I have come out and people know who lam" and I just settle down to let him explain because he just put our whole lives in danger and I hope he has a better explanation for that. "Santos had man watching your every move when I went on the mission and because he already new who I was and was two steps ahead of me I had to go to the board to out my self and challenge him to a one on one fight to the death in the arena and he had no choice but to accept or he would be excommunicado and you know that is worse than death" and I still have my head on his chest and I'm drawing circle on his chest and that seem to have calm him down because I have to be a wife before anything so that comes with being his peace and allowing him the honour of being the head and I the neck to support him in his decision and he continues to tell me the rest of the story and when he is done he breathed in and out to let me have my say and I'm just shocked because I don't know where this puts my own business because I also have a new position in this hierarchy that comes with his new found position and now I get why he was scared to tell me because there are a lot of sacrifices I have to make to accommodate his new position " don't worry baba we will deal with these together and I'm really proud of you and I know how hard it must have been going back in there and I know what it took for you to be here with us" and he kisses the top of my head . "Forever" and I know what that means "forever" and I repeat after him.

It's 2am in the morning and the minions are up and I'm struggling to get them back to sleep and it's like they feed off each other's energy because if one is up the other one has to be up and Bheki and I have to deal with the screaming princess and the other one has to have a temperature instead of crying and to be frank I rather have him screaming than this high temperature and it has been hard since the grannies have gone and I only realise how much they helped because we are struggling and I get only an hour at a time to nap then we are back to dealing with them and I also find myself crying with them but DEATH has a way to calm me down and give me the will to push through and especially when it comes to dealing with Akanu's fever she always gets it to calm down but the princess is a nightmare I tell you she cries all the time and her father is like putty in her hand because she no longer sleeps in the Cort but sleeps on his chest and that means Akanu has to sleep on my chest. it's difficult I tell you because I'm even scared to ask for help and a nanny is out of the question how can I deal with everything that I have dealt with in life even death was nothing but raising my kids be a problem I can't fail at this so I decided to do this parenting thing like a boss and let's not forget the other businesses I have so I'm a mess right but I'm grateful to my brothers for holding the fort for me while I'm still adjusting to being a mom and I really wish mami could stay with me for a while but her boyfriend refused saying how will my husband be free in his house when his mother in law is always around so I guess I'm on my own.

It's 6am and the twins have just settled down and I'm just laying on the bed facing the window and I have no strength to get up and bath or shower they have drained me and it amazes me how Bheki is still has energy. I must have dosed off because when I wake up I find breakfast ready next to me and I note that reads "eat me" and it seems the room is clean and there is a trail of roses leading to the bathroom and I stand to following its trail and the bathroom is turned into a mini spa with bath full of hot water and I see essential bath oils and salts on the mini glass table near the bath and there is a my favourite book the 'art of war' by Sun Tzu and I see a bottle of Chardonnay with a class bouquet of roses and a note and I reach for the note and it reads "my love I know it's been difficult dealing with the three of us day and night and I know you are exhausted and I thought you could use a break and time to yourself so this an off day for you to use a you please mommy and get a little pampering and maybe clean your guns because they too feel neglected so use this time wisely don't worry about us we will be fine and I got you wine because it's been a while since you had some don't worry we have enough milk in storage enjoy your day yours faithfully the love of your life" and right there and then I fall on my knees and break down it's been two full month of stress and even Bheki could see the cracks and I feel drained and it's visible because I look like zombie even bathing is a problem and if it wasn't for him I would sleep without taking a shower he make it his mission to shower with me and put my afro in knots before bed every night so without him I would literally be lost he is my strength and this means the world to me so I start by getting my food because I'm hungry and I take of these dirty pyjamas and I'm not even wearing underwear and I sink in the hot bath and I get the jets going and the salts and oils massage my aching body and I continue with my food that taste wonderful my man is a great cook I tell you and when I'm done I down it with a class of wine reading my book this so nice it been a minute I tell you and I could feel my self sinking into a dark hole but I know death would not let me.

It's been a day of just relaxing and I'm now in the basement catching up on my business and it seems everything is running smoothly under Manuel and the boys and Rafael has Cuba on lock even though I think the boys enjoy south Africa so much but they will have to go check on things that side and Manu did mention seeing himself being a permanent resident here and I know the boys will want to follow him because they never separate. My guns did need a proper cleaning and I got it done and I'm a little unfit I need to get back to the gym soon and my husband did have one room changed into an indoor dance studio and I need to get that started soon because dancing use to be my escape and now I do need an escape.

Bheki:"I see you had a good day you are even glowing" and he startled me because I didn't hear him coming in and I see he is carrying the twins in their baby carriers and they are sleeping soundly I wonder how he did that.

Me:"oh my God you are back and they are sleeping how did you manage that because these are not friends with sleeping"

Bheki:"oh we went home and MAhadebe waba chatha (gave the an enema) and gave them food they say the are hungry and the enema masango adviced it to calm down the fever in the little man and the have been sleeping ever since" Haibo my poor babies have been though hell Imagen having something in your bum they must have screamed their little lungs out I'm just glad I was not there and what does he mean by food.

Me:" Haibo motho was modimo (child of God)what do you mean when you say food but with the enema I trust them they would hurt them but the doctor did say this people eat from 6months"

Bheki:"well they ate like it was their last meal on earth and they are sleeping now so it worked and I did buy enough and the taught me how to prepare it so don't worry Wena my love these two have been stressing you and that hurts me to see you like that" he says kissing my forehead leaving the basement going upstairs I guess to put them to sleep so I order food from our favourite restaurant and it consists of meat mostly because I live with a carnivor. I go upstairs and he is taking a shower so I prepare the twin's bed in our room and and change into my clean silk pyjamas it's been a while since I put on sexy sleepwear and I think Bheki didn't mind but now I need to take better care of my self because we are still a young couple so a little sexiness is needed. When he comes out he is naked and wet and I find my self staring and he smiles when he catches me "it's all your you know that right" he says coming to me and he pressed himself on me and my breath hitches and my skin grows hives and I'm soaking wet "are you healed yet my love it's been a while now I need you" and I think I lost my mind the first time he spoke because I have my arms around his neck and I'm devouring his lips with my mine he picks me up and I strangle my legs around him and he leaves my lips and trails kisses down my neck leaving marks as he goes down and I'm a moaning mess and he helps me out of the PJ's and I'm just left with the lace panties and he is now layed me on the bed and I'm glad I change the sheets. He is now on navel licking me up with my breast cupped in his hands " mama can I taste their food please" and that get me so wet that I'm flowing and I just give him a nod and he latches on and sucks away and it's embarrassing that immediately he does that the other breast shoots up more milk and that seem to do something to him because he is going crazy with them and that time I'm so embarrassed "Hai babawabo you are finishing my kids food now" and he is still at it " just a little more mama please" and I reach for his now hard member and I massage it in my hands giving it quick strokes and that seems to have worked it helped to bring out of the milk fascination "mama iyohh.....ssssssso good" and I shut him up with a messy kiss and I lead his member inside and I lose it when he ease his way in and I'm a moaning "Mmmmm ahhhh" and that seem to give him permission to move and it's a bit painful mixed with pleasure and his strokes are long and slow he is in the moment and I have my nails are buried on his back "mama stop that or I'm not going to last" and I squeeze him in a little more and he comes undone "iyoooh sizani'bo maaaaa..... robbing me of my happy ending but because my man know how to please a lady and keep her satisfied he on his knees "let me take care of this" he goes in with his tongue.....and I'm in heaven.

Things have been going well in my house hold but now my dad keeps asking if I'm really serious about this relationship because if I was I would have proposed marriage but the thing is I don't want to overwhelm her she is already playing a role of a mom to Lesedi Imagen pulling this on her I swear each time I bring up marriage she becomes cold as ice and I don't want it to be like I'm wasting her time and I'm not in it for a lifetime because all I want is to spend a couple of lifetimes with her and if I'm lucky enough father a couple of kids maybe little princesses that look like her because God took his time when he was creating that human being and I love that she is like wild fire she is like blazing flame when she is mad she can burn everything in her way and I seem to hold the buttons to get her to act crazy because she is not like that with everyone even her ex doesn't know this side of her she always known to be level headed but she goes crazy at the most silliest thing I do and I really love that about her and she is very good with princess when they are together it's like nothing exists and she has recently started calling her mom and I'm glad really Because we are simply going to grow old together even though I'm the one that seems to be getting older or is it because she way younger than me.okay enough about that I'm meeting with my brothers for a drink and it's been a while since we've gone out for drink so I will use this opportunity to get ideas on how to make the woman in my life my wife without scaring her away.

I see them sitting on a table way back in the VIP section and the party seems to have started and the drinks are flowing these bastard didn't wait for me and I'm the one that requested a meet up SMH

Me:"I see the party has started without the host"

Mo:"because the host is forever late so the party always start without him"

Tumi:"finally you get here I was starting to think that Ben 10 of yours didn't give you permission to come out night"

Me:"don't call my woman a Ben 10 Wena" I say smacking the back of his head

Tumi:"aoch! That hurt Maan Wena and what must I call her because she is our Younger sisters age and best friend so basically you have turned in a sugar daddy" and the bust out

laughing these idiots

Me:"well if you must know I have plans of making that Ben 10 my wife soon and that the reason you are here today" and they seem to be shocked by my revelation what did these people think?that we are just messing around because they are very wrong.

Mo:"Hai maan what's with these kids turning players into honest man because I think I now see a pattern first it was Bheki now you are they that good that you see wives when you are with them because it took me a while to know that I want to spend the rest of my life with tshidi but with you guys it takes months"

Me:"well maybe you are yet to meet your soul mate because when you meet her you will know instantly and it also happened to dad twice lucky bastard.

Tumi:"and don't forget about me because I met my woman two weeks and I know I was doing this forever thing with her" and we laugh "what it's true Hao!"

Mo:"we know and that because you are a hopeless romantic I'm sure you have found the love thousands of times before and I'm sure you still going to find more you are that bad" and it's true Tumi find love with every relationship he enters and we always make fun of him because he is a lover but get bored easily very different from me the player I have never been in a long term relationship just piece jobs here and there but now I'm a kept man if that applies to man as well.

Phomolo:"I'm just waiting for him to get to the point of him getting married to Ayanda and you idiots keep talking and I'm waiting for the scoop"

Mo:"that the difference between you and us you like to gossip too much and there is no scoop here you should've been a journalist because you like news too much talk Les maan what is it about Aya you see that is a quality of a wife" and just like that I know these talk has turned serious because Mo switch to big brother mode

Me:"the thing is I don't know how to ask her because she has been engaged before and I knew that she was my wife the day I saw her with princess and because we had already shagged and the chemistry was there and seeing how well they got along i knew I had found what I was looking for in a woman and mother to my kids but every time I bring up the marriage topic she becomes cold as ice so that where you come in as my brothers".

I see them pounder on the news I just threw at them and one thing about my brothers is that they give the best logical advices and I think it has something to do with our upbringing because as young as Alutha is she gives good advice aswell speaking and about that one I heard the little monsters are giving them grey hairs and then Aya keeps exaggerating their birth by saying there was lightning and black outs and ghosts you know that woman and exaggerating the truth is out of this world her stories always have a thrill to them imagine ghosts at child birth just because of it was home birth and she helped SMH

Mo:'what do you think is the cause of this coldness she gets?'"

Me:"well I think it has something to do with her previous relationship and how it ended but what confuses me is that they are good friends with the ex and I also met the guy and it doesn't seem toxic because he is also in a relationship with someone else and she too is good friends with Aya so I really have a dilemma on my hands".

