CHAPTER 1 Bain

 $P_{\text{ARKING MY CAR}}$  a few blocks down, I walk through the posh neight toward Brienne Norcross's mansion for the team Christmas party. Al I've been with the Pittsburgh Titans for a month and a half, I'm still my social bearings. On the ice, I've seamlessly integrated as a deference onto the first line, replacing Nolan Carrier in a trade that took me fitwo-time champions, the Arizona Vengeance.

The trade was a lucrative deal for me. On a personal level, I'm sure. My time with the Vengeance was more than meaningful as we patched-together expansion team thrust into a competitive league. We all odds and won back-to-back Cups, and within those two years, or bonded like no other.

It was painful to leave.

But trades happen all the time and in this business you can neve set down solid roots. Your fate is mostly in others' hands.

As I approach Brienne's house—aglow with thousands of festive on the outside that give me a tingly feeling because I fucking love Ch—I take a moment to consider the similarities between her a Vengeance owner, Dominik Carlson.

Both owners take a very personal interest in their players. They're on in their concern for our welfare but otherwise trust the general n and coaches to make us good. While they're both incredibly wealthy, also down-to-earth and approachable. Hell, Brienne Norcross is dat goalie, Drake McGinn. She's a multibillionaire CEO of an empire an he's important to our team, he's just a regular guy compared to her l success.

As I trot up the front steps to the massive double doors, I hear mu laughter from within, telling me this is going to be a fun party.

I expected no less because Brienne is just good people.

It's three days before Christmas and I've been hyped up for the for a while now. I decided on renting a downtown condo until I can fig the city. Plus, my parents are coming in for a visit and to catch a gan already got my tree up and all the necessary ingredients for my mom ther decorated sugar cookies that will ensure I have to do double duty gym.

I don't bother knocking on the door but enter a cacophony of porhoodlaughter and a group of people singing Christmas carols from somew lthoughthe house. It's hard for me to focus on anyone in particular becausetting momentarily stunned by the grandeur of Brienne's home. I understand neman her family home, but it doesn't fit the sleek, modern woman who to the Titans' owner. It's opulent in an old-fashioned way. It reminds me a bit a Biltmore Estate I visited one summer. Dark-paneled walls and elestill not embellishments grace the ceiling, showcasing intricate designs of forwere aleaves and vines. The floor is marble, the tiles creating a round pattern defied foyer. A chandelier the size of a car and covered in thousands of shim ar team crystals hangs above the sweeping main staircase. The furniture looks type not meant for sitting and the massive oil paintings look like they be in a museum.

CHAPTER 7 Bain

 $T_{\rm HE}$  visiting team's locker room in Ottawa emanates an aura of competition. The walls are adorned with motivational quotes and pict their past victories, a definite rubbing of our noses. I sit on the bench of my cubby and put on my skates. My teammates are all getting the on as we prepare for this crucial game against the Cougars. The air is  $\alpha$  with anticipation as each player mentally prepares for the challenge t ahead.

Despite the loss the night before last, we're closing the gap Ottawa who stands at the top of the division. Only one point separates a win here tonight will propel us into first.

I take a moment to survey the room, my eyes flicking over the f my teammates. Some are deep in their pregame rituals, tapping their against the floor or meditatively visualizing their plays. Others englight banter, trying to ease the tension that invariably accompanies high-stakes matchup.

I've got my own ritual. A routine I've been doing since I was a teel have no clue if it puts me in a better place, but I'm afraid to not do that this point. I take my time lacing up my skates, meticulously pulli string at a time to tighten them. With every tug, I imagine a skil necessary to be at the top of my game and I visualize the perfection which I must operate.

Tug. I must be agile and fast.

Tug. My defensive positioning must be fluid.

Tug. I must do everything in my power to disrupt my opponent's p

Tug. I must be accurate in my outlet passing.

Tug. I must be willing to sacrifice my body.

I don't say the same things every time as there are hundreds of skills I have to be perfect at. But the repeated affirmations of my jot help to get my head in the right space. It helps me clear everything aw is not hockey.

Case in point would be Kiera McGinn. She's been on my mind much continuously since I first met her, but it's become almost obsince she and I entered into this friends-with-benefits relationship. ## CHAPTER 8 Kiera

I arrive at Primanti's fifteen minutes before my scheduled time to Danica for lunch. We've eaten here a handful of times since 1 introduced us a couple of months ago, so I order for both of us.

We've become close pretty fast. I'm new to Pittsburgh and Dani the first female friend I made. Sure, I've got nice relationships with players' girlfriends and wives, but we don't hang out often. Danica, he I talk to almost every day either via text or call, and we get together once a week for lunch, drinks or dinner. The beautiful widow of one players who died in the crash, Danica is so easy to talk to and laugh we have the same irreverent humor.

I'm just settling at a corner table when I see Danica walk in. I wav her attention and she lifts her chin as she winds through the table unbuttoning her coat. I've got my sandwich unwrapped and to my when she reaches me. I try to mumble a hello, but she's not paying at Lured by the smell of fresh pastrami, she tears at the wrapping.

Studying Danica, I realize she cut her hair. I swallow my food napkin over my lips and take a quick sip of water before exclaiming, what you did with your hair."

Danica blushes and ducks her head slightly as she tugs on a k doesn't look stupid?"

I send a massive eye roll her way. "Not even going to justify that answer. Someone as obnoxiously beautiful as you has no right to be such stupid questions."

She waves a french fry at me like it's a sword. "Easy for you to sa You Should Have Been a Supermodel."

I snicker. "Okay, okay... I get it. We're both stunningly beautiful. also makes me wonder why we're both depressingly single."

But I'm not depressingly single. In fact, I'm quite happily single n

I've got this friends-with-benefits relationship going with Bain. Al I'm not sure I do have anything worth buzzing about.

Bain had a there-and-back trip to Ottawa last night and he was su to come over when the plane landed. He never showed so I went to be a text this morning with a quick apology saying they landed too late had an early-morning team meeting. He then asked to get together tode had work and plans with Danica for lunch. I suppose I could have invito meetover tonight, but I didn't. Maybe I was a bit miffed he