Tumi:"what I have found useful in most relationships is talking about things and go into details about where you see the relationship going and the future between you two" and the nod at that "I mean you can't assume things in a relationship you need to sit her down and open a line for communication about what the future holds for the you two of you".

Me:"I guess you are right I have to talk to her about it. But won't that ruin the surprise element that comes with a proposal?" This doesn't seem practical us talking about me proposing then come back plan a whole proposal SMH

Pho:"you can still surprise her with a proposal or just send a later like how that ass Bheki did but you still need to talk about where she stands with the marriage issue that why most guys end up trending on social media with failed proposals because you can't force someone's child into marriage just because you are ready so the question also comes to ARE YOU READY? Because marriage is a very big step and maybe that why her previous one failed and maybe that why they chose to remain friends even after a failed relationship".

Okay that fruit for thought and I knew coming to them was the best because now I know something I didn't know.

Tumi:"maybe you can talk to the princess she is married after all and it seems to be going well so maybe ask her".

Me:"I also heard that the little monsters are giving them hell and I'm sure she has her hands full because even mom is back to her boyfriend so it's just the two of them".

Mo:"I have to buy those two a big present especially the princess because they are dealing with that idiot Bheki for shagging my baby sister and making her pregnant because I'm sure Alutha cries too when they start and he is left three babies so this is a lesson to you too because you are following his foot steps with dating babies". And these fools bust out laughing

Me:"atleast with me my baby is an adult not like princess she is so spoiled and Bheki makes it worse with the way he treats her I mean when we first found out about the pregnancy he used to carry her everywhere that could never be me I mean my future wife is practically a chef while princess can't even boil an egg". And they are still laughing I guess it's because of how I said my baby

Tumi:"you guys are just jealous because Bheki is filthy Rich and can afford all the princesses need and wants" and we laugh even more it even got us some audience

Mo:"I can attest to that because my woman can't cook as well and I can proudly say that doesn't bother me as well"

Me:"just wait till you find a woman who can hold up her end in the kitchen you will be singing a different tune I tell you no wonder your dad is like love sick teen because he gets the best of both worlds"

Pho:I don't think that notion applies to your brother in law because he seems to be hooked on what ever that your baby sister is supplying" and we bust out laughing because he made that reference because the are gangsters and they supply different things that can get a person hooked

Mo:"you are an idiot you know that. And by the way what is your take on this mafia nonsense their involved in to".

Me:"I think they are both adults who participated in it individually and willingly so there is nothing I can really say about it"

Mo:"I for one is still having nightmares about princess killing someone" and we laugh "I'm being for real I have this one where she keep killing people like she is chucky's bride and bheki keeps cheering her up and there is blood everywhere it's freaky I tell you"

Me:"it is freaky that they are that couple but believe me I always saw princess as this innocent little girl but the minute they said it I could see it that she was capable"

Tumi:"and those brothers are not making things easier because they worship the ground she walks on they are like her little minions"

Pho:"I had a talk with Manuel and it's about respect because he says they owe her their lives because the minute she gained her territories she settled their whole Debt and gave them a fresh start what ever that means but I got that it means everything to them he also told me how lucky we are to have a person like her be born from the same womb as us and it should be our biggest flex"

Mo:"yaah I guess he is right because nobody can ever mess with me and get away with it ang'zo vuta isigebhegu sakithi" and the laughing goes on through the night its pretty much what happens when we get together it's laughter all around.

I try not make noise as I come in our room I first stopped by lesedi's room to check on her and my baby was sleeping like a log that girl dies when she sleeps but I'm thankful for the this woman laying on this bed pretending to be asleep that she is a mother first to Lesedi before she could ever consider me because that is the kind of mother I need for my kids the kind my mother was to us and yes I was too close to my mother growing up and I'm proud she left her little sensitivity with me and not my other siblings she had these delicate sides to her she was everything a woman should be loving,strict and very warm she possessed the kind of beauty I have only seen once in my life she was like an angel her dark tone and beautiful big hair made her look out of these world and my sister has her face and presence because when she walked in a room all eyes would be on her and that's why i was always clinging to the helm of her skirt she took me everywhere and my brothers used to tease me about being a mamas boy and it wouldn't bother me one bit because i got experience my mother in every way that's how i grew to admire what she and my dad had and wanted the same for my self and for my boy child and when Lesedi was in her mother's womb i prayed so hard that she was a girl not a boy because these is the kind of a mother a boy

child deserves not that princess's Mom is bad but she doesn't possess the kind of warmth my woman has she is like a beautiful cloud

a rainbow after a rainy day she brings so much colour to my life and Lesedi and i swear to god I'm impregnating her the moment she says yes because Lesedi is going to be my only love child i want my boy to be born in wedlock and he is a lucky son of gun to be born to these wonderful specimen of a woman and me and princess got really lucky that she chose us to be her family.

I move to the bathroom after staring at her and it's funny she composed herself because she has been pretending to be asleep all this time and i know she is not sleeping because my woman is very dramatic she look for fights in every little thing she was probably waiting for me all night even though i asked permission before leaving yes i had to ask because she would have thrown a fit if i didn't maybe even gate crashing my boys night that how crazy she and she thinks I dont know that she does all that because she wants my attention and also doesn't know she fuckin turns me on when she is being her crazy self even to a point of smelling my dick after a night out saying she will know if i went back to my whoring ways but funny enough i have never cheated on or even looked at another woman and even her ex frowned when i asked if she was this crazy with him and he said their relationship was too perfect to a point where it was like being in a relationship with a church lady and she had no Flaw and that used to frustrate him to a point of picking fight and she would apologize and it would be the end of it but with me she is a fire cracker she shouts, locks me out and shows up at work just to let the bitches know I'm taken her words not mine.

I can't believe she is holding herself these much maybe there is something wrong with her let me test the waters "are you not going to check me before i take a shower i want sleep" and she is still quiet and i give up maybe she is really sleeping and i open the bathroom door "is your quilt eating at you that you even ask to be checked? Which hoe were you with this time for you to arrive in the early hours of the morning knowing i was waiting for you and you know very well that i can't fall asleep when you are out there galavanting the street like you are some kind of senseless man because I know for a fact i didn't not fall in love with a senseless man so give me a name" and i have huge smile on my face because that right there is the love of my life and future wife not that quiet woman i walked into i minutes ago "well i knew your crazy ass was not sleeping so i was avoiding the exact argument we are about have right now and didn't i ask for permission before i left and you were too happy when i left but now i get home to this couldn't a guy get one of those peaceful woman to fall in love with" i say pushing the buttons to her crazy i know the words peaceful woman are one of her triggers " so is peace you are looking for then i will give you peace since I'm this crazy bitch that is looking for a fight where there is non" she gets up from the bed and she is in a full langerie set with heels on and i have to give it to her parents they created a master peice she is a 10 I'm telling you she is going to my side of the closet and she comes back with my underwear and a sleeping shirt what is she up to "Mr Motaung sir here is your sleeping gear do you want me me your peaceful girlfriend to run your shower while you take your peaceful shower and you will find me peacefully sleeping like a good girl am" she says in her sweet condescending voice ever and the surcarsim is not left to chance she goes in the bathroom and into the shower and opens it and it splashes her and she gasps when the cold water hits her and mind you she is still in that white lace number and the red stilettos make her even hotter and when she gasped it's the the same sound she makes when i enter her from behind and that is a complete turn on and she was looking for this because she likes pissing me off and i get to punish her ass and she doesn't know that I love every bit of it she is looking at me in her hooded eyes because the water keeps on falling her and I guess the temperature has adjusted and that right there is a fuckin turn on she bites her lower lip when i challenge her by getting under the water with my favourite expensive suit and I'm sure this water will ruin it but i have to challenge this woman and she melts under my gaze she is letting me hunt and she knows i love my prey with a little fighting spirit so she slaps me and that does the trick "I'm not your fool i took my time to go and buy this langerie and put it on for you and you decide to come back after 4 hours after i got ready" she is saying this in a Stan voice and she is wagging her finger at me like I'm Lesedi "woman just shut up and kiss you man" and she is a blushing mess and she looks down and that is a 'you make the first move' sign and i pin her to the shower glass and kiss her hungrily and she gives me the same energy and in no time that piece of langerie is torn into pieces and she has her nails deep into the skin on my back and she is moaning in my ear "there is no woman who can ever compete with you when it comes to me so get that idea out of you mind my love because you are stuck with me for a lifetime and I'm going to marry your crazy ass" i whisper in her ear as i take her from behind and she awards me with that gasps and I'm taken she is so warm and tight she fits me like a clove and the clit piercing she has been grazing my member with each thrust into her and the friction drives the both of us to the moon and back and i thank my lucky stars for this Haven she is the full parkage she is as wild as they come and perfect woman in public what more can you ask as a men "give me a baby my love" i say in her ear as i feel her closer to her end and her eyes are rolling at the back of her head in pleasure she is screaming her lungs out as i ram into her not showing her any mercy and to be honest she is boosting my ego with this noise and it does wonders for a man like me she is still screaming "I'm ready baby please give it to me i will carry it" and i humb even more and she gives a piercing scream as she comes undone and i groan like a dying dog as i follow suite and i spank her bouncy ass and slowly pulling out her warm cunt and she moans and my babies run down her jelly legs and the water cleans the both of us "i love you Mr Motaung" she says cleaning me with the sponge and i bring her close to me by her waist and the tattoos on her body are like second skin she wears them so well it's like looking at a fine piece of art "can you marry me and take my surname and i will make sure i make it my life's mission to make up for not being worthy enough to deserve you" and she goes cold and tries to move from my hold but not today we are having this conversation now so i adjust the water level to suite the both of us and grab her sponge and squeeze her shower gel and it all ways smells like fresh summers day "I'm serious my love i want you to make me a man amongst man and you a mother to Lesedi and her future siblings please marry me" i don't know if what I'm saying is what she is hearing because she is frozen and i run the foaming sponge on her boobs planting kisses on her jawline just to get her relax and that does the trick because she balance on my chest like this conversation just drained her "talk to me my love why do you avoid the marriage topic like it's the plague" and she release a long sigh and i know it's about to get deep "let's get out of here first then we can talk i don't want you catching a cold" you see what I mean who can not want such a caring wife she is thinking about me like we are not standing under water the both of us and she plants a kiss on my chest.

She is resting her beautiful head on my chest and you can tell by just looking that that's where she belongs and she takes in a lengthy breath and I guess she has been holding her breath in anticipation of the conversation we are about to have because this is about the next level our relationship is about to have and our future generations "so" and that what she only says "yes so can you be my wife and mother my kids" and I shoot straight so she knows I mean business and I'm glad she is calm and relaxed "yes that" what does she mean that because it would mean the world to me if agreed "is it a bad thing that I want to keep you forever" and that irritate her so much when I say I want to keep her "well I give you ten out of ten for you romance sir because that is the words every woman wants to hear from a man who is proposing marriage" and she just shot her own foot "wait a minute sis can you hold your horses a bit I'm not proposing this just a conversation" and she bust out laughing "you are an idiot" and it's my turn to laugh "but on a serious note babe what are your reservations on this issue"

Her:it's not that I don't want to be your wife my love it's just that I was raised by a single mom and it was difficult on her raising me alone and she had no option because my dad died before I was born and his family hated my mom so I inherited the hate as well so it has always been a fear of some sort, that's why when I got engaged the first time I wanted it to be perfect and I made sure not to fall pregnant before marriage and I tried to fit in his family but because of all that planning the relationship it self become a full time job and obsession so that is the reason we broke off engagement and after that I went back to being just me alone like after my mom died and your sister has always been the only constant thing in my life so when she took me with during that whole safe house saga I knew I had my family and things between us just escalated and this is my safe place with you and Lesedi so if things would not work between us then I wouldn't want it to affect the family that God and my mom blessed me with so marriage might do that and they will be forced to choose you if something goes wrong" and she takes in breathe and I'm brushing her back in assurance

Me:but babe why should we base it on failing even before we start the journey. My love I want to spend the rest of my life with you and your reservations are keeping us from being a proper family and it's also delaying my son coming to the world and experiencing all of your gorgeousness. because I will not have my son being born out of wedlock and I'm sure that I'm impregnating you so now do you see my struggle'

And she giggles burying her cute face on my chest "can you be serious please, but how am I going to get over this thing if you don't give a chance to adjust to the idea of us as married couple"

Me:"rato Laka there is nothing to adjust to just answer these questions and I will know that you are ready or not" and she adjust herself and nods "do you ever see me as your husband in this life or the next?" "Yes I'm happy with you and our baby so without a doubt yes" and I sigh heavily and I think it's because of the anticipation for the answer and what it means to me that she sees a life with me "so most importantly do ever wish to have Motaung as your second last name because I know you wouldn't want to change your surname" and she plays with her fingers shy to admit it "well that was even before we ever got together I had always wished for Alutha and I to become siblings instead of just friends and for your dad to look at me with pride like he does ALu but that sorely comes from not ever experiencing a father's love and sibling rivalry and I only saw it with you guys and I wanted it so yes I want to be a Motaung but not for you but for me

Advertisement

I'm selfish right?" I never thought it was that deep but she has also never opened to being this vulnerable to me she is always this strong happy woman I never saw her for the having issues like the rest of us so it goes back to the saying the happy ones are always the troubled ones "but my love if you don't give yourself the opportunity to be vulnerable and show me your naked self then how am I going to know you always give me happy, crazy and sexy confident I mean and it's only now I see this side of you but I bare it all out for you to see I mean with me you knew from the get go that I was fucked up and you accepted me flaws and all" I'm hurt that she saw it better to deal with things on her own while I'm here maybe she doesn't trust me enough to share her inner most darkest fear with me. She adjusts her self to sit on top of me and she leans in cupping my face and looking me straight in the eyes "it not you it's just that the world has never dealt me the fair amount of cards on hand and I adjusted to it dealing me the worst hand so I put up a facade that all is well,so this is a self defence mechanism on my part from a young age it has nothing with us and yes I'm fucked up like the rest of you but I don't let it determine my life and happiness because the world is a fucked place already so why give it the satisfaction of beating you up that's my take on life and that's the kind of lessons I will be teaching your son so are you still sure you want this marriage thing with me because I'm ready but do know I'm not going to plan a wedding I want us to just got to court and officialise it because in my heart we are already married and then maybe get started on the son making because I can't wait for the rest of our lives together" and she kisses me like her life depends on it and I responded grabbing her ass while at it,okay does this mean we are engaged "babe does this mean we are engaged?" and she sits straight on my groin "just set the appointment idiot we are getting married this week and I want it to be just us and princess but please make sure you get me the most biggest diamond ring so that all this bitches know what's up" and that last part just gets me busting with laughter she makes me the most happiest man on the planet "okay baby I accept your proposal to marry you I will be you husband" and she gives me a slap on my chest mad "what's with the abuse babe I'm only stating the obvious I didn't propose you did just now" I say still laughing and she joins in the laughter and she is most beautiful when she is like this. Now this is the happily ever after I sighed up for.

Who ever said love is beautiful I want them found and beheaded because love is a scam imagine being in love with an idiot. you know when I decided to date a nerd I was tired of getting played by all this player type of guys and like always I rushed in like the fool am I dated out side my type and tried a different approach that how I ended up dating Sean an even bigger fraud because I was led to believe that if I dated a quiet guy a nerd persay I would have peace of mind and I will not stress about him or our relationship but again like the fool I am I'm looking at the phone waiting for it to ring because I can't contact him at anytime he is the one who will call me and half of the time I don't know his location and mind you I'm the kind of possessive lover so you can imagine how frustrating my life right now is because like the very naive girl I am I fell for his quiet and dangerous diminor and his love languages are yet to be matched he loves out loud and aggressively so yes I'm a mess right now. I'm pulled out of my thoughts by my ringing phone and Motaung with a heart emoji is the one calling and I just let it ring because right now I'm angry and angry me does not have a filter so I do breathing exercises to calm myself down and I feel it working just in time when it rings again "hello" still breathing and he keeps quiet because I'm breathing heavily and he knows me too well to just let me calm down before he can talk "my Nubian queen" and that right there is the keys to my smile but not right now I can't be that weak let me be a good girl like he always says and listen to more lies this man is about to throw at me "are you calm now my love" you see never to be matched "I'm back and I miss you can I come over" and I'm melted like butter in the microwave "yes" it's the only thing I can come up with right where is my sense of pride as a lady I'm sure my mom can curse me if she can see me right now and before I can even reconsider the phone goes dead another habit I hate he never says bye before hanging up it always comes as a surprise okay I need to surmount that anger for when he gets here and believe me I'm trying and it's nowhere to be found.

okay before I trail off let me introduce myself my name is siphosethu Hlophe I'm one of 6 siblings and I'm a middle child maybe that's where I got the possessiveness you know how middle children are like they feel like they don't get enough of their parents love even if they get the fair amount of it is also like that in my case and it's even worse for me because I have a big brother that's a deputy parent to all 5 of us so I got enough love at home speaking of home I should call my mom just to check on them I don't do that a lot I should change that because they love me but I feel like they want to control me with the standards of the life they want me to live you see I'm a free spirit and like a butterfly I like to spread my wings and fly and with how traditional my family is they want to box me in the ideal daughter of Hlophe which is get married to a good man and and have a lot of kids and I'm the opposite of that I'm wild and like wildfire I burn hard all it takes it's a spark.

There is a knock at the door and I know he is here I open for him and he looks good as always but it seems like he never went to his place because he is carrying his dophl bag and back pack with his electronic "hi" he is testing the waters and I told my arms to my chest giving him a glare "can I please come in?" Another thing I love about him is he has manners he asks everytime instead of demanding I would like to meet the woman who raised him just to wash her feet because men like him are rare out here "baby I'm so tired can we not fight I just want to rest in the presence of the only woman I love enough to bring home to my grandparents" you know I have known this man for months now and it's the first time I hear him talking about his family and I always took it maybe he is an orphan that why I never asked and because I'm who I am I felt maybe he too like being by himself the only thing about I know for sure is that he is Sotho because of his surname and that he disappears a lot and when he does I can't reach him and only him can call me at that time "Haibo motho Waka you can't really still be upset I'm sorry my Nubian queen can you please forgive this ass you call a man just give him just one more chance to redeem himself" and I'm trying to keep my blush hidden so I move so he can enter and he dropped his dophl bag next to the couch and carefully placing his equipment bag pack on the coffee table and turns to me grabbing me by my waist to bring me closer to him and because my body structure is on the tiny and I hate that because he even looks taller even though he is short but against him I'm still tiny "okay my love I'm really sorry and I will explain in due time but now all I'm asking is for us not to fight because I had a shitty couple of weeks and I need my woman's warm hug" and I remember how much I missed him so I pull him in a warm hug sinking in his warm embrace and in that moment I feel love and I'm content with what he brings to the table his cologne spreads in my lung as I inhale it and he kisses me on top of my head and we stay like this for a while "I missed this so much" he says and I can feel tears blinding my eyes and I hate that only he can bring this side of me the variable side I really missed him too "where were you?" that the only thing a I can say right now "out of the country for work love" and accept that with a nod "can I kiss you now or you are still angry at me?" And I break free from the hug and I go on my toes to kiss him and he picks me and we share a passionate kiss it's been so long since we shared one and when he grabs my ass and I let out a little moan and i break the kiss "I don't think I like the nature of our relationship or am I even allowed to call it a relationship because I hardly know you and when you come around we don't even talk that much I mean you don't even know me aswell" and he lets me down and I go around the counter in the kitchen to prepare him something to eat "you can go freshen up while I make you a sandwich " and he sighs out loud before grabbing his bag disappearing in the bed room and I continued with what I'm doing in deep thoughts.

Sean

After a very deserving shower I lotion and put my bag in the closet because I don't see my self going to my house and I grab her fluffy gown it's very warm and it smells like her. Before going to the kitchen I need to clean this room it's very messy she left her clothes on the floor and the bed is not made and I love my spaces clean and the lady of the house could careless about tidy spaces so since I'm the visitor this will be my form of rent as I'm cleaning I come across a use condom and my blood just boils so she has been fucking so other niggers while busy making noise about for me to be considerate of her feeling and I swear to god this guy is going to regret ever looking her direction but first let me deal with my dog first because if anything I will never deal with a hoe for a girl friend so I pick the condom with a piece of tissue going to the kitchen and I find her eating her sandwich and I try and calm down because this is a woman after all so I need to be considerate of how fragile she is right now and she is so tiny it's cute but right now I'm mad so I go over to her and place the condom on her plate and I wash my hands pulling my plate to eat I need to see how she reacts to the little display I put on her plate and she is not even reacting to it but take it's of her plate and continues eat in silent and this action make my blood boil even more "you are an adult Sean if you want to ask me something you have to use your words because I'm not a mind reader" so she thinks this a joke "and boy why are you wearing my favourite gown now you are going to stretch it with you huge self" and I'm getting angrier by the second "so you bring guys to your house now" and she is back focusing on her plate "yes I do bring guys to my house and it should be obvious because you are sitting in my house the one I bought with my own money and if you talk like an adult you might get the answers you seek " who is he" and she looks in my eyes "Sean" and this one thinks I'm crazy so I stand taking the plate to the fridge because I lost my appetite "you are the only man in my life if that what you are failing to ask and these two are your helper when you disappear without contact" she pulls out two rubber d*cks and one looks like a monster and the other look big a black why would she put this things in the kitchen and why are they so big and black went there other colours in the shop I really feel insecure right now "and I use condoms because I hate cleaning them after use" she must be crazy if she thinks I'm okay with this "Motaung you have to talk my love you are scaring me you look pale say something" and I try to breathe but I'm failing where do these things fit because she is so tiny and she is even tiny against me and I'm considered a short man "phone" that the only thing I can say and seems to understand because she rushed to my back and comes back with it and I just press the number 3 on my dial and I put on speaker "baby" her sweet voice beams from the speaker "sos" and I hang up and she is pacing the room in anger and I feel like I'm dying my lungs are closing and it feels like I'm having a heart attack "baby" she keeps on saying and I know she is about to throw the biggest tantrum ever but right now I can't think about it my heart is giving up on me I never thought I would die like this.

Siphosethu

I can't believe this asshole just called a bitch in my presence even worse in my house just because I masturbate once in a while he has the nerve to disrespect me like this maybe the signs where there the disappearing and calls it makes sense now and I look at him he and he is holding on to his chest and he is turning pale just because of a few dildos he is such a pussy I hope he dies from the panic attack and there is a loud bang on my door and I wonder how that person came in because this is a gated community but maybe it's the security so I go and open and there stands a very beautiful man she can not be real she is so sexy in that black outfit and she is not too tall but taller than me but what scares me the most is the gun on her thigh and the one in her hand her face screams danger "helpppp" that would be my weak ass cheating boyfriend and the lady pushes me out of the way and instendly the room goes dark the hairs on my neck stand what is she "baby what's wrong who hurt you I swear I'm going to kill them" and she starts examination on him by the things she is doing you can tell she is a doctor and she pulls a knife from her boot and press in on his left side and stabs him and he breaths in very sharply and I scream my lung out and then this tall white man comes in and point his gun at me shutting me up instendly and she says something in a foreign language and the guy takes out his phone calling someone and in no time there is now three white man in my kitchen and the other one says something and the rest laugh while holding my dildos and I keep quiet because I'm shit scared and they pick him up heading to the door I'm not sure if he is dead because they stabled him and the lady points a gun at me "get his back pack and let's go and you better pray nothing happens to him or you will pay with you life" and I have never seen a gun in my life and I'm praying that I live through whatever is happening now I grab the bag and go out and she just closes the door and there is a car her it looks very expensive and I would tell the model if there was no gun on my back I she nudges me to enter and she enters and the big guy drive and the other two still have my dildos in hand playing with them

We get to this beautiful house and it's so big I don't think I have ever see something like this only in movies I mean these people look foreign and maybe they are drug lord I mean that what foreign people are known for in South Africa I wish they don't traffic me and I look like a teen I say another prayer and immediately the car stops they rush him in the house and now there is a lot of blood and we are rushed to what seems like a hospital room and there is this doctor guy and they begin working on him and the lady look in her zone and he is hooked up to these machines and I'm a mess I keep on crying and now the quilt that I'm the course of all this if he dies it's on me so I say another prayer for God to save him God knows I love him even if I have never said it I love him and he might die without knowing it and they seem to have finished and the lady say "now we wait" and the other big guy comes in and the lady's eyes sparkle you can tell she is not the monster that came to my house she is soft and he kisses her and the love is something straight out of a novel they don't need to say it because it radiates and I envy that so much why can't Sean be like this and they both turn to my direction and they look at each before coming closer "let me get her cleaned up" and he just nods she signals I stand and she walk a head of me leading me to a room next to this one and it white in colour this house is so clean it wouldn't survive with me in it "you must be siphosethu right" and I'm shocked she knows me so I nod I'm trying to get on her bad side "I hope for your sake you are not the course of his heart attack" and my face turns in to horror because he was just having a panic attack I have them all the time "heart attack" I say in a very low tone "yes he almost died" and my tears just gush out and she turns to leave and now I'm alone in this room and I throw myself on the white bed and cry my eyes out I didn't mean to kill him he is going to hate me when wakes up oh my god he almost died and what did she mean when she said she hopes I'm not responsible oh my god they are going to kill me I saw them and how does my sweet Sean know this people he doesn't seem like the guy who mixes with criminal and I'm very sure these people are criminals a lot keep going in and out of my head until I can't think anymore.

I must have dosed of because I. Wake up and my eye are heavy and I don't recognise the room and it all comes flooding back oh god my Sean and I got out of the room running I don't care if they kill me what's important right now is Sean and I get to the door and I hear laughter in the hospital room and it's seems he is up and the nerves come rushing in and I Summon the courage and I enter the room and the all turn to the door and he is up sitting and the is only a drip with blood connected to his arm and there are patches on his chest and there is a mechine that's making loud sound and they all look at me and the bust out laughing and the lady tries so stop them Jesus this is so embarrassing but I hold my head up like the lady I am going next to him and the machines go crazy oh my god this can't happening "hay hay calm down I just fixed you will calm down or I will reap that heart out of you right now and you ass holes leave the room" and they laughed even more before they leave but not before grabbing my toys idiots "and you little madam try not to kill him and he goes to him and palms his head in her hands and she leans in connecting their foreheads "stop it I know you are stronger than this and the monsters still need you and don't worry I will get rid of them you don't have to see them again and I promise to shoot anyone who brings them up again" and he smiles and she pecks his lips making the kiss linger for a couple of seconds and my blood boils and she faces me "I'm not the enemy here" she says before leaving the room and I hate her I move closer to his bed and he is trying to calm down but what I see in his eye is not anger but terror he is scared and that amazes me what's got him so scared "how are you feeling?" I enquire and he looks at me from head to toe "I could be better" and he reaches his hand to me and I take it climbing on the bed carefully not to hurt him "I'm sorry" he says and I shake my head with tears coming out "no you did nothing wrong I'm sorry I didn't know it was a heart attack I thought you are having a picnic attack and they are harmless they hurt but they can't kill you I'm really sorry and what triggered it" and he look like he is processing everything "it's nothing babe let's forget it" and if he thinks I'm letting it go he has another thing coming "okay babe then let's forget about us too because I'm tired of dating someone I hardly know and on top of that there is a gorgeous women who kisses you on the lips for more than five seconds and calls you baby you know I love you but this I'm over it I will not date a man who is in a relationship with another woman sorry I rather remain single even my toys are better than this" and the mechines go crazy at the mansion of toys oh that the problem my toys "hay calm down" and he breathes in an out trying to steady his breathing "can we not talk about your.....things and Alutha is my person she is the light of my life and she owns my heart if you say you love me them you must know we come as a package nothing and no one can between us" and I just get even angrier who says that "you are sick if you think I will ever share a men I'm too beautiful for that" and he smiles bring me closer "don't worry it's just her and the monsters oh and the queen of my heart just 4 people my love you can handle it" this man wants to kill me "atleast you own my body that they can't touch it's all yours but the heart you can take it but it is already occupied but you can have it with its contents" and I try to move "fuck you"

I love toying with her and she is really worked up right now and I love it and it's the truth all those people own my heart but she need to accept that she is getting a second hand heart and it comes with furniture "you are hurting me and I never thought you could do it but it okay I will leave" and she tries getting out of bed and I hold her in place and the door bust open and my queen comes in with tears running down her beautiful face "oh Nana my baby who did this to you mokgomotsi" and she kisses my whole face she starts checking my whole body and the tiny woman in my life she has gotten down from the bed and she is sitting quietly on the chair "my queen I'm fine it's nothing and you know I don't need you dying on me you are my baby" and she is just happy I'm okay I don't know how she could survive my death after my mom I'm the only thing that is connecting them to her "I'm okay I promise you know your princess will never let me die I'm far too important to her to just die she can even cross over to heaven just to bring me back to only kill me again for dying" and that make her giggle" who said you are going to heaven" and that makes me laugh and I hurt myself and the tiny tots rushed to my side and that only now she sees her and she frowns "you know I'm the only Saint in this family"and she does not tear her eyes from my tiny person and she has her head bowed in shame and I know it's because her family is very traditional so her being here seems disrespectful she might think she escaped the way of her family but she carries it her heart and that makes me happy "who is this and I hope she is not your girlfriend because I don't want trouble you will be charged with statutory rape how old is she 16. young girl who are you and where is you mother?" And I bust in laughter hurting my self in the process "will you stop" she says through her teeth still with her head down "I'm siphosethu Hlophe ma and my mother is in KZN along with my father but my two brothers are around Gauteng and no ma there is no trouble I'm 25year old" and my queen seems to be calmed by that piece of information "oh sorry my baby you are so beautiful yet so tiny sorry if I offended you my love I'm very protective of my babies I'm this handsome young man's granny" she introduces herself and she take the hand eyes still on the ground "tiny tots this is the queen the one I mentioned earlier" and she gives me a death stare "so you have girlfriend we know nothing about mokgomotsi I can't believe this" and she rushed to hug her "princess knows about her Mme" and she glared at me of course princess would know about her before me she is the owner of you heart I hope this beautiful lady here can stand your sister because I really like her I hope she is strong enough and I don't know why you kids keep bringing Zulu people in the family it was first princess with Bheki now it's you with this gorgeous women here atleast my great-grandchildren will be cute have you seen how the monsters are so adorable maybe this tribe has something to do with" and she rambles I like her when she is like this that means she is accepting of my tiny tots and I can't believe that small human being almost killed with shock I'm still asking myself how those things fit in her SMH.

They left me here on my own and now Bheki is in my space I really thought this guy hated people but he is forever in my space and I can't believe his profile has become this big head of all mafia and I can't believe he escaped that hell hole if I didn't know the family man side of his I would be shaking in my boots right now but no he is just a big teddy bear "tell me ntwana what happened because these idiots keep laughing when I ask Alutha" and I shake my head thinking about it and it's still freaks me out "Hai grotmaan I'm in a position that I never thought I would be in but here am and I just realised my new phobia" and it's like I just confuse him even more "well the lady you just saw is my girlfriend of 8 months and well you know the kind of job I do so I'm not in town most times and she can't call me whenever sometimes I'm gone for months but when I come back I make sure I spend it with so this morning I came back to that mission you send me on and I went to her place as usual and she was mad as usual but I worked my magic and she melted so I decided to go take a shower and just relax and when I was done I decided to do a little cleaning because she hate cleaning and I really don't mind as I was cleaning I found a used condom and I became mad so I picked it up and placed in on the plate she was eating from but still she didn't react but kept on eating she is very stubborn so after a while she says things like if I have questions why don't I ask them like an adult lam and that drove me to the edge but I guess she could see I'm that I'm mad so she reached to draw in the kitchen and pulled out those monsters the guys are playing with and right there I was confused until she told me that those are my helpers when I'm gone for months and that's when I felt like I was dying you know the problem was not that she mustibates the problem was where do those things fit and why are they black wasn't there any other colours like pink or something and the other one doesn't even look like a penis but a monster and I became very insecure" I say and I can see he is holding in his laughter "so in other words you are afraid of plastic d*cks" and I shake my head "I'm afraid of my woman's fantasies what could it be that possessed her to buy those if not she is fantasising of being f*cked monsters and I love this girl so much and she is so tiny how can the future mother of my girls fantasies of such thing

oh my god she is going to ruin my babies" and he bust out laughing and it's so weird so see him laughing and now the machines are going crazy making the situation even worse "haye ntwana come down there is nothing that's going happen to you kids except for then being very short and tiny Imagen little human being that come from the both of you shame poor kids but you need to talk to her and if it's a thing then find a solution that how partnerships work" and the minute he mentioned my tiny human being I became very happy I can't wait but I pray they are nothing like Alutha or their mother I just need sweet cute babies.

Bheki left and grandma hasn't brought back my girlfriend and I miss her and I hope she survives those two speak of the devil and he shall appear they come in and it looks like they have their hair and nails done and my tiny tots looks very beautiful instead of the boy cut she always has on she has on a short curly weave and she even has pink nails on she is so going to grab my balls with later SMH and I have to admit the woman in my family are gorgeous the genes are out of this world "Nana she is a keeper I hope to see her in the next family dinner but right now I need to leave your papa has been blowing up my phone so bye love you try taking it easy princess make sure he is okay I love you babies and tiny tots see at the dinner in my house" she says kissing our lips including my baby and I can tell she is uncomfortable with it but it's a family thing and I guess that why the peréz are a perfect fit because they also practice the kiss on the lips practice and Bheki hates it being done to his wife but he can't say anything about it "you are better now baby I just need to check you up tomorrow the you will be fine but not for work you need to take some time off okay" and I nod and she kisses my forehead "let me go and see Bheki and the monsters and knowing you and your space I know you will be gone when come down tomorrow morning you can take one of my cars leave bheki's cars alone please I can't deal with grumpy him it one nice knowing you tiny tots and welcome to the family I'm going to my love nest I'm sure they miss me now" and she kisses her on her forehead too before leaving the room and I'm left with this tiny human being "let me get dressed so that we can leave and I go to my room to get dressed and I put the now clean gown on top and it still smells like her and I grab my bag then we are off.

Siphosethu (tiny tots)

You know I don't know how to feel about the past few hours events I don't know what to make of it and I'm scared to ask because Mr man here might have a heart attack and what puzzles me the most is why did he make me think he didn't have a family or he was not family oriented person but today I saw how much love is in that family they are a bit shady but loving and I thought his "baby" was a b*TCH but only to find out that she is the sweetest but what I saw in my apartment was a different person and even the husband gives demonic vibe I can't tell really "peny for your thoughts" he drags me out of my thoughts and I release a long sigh because I'm confused why can't I just find a man who adores me so much that he sees a life with me or atleast want to share some aspect of his life with me "nothing much" I say with a voice coated with sadness I'm still looking outside the car window I can't even look at him maybe love was not meant for people like me I just miss my mother right now I wish I was home "hay don't cry I'm sorry I didn't mean to scare you" I wipe the tears away I didn't even notice I was crying I'm really sad right now and it takes a lot for me to be sad since I'm a very out spoken person yes angry and annoyed never sad and he pulls the car over mind you it's late he get out and comes to my side and opens the door I really love this car and when she said one of my cars I thought she was talking about two or three but now a whole garage. Back to the present im in his arm and this feels so right and his arms are covering my whole body that's how tiny lam "baby talk to me and please don't give me IT'S NOTHING speech because that is not you I fell in love with the crazy in you so don't go switching on me" and that make us both laugh but I end up breaking in a son and he is trying so much to calm me down and it's because he said he loves me but I don't feel that love I don't see it and I'm afraid I fell to quickly and I don't know how to get myself out now I just need my mom "can you please take me home" and he nod "we are going home now tiny" and I shake my head still tear running down "I mean home Mzimkulu home to my mom" and he sighs and nods getting me back in the car and running to his side to begin the journey home "do you what to pass buy the house to get something and I shake my head but atleast im not crying anymore and he just nods driving to join the N1 and I just close my eyes to rest them.

I'm in the love nest with my little family or should I be saying big family

Advertisement

I really love what I have been blessed with the monsters are two months old now and I have gotten them on a routine and I'm happy they sleep during the night and play and take naps during the day so they are not too much trouble anymore and we enjoy them and I'm in love with little Akanu he is the sweetest while bheki's monster drains the life out of me because she get sick all the time and she some time just cries for nothing and Masango say that why Akanu is peaceful she takes everything on his behalf and Masango is another constant person in our house and he suggested that we build outside and he prefers if it's near the dam that runs through our back yard and I love that space I wanted to do something with it but I guess Masango wins all the time because babawabo has started with the contractors and since he said the hut is for the twins then I have no problem with it they are all sleeping on our bed and I had to conjoin our room to their nursery because ghost is very possessive when it comes to his son's protector because I would wake up and find my husband not in bed and when I go to the nursery I find ghost staring at makhosi like she will disappear but I get it she goes through a lot as a baby to ensure that her brother is okay she starts moving and I know what's coming so I rush to pick her up and and Humm her sweet melody my mum taught me and it always helps she said it's an ancient battle cry they used when they lost soldier but won the battle and it works like a charm because this little warrior is falling back to sleep and my phone flashes a light and I pick it up and I see it's one of my car trackers and it's in the N1 and I know it's Sean and I'm surprised because he can't drive that long distance because he is not fully healed so I call him and it rings "baby" that his response "why are you in the N1 I hope you are not going to work and where is your tiny tots" and he sighs heavily and I know it's bad maybe I came too strong on her "she asked I take her home to her mom she was not her crazy self tonight I have never seen her crying like that and I know you said take is easy but I need to make sure she is okay even if it hurts me" and I can tell their relationship might not make it through this and that's what scares him most " it's okay baby I understand baby just pull over I will get one of the boys to come drive you can't drive that distance" and he breaths in and out again "I can't let her wake up and cry that she is not home so I will be fine" and the Motaung stubbornness comes out its most dominant in him and I think it's because his father is the sweetest human being so it has to be from our side " I said pull over in a minute someone will be there" and I hear him pull over " please don't send the idiots"

and I chuckle at that because they're idiots "don't worry Manuel is coming he said he is going to Durban anyway" and I know it must be difficult for him because this is his first girlfriend and I know Sean might seem like a strong person but I know he is very fragile and I think it stems from being a motherless baby like myself I know what that can do to a person "okay baby" I hang up and dial Manuel and he said he will track my car and I know he will be there in no time, Sean is going through the most in his relationship and most of it is his fault because it's not easy to open up because his girlfriend says they have been dating for awhile but she thought he was an orphan because he never talks even about us so that why it was a shock to see us and she says he disappears for a long period of time and when he comes back he expects things to be fine and I thought ghost was bad but Sean takes the cake he sucks at this relationship thing he relationships wrong maybe that's why they get along so well and Bheki did say he had a talk with him and I think things will be okay let me pay the princess down and get some rest as well.

I feel the car shaking just a little and I can tell we are on a bumpy road and head is resting on him because I smell his cologne and I raise my head to open my eyes because if he is here then who is driving because the car is still moving I open my eyes and they come in contact with a pair of Hazel brown eyes on the review mirror and they quickly focus back on the road and I can see it's one of the men who came to my apartment but how did he become our driver I move a little and Sean flinched I guess he is uncomfortable because my whole body is on him he is carrying me like a baby how did he even move me from the passenger seat and his eyes open and he kisses me on my forehead and it's still very dark outside maybe it's after midnight and we are in my area now I can tell with the street lights "hey how are you doing now?" And I shake my head because I don't trust my voice the sadness has eaten through me and I can't come out of it but seeing my mom will do "don't worry sweetheart you will be okay and you can take as much time you need I will wait and we will drive back together just worry about being okay for me for us" he says not minding the person in the car with us "in 10 minutes turn left and your destination is on the left" the navigation lady says and I know I'm home and all the sadness comes crashing in and peck lands on forehead and a soft love you comes out and when the car stops I jump of him and open the door and he also comes out and pulls me in a hug and kisses me deeply and the lights at home come on I guess it's the car light that woke up my dad he is a light sleeper "you better go other wise you will be subjected to a beating of you life my dad is awake and I know he is looking so I have questions to answer when I go in" and he pecks my lips one more time before handing me his work phone and he never lets me touch it "I will call you there just answer but don't answer international calls it's work I love you okay" and I nod my head and break the hug running to the gate and it's locked so I jumb it we used to do this with tumbu back in the day when I reach the door it's already open and my dad is standing there and to be honest he is the most strict parent and my mom is the softy and I know I'm about to get an interrogation "sipho why are kissing men next to my yard have you no shame you know we don't do that here and I know that why you moved to that sinful place to do but please don't bring it to my house" he is not loud but you can hear the sterness from his voice and that brings me back to what brought me here my mom and I let out a son and I crush on my knees and the stern look quickly disappears and fear and anger coats his entire face and he picks me up and I'm still crying "mavezi sheshisa ingane" (Mavezi hurry the child) and I'm carried to the lounge an my mom is there scared "what happened baba why would my child come back crying so late and where the hell is Dlezi when my child has to travel at night crying when I told him to look after them" and she is so scared of the unknown "phephisa Wena Nana(hush now baby)mom is here she will make it all go away" and she can see it's not physical pain but emotional I guess she is experienced in this things because she has older daughters and I'm resting on her breasts and there is no better feeling than this and I can see my dad leaving the room and I think he too is not foreign to the sight "let's get you in a bath it will make you feel better" and she stands up reaching for my hand leading me to the bathroom and runs me a hot bath with essential oils and salts and I love every bit of it and it seems to have calm me down and she is sitting on the toilet watching me "let's get you out the water is cold now and I stand "let me go make us so camomile tea while you lotion" and she leaves and i get to it when I get to my room it's like I never left it's exactly the same but cleaner and the SpongeBob onesie on my bed so wear that with matching Uggs then I just on the bed and get comfortable "you see you did right by coming home now look you are much better" she hands me my tea and she get under the blanket with me "now talk to mom" and I let out a sigh "everything thing is just a mess ma and I don't even know where to start" and she sips on her tea "how about we start from the beginning" and I guess she is right " I guess we about to stay up till morning you might need to get comfortable" and she nods well it all started when I started dating when I got to Jozi I was not even interested in men and relationships but what happened I fell for a man well we can't really call him a man well a boy because he doesn't deserve to be called one, he was what we call a fuckboy he messed with my heart so much and I kept going back to him because well he was my first in everything" I look at her after I say that and she is not surprised so I continue "well we kept at it until he slept with my then roommate so I broke things off and after a long time I healed and got back on the horse but now my heart was guarded but being me I fell again and he began making me out to be crazy like I was the cause of his cheating because he knew I'm a possessive lover and I'm very jealous so that was the last nail to the coffin that is my heart but I still made it and left the relationship before it became abusive since I saw it was where it was heading

so I took a break and did my own thing and focused on my numbers (well I work with numbers I did actual science at school that's my work) and when I started freelancing my services I met this guy at work he was working at an IT company so that how I first met him and from then we started bumping into each other randomly so he took a liking in me and told me. because he was different to the previous guys I was with before I gave into his charm and his quiet and calm demeanor and the fact that he was educated and had done well for himself again I fell and because he was a nerd computer gig I thought it will be easy so I started dating him and that was months back but I noticed that Maan guy doesn't have time he is always busy and he calls me when he gets time and worse part I can't contact him when he MIA only he can contact him and by then I had already fell for him so I decided to buy toys you know sex toys for when he is gone for longer periods of time (her face is drained because I guess this is taboo in her books but what did I expect from Jesus's cousin SMH) so I bought them and used one recently and you know how lazy I am (she nods)so I used it with a condom (I hide my face in shame with the blanket) and I guess I didn't throw the condom away I left it on the floor so as usual he came back yesterday and we had mini argument about his unavailability but I let it go because I could see he was tired so I let him in and told him to go shower while I made food and him being the neat freak he started cleaning my room only to find the condom and came back put it on my plate and kept quiet sat down and enjoyed his sandwich like nothing happened like who does that so I also put it aside and started eating again until he asked do I bring guys back to my house now so I responded and said yes and he got all mad so I put him out of his misery and told him yes I bring him and and only him and I pulled the toys from the kitchen draw because I was cleaning them and I told him those were his helpers and he started breathing heavily and and called his cousin mind you I didn't even know he has family because he never really talks, and because she is a doctor she came running and I thought he was just being dramatic because I always have panic attacks and they are not fatal and when she came she started performing a mini surgery on him only then he started breathing (I'm in tears now because he almost died)so they rushed him to the hospital there was so much blood and that when I realised it was not a panic attack but a heart attack and it was my fault so when he woke up I got to know that he has this big family and the most adorable grandma and she kisses everyone including me on the lips and he is loved. my biggest issue was why can't I find someone who is willing to spend the rest of my life with I mean all my sisters are happily married simtha and Sina (simthandile and sinamile twins older than by 3 years all my mother's children are 3years apart except my older sister Simphiwe and my brother simingaye and yes they are obsessed with the latter S oh and my younger brother sipheto)and it's only me who can't get it right and that made me very sad so I asked that he

bring me home because why would he not share his family and life with me it only made sense that he didn't trust me with his life and there for didn't tell me" and I let out a sigh waiting for her to talk because that was a mouth full and she brings me to her breasts and brushes my back in comfort because I'm crying for my failing relationship "so Nana I hear you and trust me for the kind of family we are that is a lot and to know this is what has been happening in that sinful place scares me that you are going back but now you need to know the truth and the truth is my child I think you are possessed because the things you do Hai if it was you father who found condoms at my place I would be dead before even explaining and to think you went and bought toys Hai but he is a sensible young man for reacting the way he did and I have a feel that he didn't tell you about his family because you never brought up you own and if that's the case then I'm very disappointed in you because we love you as a family and we should be the first thing you talk about with a potential partner so he followed your lead and as for the heart attack and the almost dying Hai I have no words so tell me this happened yesterday (I nod) and he still brought you here while he is in pain because you wanted to be with your mom (again I nod) then baby that man loves you but I know you and your stubbornness you are thinking all sort of nonsense before talking to the boy and if you say he comes from a good family that means he has a good head on his shoulders so start communicating and leave the bed alone because now you are in this mess because you rushed jumping in bed before knowing each other and if you are not careful you will lose him.

I'm woken up by a phone ringing and because it's not mine I don't wake and I remember that he gave me his phone yesterday I reach for it and answer "hello" and there is silence at the other side "tiny tots"(I hate the nickname I know I'm tiny why rub it in) "hay baby how are you feeling today"(and after the talk with my mom I realised the wrong things I have been doing in the relationship and if I want to give it a fighting chance I need to change my attitude going forward) "I'm fine love how are you feeling now did I get you into trouble with you dad?"(he asks with so much concern in his voice maybe mom was right) "not too much my love I'm just worried about you I made you travel while you are sick I feel so selfish" "don't beat yourself up for needing you mom's emotional support I just hate seeing you like that I think that's what broke me" "don't worry about me my love but I'm glad I came home my mom spoke some sense into me and she made me see thing in another light" and he breaths out loud "I'm glad you are okay" I'm also glad I'm okay too really we spoke some more until he had to go eat so that he could take his medication and I also woke up and made the bed and went to freshen up and going to the kitchen because I still have some answering to do from my dad because I know what I did was very disrespectful to him because we don't do what I did in front of my father's house so I also need to apologize "morning" I say in a very low tone showing remorse for my deeds "morning my love how are you this morning" that's my ever so sweet mother "I'm better now mom thank you" and there is some silence on the table and I decide to breaking it "baba I would like to apologize for what I did last night or this morning" and he just stared at me " what exactly did you do princess I want to hear you say it because I don't think you understand the disrespect your actions coursed" and I hang my head low because I know my dad will never let this go until there is a fine payed "I'm sorry for being disrespectful by kissing a men in front of you yard and for him dropping me off in front of you home I'm really sorry dad I regret my actions" I think that will do and he nods "so who is that man because I don't know him does he know he will have to pay a fine for his actions" and it's my turn to nod breakfast carried on and I spend the rest of my showing my remorse by cleaning that is the only thing I hate about coming home is the amount of cleaning that is being done.

It's been a few day here in Durban and I'm better and I'm glad my girl is better as well and we are heading back home today. I miss her so much I haven't seen her since we got here well I'm also staying with Manuel and he seem very pre-occupied and I'm suspecting and lady is involved because he asked me to look into a certain family and they are very rural people so I don't think it has any thing to do with business. Alutha has been calling to check up on me and I'm glad she gave me permission to travel back home but under a condition that I don't drive and Manuel is staying back so I will have to hire someone if my girl can't drive and since we are good now I guess the trip back will be more pleasant and I really love how she has been speaking to me lately and when I asked she said it had everything to do with her mom speaking sense into her and by just that her mom became my favorite in law.

She said she is ready and I have to pick her up at the taxi stop near her home because I can't afford to owe her dad more fines. So that were I'm heading to and she will drive back Durban.

She seems lighter and more in tune with her emotions and I think I love this side of her she is in a long dress and her head is covered and she is so natural her skin is glowing. She is not my hot shot girlfriend with power suits and weaves and makeup she is just a girl from KZN and I love it.

"I wish I can see more of this side of you" and she looks at me like I'm crazy

"Which side because if you are talking about the farm juliet look then you are not ever going to see it. I'm wearing this because I didn't have clothes but my clothes from back in the day and this here is not my style it's my mom's because she is the one that bought this dress."

"Well that confirms it then your mom is my favourite in law not the fines demanding in law" and she busts out laughing and I join her because her laugh is so contagious

"Well then that means you will hate the rest of my family because Dlezi is a shadow of my dad and all my sisters are very traditional the only odd man out is me and thumbu we live our life the way we please and that is often seen as disrespectful in my family." Okay this is new she is talking about her entire family and she has always given me the impression she is not family orientated but with the glow she has when talking right now I think I miss judged her.

"So you are telling me that I will be surrounded by a lot of your dad's minions when I finally get to be introduced?" That is a very strategic question because I never thought we can ever get to publicising our relationship even to our families because she has always given me that picture that we are the only ones in this relationship and we are never going to be more than what we are so I really want to know where this is going because my family really like her and I have to know that it's not one-sided.

"So you want to be introduced?" She asks as if I'm the one with the problem and I nod

"Yes eventually and why does it seem like you are shocked with that" and she chuckles

"Nothing babe it's just that you are never available even emotionally so I assumed you are not really serious about us. I mean I never thought you had a family or friends until.....

"That because you are always closed off and you always give me a different narrative of our relationship so I thought me involving my family will scare you off because they are very overwhelming and very intense with affection so I emulated what I got from you and it helped that I work most of the time" Okay I just realized we don't really know each other that much

point of marriage and I really didn't see you going there and I thought you were an orphan so I didn't what to rub my family in you face. And if you want to be introduced to my family then you must be really ready to take our relationship to the next level" I have never really thought of marriage before and as for she thought I was an orphan wow I won't even go there because we both have been working with assumptions in this relationship and I think it's time I take some time off to get to know my woman and just give this relationship a real fighting chance because I really see my self with this woman for the rest of my life.

"Well that means I'm marrying you then because I want to meet all you family members" and she blushes and that is weird for me because she is not you blushing bride type of woman she is more of a less in tense vision of Alutha minus the mafia and I love that but even Alutha blushes when she is with bheki so I guess I have to bring up most of this side of her "and she is blushing wow babe I never thought I could see it Ms independent boss bitch her self blushing wow I guess I have to hurry and talk to my grandfather about those cows he promised me" she is trying so much to hide the blush and its hard because she is driving I really love this tiny human being.

This house is much calm now seeing the twins are growing and me and Bheki have settled into a routine but it's hard living with multi personality because they can just take over shutting us off and it's has been happening a lot since the babies arrived and I suggested we go for check-up and maybe take medication to help control it but my husband doesn't see any wrong with it and he says we must give the Ghost and Death a chance to raise their children in peace like Masango said and he thinks I don't trust them with the kids but my problem is the total shut off and it makes me feel crazy.

My husband has been locked in that office since morning and it's noon now and I would love to see him now I miss him so I go knock on the door and stick my head in "hay" I say when I see he is in his zone he didn't even notice me coming in and I walk to his chair and I push it back to sit on his lap "hello mama what's wrong do you miss me" and I cling to his neck sitting with both my legs on the sides of his chair and I can feel him growing pressing on my honey pot and that gets me hot so I snuggle closer on the cock of his neck "yes babawabo you have been in here for so long I even forgot how it feels when you touch me" pure lies I can never forget what his touch do to me I'm just guilt tripping him for attention "we both know that not true mama but you are right I have been so sucked in my work that I forgot I have other responsibilities" he says and you can tell he is very frustrated with this office work because he is more of an assassin than this boss thing and the fact that he is not adjusting to it, it make me feel guilty that he made such a sacrifice for this family and I'm failing to meet him half way.

"Maybe you should go out for a kill maybe that will help you take your mind of things and it been a while since ghost has been out so how about I give you some of my kills then I will do some office work for a few days?" And he just sighs because this is where most of our fight originate from me not taking my spot next to him as his queen in the mafia world and I feel like I will be giving up all that I worked so hard on and that is difficult for me and I don't know if I can really stop because I have so many people depending on my leadership in my organization that it will feel like I'm giving up on them and he can't understand because he has always ran a one man ship while I have two mafia groups under me because my grandfather also retired and I now run the African mafia too. So it's a lot of people depending on me "can we not talk about this my love because it always ends with you shouting and you know I hate it when you treat me like Khanu and Noma so can I just rest on my wife's full chest and shut out the rest of the world" Okay that also another issue we have it's me shouting and he says I can't separate being a boss and a wife of a Zulu man and he prefers the spoiled brat me because he contributed to that as well but this boss bitch attitude rubs him the wrong way and that when ghost comes out and he feels like both me and Ghost undermine his position as the head of the house. I know it's a lot so I pull him closer to my chest and massage his head because I choose to be his peace than prove a point.

Now we are bathing the two angels and I can't help but look at them and smile how can just three people make one so complete. They're mine and I can lay my life for them, when I look at them, I know all the sacrifice and the hard work is worth it and that motivates me to do more to push myself. "Hay babe can we talk after putting them to bed?" And he knows what I mean because we have rules in this house the only business area is the office so No talking about business outside the office so if I have something to talking about I have to make an appointment and it shall be discussed and that one of my punishment because I can't separate my lives and now he forces the separation "Okay mama but not before having my sweet cake because your appointments always end up with an agreement and I'm too horny for that" Okay why is he thinking I'm going to fight with him because I actually trying to find a solution for our never ending fights about our work because this work relationship is toxic and we can't keep separating our lives from our work because both my family and work make me happy and separating them is too much and I feel like I'm always walking on egg shells around him.

Akhanu is such a boss baby he demands attention from all of us and his sister is such a darling allowing him all the attention and because ghost loves the princess too much, he gets to cuddle her while me and death deal with the attention seeker here. I say me and death because she lets me in on their night routine of singing old lullabies in ancient language and he falls right asleep and it fascinates me of how old is the spirits that inhabits our bodies because I went and researched about it and Death blocked me out like I was doing something that is wrong and Ghost said somethings are meant to remain hidden because it disrupt the natural order of time and I should leave it alone. So since then I have let it go and let them deal with the weird things khanu usually do and they always take him near the water at full moon and both me and Bheki go blank for those days and we have made peace with it and Masango did promise us that no harm fall to the babies because whatever is done to akhanu its also done for Noma.

They both sleep now and I go in the shower because I need to perform my wifely duties before I could have an appointment with boss Bheki and I hate that he make me out like I'm so incapable of being his wife and recently he treats me like a ticking boom and I really miss when he would treat me like an egg not that he stopped but now he also has this habit of thinking I'm out to burn everything in my way just to have my way and that not it I just love when thing run smoothly and he is just frustrated because he hasn't killed in a while and I have come to learn that Ghost and Death love killing and it feeds them somehow because lately Bheki only eats chicken that he killed himself and he even bought pots outside and he kills the chicken himself and it's like he always says something after the chicken is killed and that where I learned that I'm not behaving weirdly because I kill often because some missions I take myself and Death always comes back refreshed and it's weird that it does not affect the babies because one of my men once said I should take time out because I have young babies and it brings bad spirits to them but Masango says it's fine only if I go cleanse in the river or dam after every kill and that why Bheki chose a house near the dam because he is very traditional so it was normal to him bathing in the freezing dam but I have to admit it is very releasing after the bath "what's on your mind Mawabo you look distracted" and he comes in while I'm moisturizing "nothing love I'm just getting ready for my husband" I say putting on my silk short gown with nothing underneath "mmmhm" and he comes closer grabbing my waist bringing me closer to him and he is still a tower "I know things are really difficult now but I promise it will get better we are just finding our feet and once things settle we will get back to being us again" he assures and I sigh heavily because I miss us without boundaries and rules I miss Ghost because this days he never comes out just for me and when I ask I'm told that his thirst for blood is too much and he might hurt me and I know I can take it he is also part of my husband and I know I can handle him because I know Death is still not allowed to join in sexually according to their traditions and she will be ready after a year and I refuse I can never so I'm glad I get to handle him on my own but it's disappointing that he fears for me "I miss Ghost I feel like he's neglected me after the birth of the twins" and I feel him coming out with the tightness of his grip on my waist and I'm sure Bheki is blocked out and it's just me and him and he sniffs my hair in a long sniff "I'm weak woman and I know I might lose control" he is so formal and I stand on my toes reaching for his neck "I want you to share that with me allow me in and show me your vulnerability maybe then I can understand because now I feel out even Bheki is out of touch, I'm just floating with No anchor" I tell him honestly and he pulls my bottom lip between his teeth "tell me what you want and I shall provide it my queen" and a single tear fall from my eye he has never called me that "I want to dance for you again, I want us to go on a mission together and I want to be one with you not just Bheki but both of you because you are my life and I hating this pull between us four and I understand Death because she is a new mom spirituality but lately I feel alone in this marriage that's why I wanted to go to the doctor" all this time he has his eyes on mine like really listening to me "Done! Now come here and show me those moves" and I giggle because it's been so long since I have danced for him and I break away from him reaching for the remote playing my song

I knew coming back was a bad idea and its

Worse I came in a man different from myself when I was alive even this times are way too different from my time but this woman here she is something else she just knows how to get me to relax and on top of it all she dances. You see back in my time woman would dance only for her mate and he will know by just the moves that she is the one and woman never spoke back but this one is like fire

she is beautiful and very dangerous and she is the host human for my beloved oshun and her return not only made me happy but it amused me that she would return after vowing to never return to the human world.

Well we are God's and Goddesses and we only come back when we are needed to come back and it's amazing that we came back in lovers this time and the love between them is just natural and beautiful you can tell there're soul mates. I have tried to merge my soul and Bheki together and it has proven to be difficult because his ancestors were not pure beings so to cleanse him I have to forge my axe again or look for my old one and that is more dangerous because I have souls that possess the axe and the healer that is assigned for my son said it will hinder him from reaching his destiny so I have to forge a new one.

Well I didn't introduce myself my name is Ogun I'm a God of war and the one you know as Death is oshun my soul mate that disappeared because she fell in love with me helping her sister who love me and later became my wife but oshun never come back so that I could claim her and later turn into a bitter Goddess and because she is the goddess of water she would flood or with hold rain from her people. She was the most beautiful woman ever lived and many desired to be with her and she had the powers of healing her people of infertility and she helped alot of woman with capturing their mates who were not in love with them that how she met me helping her sister and she smeared her magic honey on her skin and come to lure me to her sisters chambers and because the honey was magical it made her skin to be smooth and very appealing to the eyes and I run after her aiming to have because that's what I did to every woman who came to the forest but she would slip each time I tried to touch her but I finally caught up with her and poured me with her honey and enchanted me and that day we made love and fell in love until she remembered that she was on a mission and lured me to her sisters chambers and I made love to her thinking she was oshun and oshun later vanished to the river vowing never to come back but now she is back and the child that was conceived on that encounter is now back but he also embodied a strength of a God I admired most and that is the God of thunder that's why he is our peace because oshun was one of the wife's of Shango the God of thunder and that is why we never God along because he married my love and that infuriated me.

My daughter is the most beautiful thing ever reminding me of oshun that's why I'm so attached to her but akhanu is an attention seeker like the God I named him after he loves attention from the woman in my life and my daughter is just like me a hard worker she works so hard protecting him even as a baby and that tells e she is indeed my daughter. Speaking of twins in my time twin were not blessed but now it's seen a blessing and from the divine God. Things are so different here but this is the only time I have come back and I have to make the most of it and it helps that my companion is oshun but now the woman that is possessed by oshun is a rare gem she gives me the real sensation that only oshun ever gave me that fuels me to work really hard in merging our souls because I over power him so much because I'm a God and he is a human and this is not good for him it might even drive him insane and that what I'm avoiding because I chose him because of his tenacity and strong will he is not driven by anger or vengeance he leads a peaceful live fighting for his place in the world that's what attracted me to his soul but Death on the other hand is willing to live in peace with her host and give her guidance rather than take over because she said she is stronger than her and I think she just loves how free spirited she is and she can fight her battles without investing emotions in them and that is one thing Goddesses lacked in my time they ruled with emotions too much and I love this woman Alutha is strong matching the kind of woman I yearned for that why I took many wives in my time but she is all that I need and hearing her say she feels like she lacks something infuriated me last night and I think it's time I speak to this boy because we are going to lose her if he is this weak to handle a queen like her she needs a God not his weak self that wants her to always fight so I'm doing this even though I know this is dangerous he might lose his mind if I reveal myself to him so I need a quiet dark place to do this so I remove the queen on top of me and her skin is so soft like butter and honey you can tell she is possessed by Oshun in her she is so beautiful and her spirits so pure you can never guess she is a pure killer and she is so skillful in her trade while I have to possess this idiot to kill beautifully but I don't blame him he is just a human but that is about to change.

I kiss her lips and she radiates love that warms my soul and I know who is responsible for it "ohun ti ko to si oriṣa mi" (what wrong my goddess)

"Ko si nkankan Olorun mi sugbon mo mo ohun ti o ngbero ati awon ti o mo awon ewu sugbon o tun fe lati se"(Nothing my God but I know what you are planning and you know the dangers but you still want to do it)

"O yatọ si ati pe o tun le lero pe idi ti o fi je ki o je alakoso ati itan yii ti a ko gba laaye lati kopa ninu nkan ibalopo saaju ki akoko re to pari je awawi nikan ati pe o tun le rii pe omokunrin yii yoo padanu re ti o ba je o tesiwaju ni ona yii nitorinaa Mo n mu awon oran si owọ ara mi saaju ki o pe ju"(She is different and you can also feel it that why you are letting her be in charge and this story of not being allowed to partake in sexual thing before you time is done is just an excuse and you can also see this boy will lose her if he continues this way so I'm taking matters into my own hands before its too late)

"O dara, je ki a nireti pe o saseyori nitori pe ibatan yii gbodo sise nitori omọ mi o ko le ni anfani lati kuna wa lekansin nitori ni akoko yii Emi ko je ki o lo Emi yoo ja ati pe o daju pe o ko fe iyen."(Well let's hope you succeed because this relationship has to work for my son's sake you can't afford to fail us again because this time I will not let him go I will fight and I'm sure you don't want that)

You see what I mean when I say they are too emotional and the fact that she is still sleeping during all of this means I exhausted her and she took it like a gem she is because No human can stand wrathful spirit of a God even in a human body I can do some damage and last night proved that she is what I need.

I dress in this pants they call sweatpants and it's better than the skirts of straw we use to wear and I must admit the live in this time is way easier but I hate the peace but at least they make it up with labour the people in this time work very hard even the woman and that's also a new thing woman in my time were spoiled but woman now work as hard as the man and I love it.

I'm now driving to that place he plans on turning into a blacksmith work shop and that's one of my bright ideas since I can't go in the field like I used to. I do miss it but it's not that deep and I'm offended that my queen thinks that what feeds my soul because she is so wrong and I kill my own food because I miss doing it and it's our way to thank every animal that gave it's life to fill our stomach and nourish our bodies and we send it on its way to better after life that's all the is to it no sacrifice being done and my only sacrifice is to send payer along to the divine God nothing else.

I get to the workshop and I go to the dark room and this will serve as my office and prepare for the ritual and this is wizardry. We practice wizardry I'm my time and it was normal and it is taught in school so it's not a bad thing like now where they use the skill for greed. I draw a circle in the centre of the room light candles chanting a few ancient spells for this ritual.

GHOST

After all that preparation for the ritual, I stand in the middle of the circle surrounded by candles I chant the spell over and over until I feel a pull and I'm separated from his body and because I used a protection spell for his mind so that he does not go mad he is standing like he is in a trans and that what I want. I release him with another spell so that he understands what's happening "don't panic it's me Ogu... I mean Ghost' he is looking at me in horror because I'm in my original body and he is panicking because he can't even remember himself before I even came to possess him. "Relax you are not going crazy I just want us to talk man to man well I'm a God so it will be God to man" and he goes frantic and it's frustrating because I just want to talk it's not that deep "oh Nkulunkulu wami ngiyahlanya"(oh my god I'm going crazy) he keeps moving in the circle because he can't leave the circle because of the protect barrier "WILL YOU KEEP STILL BEFORE YOU DRIVE YOU SELF CRAZY" and he stills because I used my God voice just to calm him. there is nothing that calms a human like fear and that works in my Favour "can we talk now?" and he nods his head very fast wanting this to be over

"okay I want to talk about your wife" and he pops his eyes out so much like he is remembering only now that he is married with kids and he composes himself very quickly not wanting to show that that they are his weakness, good that means he is not completely out of it “what about them?” and that attitude tells me he is back to being the cocky bastard he used to be before we met and that making me proud that I possessed him first “your wife is going to leave you if you continue this. If you don’t stop this thing of wanting to control her and we both know you can’t you can’t afford that” he quickly nods in understanding “good boy now you are going to listen to me. You are going go home and talk to you wife and try and understand her reasoning behind most of her decisions and you are going to understand because that’s what good husbands do okay?” he is not agreeing with me. so I edge him to speak up because I can tell he disagreeing with me “I don’t understand why can't why can't she be the on the being reasoned with because I feel like she is selfish because I gave up everything for the family and she on the other hand she is not willing Hai I don’t understand” this boy is going piss me off

“can you give birth?” and he shakes his head “well my boy that’s your answer she sacrificed a lot just to be with you and she turned against her family to be with and on top of it all she carried my babies full term and she gave birth to them under the extreme conditions and you were not here to hold her hand through all that” and he nod that tells me he is getting me so I also nod “I really love her. Me and you have to work hand in hand to fix this and I'm also working hard for us to finally be one so that we are one soul can you make it easier for me too by keeping our home peaceful because now we are really toxic and the babies don't need that we will have this meetings regularly so that I bring you up to speed regarding us merging so that you won't shut off from me so much because as much as you hate it I hate it too because sometimes you use me as referee between you and your wife and its unfair for me because I'm always the bad guy while you go Scot free and I hate it when she is mad at me because she is also my life partner''

our time is up we can't be separated for a long period of time because that could cause damage to his mind. The connection is breaking and the spell is wearing off "it's time to go I will reach out soon so that we talk about some things okay'' and he nods and the candles go off and I'm back in his body and I allow him time to adjust to being back and for the memories of us talking to come back and it goes dark.....

Bheki

This can't be happening

this is witchcraft, I have to get rid of all these things and go home if fact where am I? I look around and it looks like my new workshop and I'm still surprised even today why I want to go in to iron forging it has never been my thing but lately I have the edge to do it but if Ghost brought me here it means its more his thing than mine and I take a picture for Masango to explain further for me.

After the cleaning I go out to my car and I pause a bit thinking about what he said and if it's true then I'm ashamed of myself because it means I'm hurting her every day because whenever she shouts I switch off and allow Ghost to take over and when everything settles I feel like her and Ghost undermine me because I won't even know how they hatched things out and having her happy rubs me the wrong way and honestly she seems more happier with Ghost than when she is with me and I don't remember when was the last time she danced for me but last night she danced for him and they had a whole session while I was left out. what makes it even worse is that she seemed well pleased when I started and that bruised my ego so much that I gave her orgasms until she passed out before I even entered her.

Maybe it's a good thing he is talking about us merging whatever that means because this is hell and right now I need advice and my fathers are too traditional for this talk so I have no choice but to go to her grandfather even though he hates my guts but I know he loves her and maybe this might give us a chance to bond and the fact that he has been married so decades assures me that I will get the advice I'm looking for. I waste no time driving to his house and luckily for me it's not very far from our house and the workshop is also in close proximity of our home. I drive right through because the security knows me this a long as drive way. When I park the car, he is already waiting for me at the door "your plan of marrying my heiress didn't work now you are here to finish off" he mocks like he unsurely does I hope my granddaughter is fine with that face you are wearing come in and go greet my wife then come straight to my office" and I go to the garden because this old woman loves the garden and as usual she is her bubbly self and I get her famous lip kisses and I go to the office and he is already waiting with a glass of whisky and I happily receive it not minding that it's still very early in morning for it "now tell me what's wrong because you look like a men carrying the world on his shoulders and by the looks of things it has to do with a woman" and I sigh heavily because I don't even know how to start but I have to talk because only he can understand what I'm going through "I'm loosing my wife and I don't know what to do" that's all I say and he signs I go on "well we are always fighting and because I don't like fighting with her I switch to Ghost and he deals with it but lately I feel like they are undermining me and I raised the issue and it started another fight and the circle began again with me in the dark and when I return they are fine and I'm left out so I decided to avoid conflict and I bury myself in my work and today I found out that she feels neglected by me and she might leave me and I can't have that she is my life" and he looks at me like he is thinking "so what's the main reason of the arguments" and I breath in and out before answering "her not joining me in the mafia Monarchy and leaving her organization"

"Okay I see now what is the problem. She will never give up her role for a sitting duck position she will never give up her inheritance for being Donna but she might compromise if you give her an offer she can't refuse" and he makes it sounds so easy and what offer could that be "she love her family more than anything and you coming for a legacy approach might sway her in the right path sell her a dream of giving the next generations the freedom to choice and more opportunities then use the position as an anchor to your arguments in so many words sell her and attractive deal because with the way you are going you will lose her and I know this because she takes after me so I know I can't teach you boys everything."

Waking up alone after a night of passion sucks worse, I'm woken by khanu's scream I'm telling this boy can scream for no reason I know to get worry when Noma is also cry but my baby girl is silently playing with her feet like it's the first discovery of man, she is the most peaceful baby I've ever met. I go and pick up my son going around the wing looking for my husband and he is nowhere to be found and I go back to the room to look for my phone he never goes anywhere without leaving a note so I call him and it goes unanswered. I hope everything is okay let me go to make breakfast for the twins and today I feel like going out but not alone so I will just call José because he won't mind spending my money I'm telling you that boy is stingy. let me call him it rings three times before he answered

Jose: talk to me

Me: Like really so what happens to your manners because I know that mami taught you some?

Jose: "sorry Donna it won't happen again" he is calling me that just to piss me off

Me: "to think I wanted to spend my money on you. Oh well I will just go home bye Jose" I say that hanging up my phone and I know that is an invitation to come to my house so I order a big breakfast from a Cuban restaurant for the three of us while making baby food for the twins

well I don't really cook because it's just not me and my husband as traditional as he is he doesn't mind and because he like treating like a baby he makes most of my food. My intercom rings and I look at the monitor to check who it is and I buzz them in. I wonder what Aya is doing here so early because these days she is either the perfect makoti or being the coolest mom to her monster kid but I don't blame her she has finally got her happily ever after with Lesego of all people but I'm really happy for the both of them. In come my flamboyant niece(uyaphapha shame) screaming for Noma like she can hear or respond "Noma" she continues until she sees her on her high chair u would swear she can understand and she completely disregarded my presences but what do I know I'm just her rich aunt who can buy her first car when she turns 18. "oh hi untie princess I didn't see you there" god this child thinks she is an adult "morning princess how are you doing today?" and she looks at me like I grew horns "please refrain from calling me princess I'm not Noma's age" this one think she is a big girl well I have a surprise for she will be princess for the rest of her life even I can't escape the name she doesn't even know my real name "where is your mom because she should have parked already” and she is disturbed by my phone ringing before she could respond and it's her mom weird “I'm sorry girl I know if I asked you would have refused and her grandparents are also busy and your older brother banned her from his house after she asked where babies come from so it's your turn to deal with her me and my men what to have a chilled day in doors” wow she hangs up before I could even get a word in and she is right I would have refused if she asked because this little Missy is a lot to handle and they all know I can't even handle the twins on my own what more of three kids the other one is a speaker box and the other is 6 going on 100 even the questions she asks are way older than her wow! that means I'm not going anywhere because I know they will come get her when the weekend is over. Maybe I should call Sean to visit and he can bring his tiny tots with great plan let me call. It rings five times before he answers

Sean: “hello my love what's up” and that alone is enough to bring a smile on my face

Me: please come over and please bring the Mrs. I'm alone with the kids and Aya just dropped her boom on me” and he is silent Sean: No, I don't want to traumatize my woman please I can't I'm sorry my love you know I can do anything for you but not Lesedi and Khanu at the same time” wow this one is hurting me what's wrong with my son.

Me: "Sean what are you trying to say about my son he is not as bad as Lesedi" he must never compare my son to this devil in frozen outfit.

Sean: "No I can't compare him to Lesedi, Khanu is worse he is the devil himself" and he burst out laughing wow to think he is my favorite cousin

Me: "wow Sean you are hurting me my son is an angel" he is still laughing and talking to someone in his background "Okay we will be there at ten okays" okay at least I have someone to help me with these two. I finish up feeding the kids and little madam helps me bath the kids and I also bath and my husband is still not back maybe he took my advice and went on a Mission.

Siphosethu (tiny tots)

We are on our way to Sean's cousin's house the doctor. He says we are invited to stay the night so I have my overnight bag and I packed swimwear as well because I heard, she loves the water and since it's summer we might swim. "So babe you have to prepare yourself for what you are about to go through Khanu and Lesedi are a nightmare so be ready" yes that's the reason we are invited it's because apparently his cousin was left with a monster type of kid that everyone in the family avoids and she also has a devil child that screams the whole day and this super woman I met that night can't handle her own kids but I don't believe it because that's farfetched "that can't be real babe because the last time it's seemed like you were scared of her and I'm also scared of her" and he gives me one of his panty dropping smiles and I can't get enough of them "babe yes we are scared of her most of the time and well her and her husband are legit scary but when she is not being Donna she is just a spoiled wife. that men does everything for her and it's weird because he is your typical Zulu man like your dad but she doesn't even lift a finger and when he is not available we as a family are responsible for his family because we are scared of him and it has been like that even before they met because princess was the only girl in the family for all her life because she was raised by my uncle and his four sons because her mom died in childbirth so it was them for the first 18 years of her life and she never had a female figure in her life oh and friends until she met me and Aya her best friend in WITS and she was my first female bestie for full 6 years my ride or die before we discovered we are related and she is my grandparents long lost son's daughter well her father was kidnapped when he was only two months by a nanny that later killed herself when she was found and she left the baby at a river to die but luckily a fishermen picked the baby and raised him the best way he could because he also lived in those skwata camps for fisher men and he was never married so you can imagine how growing up was like for him but he made it out and later got married to the love of his life and she died giving birth to his only daughter” Okay he made that up there is no way that is a real story “ babe stop lying I’m sure you saw that in a movie or novel” and he shrugs his shoulders he does that when he is telling the truth and doesn’t want to argue wow that means it true wow. I didn’t even see we are here this house is so beautiful but who park all her cars outside because the last we were here she hinted that they have more than one car “it seems like the whole squad is here this must be an emergency” he says that parking and running to the house without even closing the door and that makes me nervous what are we going to find in there so I rush out following him and the door is open and I can hear her crying all the way from the door and I rush to the direction of the cry and I find her in an older handsome looking gentleman and he is rocking her back and forth like a baby I wonder what happened here it looks like a mess and there is a screaming baby that Sean is trying calm down because everyone here seems more concerned with the mother and my poor baby is holding the handsome little man like he will slip at any time “did someone try and call Bheki?” The other older looking gentleman asks “Hai Mina I don’t blame her can you hear that he sounds like someone is killing him I feel like my ears are bleeding and as for this monster who decided she can cook Hai” he looks younger than the first guys maybe they are the brothers and the monster is a little girl wearing a princess dress and she has a look that says ‘girl you better stay out of my business’ and I don’t think there is someone who would touch her and I have a feeling that the lipstick on this walls and furniture are her doing but I'm also not going to ask.

SETHU (TINY TOTS)

I have been stuck in this place since I entered this house I don't know what to do because she is still crying and the men I have come to learn is her Dad is still fusing over her and she is a mess and these two are her older brothers and they are not making things easier by blaming kids but the little beautiful girl in the baby grip should be the other twin and she is playing like nothing is happening and right now I would like to be her. Well let me tell you something babies are not my thing and family and spoiled wife's I'm your typical slay queen type of person I'm never concerned about what other people are doing unless it affects me directly so this situation here is not my scene and I feel like a fish out water with people talking all at once it's chaos and when I think it can't get worse the other team of white people come in and it's worse I think I have a headache she is now surrounded by the white men and the one that once drove us to KZN seems like he is getting through to her and she is told she must walk it out or he will beat her ass black and blue I'm telling you those were the exact words hai! I'm in a telenovela because she goes out wiping her eyes and they all sit down looking exhausted wow that's was a lot "now would someone tell me what's going on and where is Mkhize" they all keep quiet looking at the white men "son can you come down because we also don't know where he is but I know he would not just disappear" and the all nod "then why did I find my sister and Donna in tears like a small baby?" Hai he is the other brother hai this family is complicated "I think there is something wrong the last time she was like this was when she was pregnant" and the all look at each other "the bastard scored my sister again I'm going to kill him he is turning my mother's last born into a baby factory" wow hai telenovela I tell you clap hands once and in true telenovela style the man of the hour arrives and he looks scary as hell and I'm waiting for that one who said he is going to kill him to do the killing but he is suddenly quiet "what the fuck is going on in my house and what's this mess here..." He looks around and Sean comes with the screaming baby and hands it to him he says something to the baby and he keeps quiet like he was not crying like he was possessed just now and the mother comes in with her eyes wide open like she just witnessed a miracle and I'm sure it's the sudden quietness and when her eyes land on her husband the water works begin and he is laying the now sleeping baby in the grip next her sister the wife runs to her husband and he lifts her into his arms like she weighs nothing "why is my wife crying and who allowed Lesedi in my house because I'm sure is the reason for all this mess" Okay he is very mad and it looks like everyone in this house scared of him "it's all your fault for turning my mother's child into a baby making machine Bheki because the last time she cried like this was when she was pregnant” Okay the crying bride keeps quiet for a minute and tears stop immediately “who said I’m pregnant” Okay she is quiet and now standing near her husband they now both look angry I feel shivers down my spine “Donna.....” I didn’t even hear a thing because he is speaking another language I think it’s Spanish “you see why I didn’t want to bring my girl here she is traumatized now” it’s only now this one remembers he has a girl friend and it had to be when things are juicy now he ruined the whole thing because the couple goes up the stairs and the other ones go to the opposite direction after saying ‘welcome to the family’ only the old man goes out the door and we are left with little Missy here “princess come let go bath” says my man after pecking my lips and mouths sorry and I’m led to a room upstairs and it’s pink with three beds okay this must be her room “Dada it wasn’t me who made aunty princess cry it was Khanu” he is taking off her clothes “I know sweetheart Khanu is always to blame” Okay I think these two get along “and I was only making pancakes to make her feel better” and he nods “Dada who is the girl sitting on my bed?” she asked looking at me straight “oh princess that is aunty Sethu she is dada's special friend” and she keep on starrng at me “she is pretty” wow she says with a bit of an attitude this little brat “I know right she is really pretty but not more than you” and she giggles hiding her face with her tiny hands and it confirms it I don't like her "oh dada I know I'm the prettiest girl in the world my daddy says that all the time" and he nods idiot he always says I'm the most beautiful girl in the world so this means he says it to all his girls and I told my arms giving him a stink eye to redeem himself and he mouths sorry idiot.....

The Book is End here more chapters will be post soon!
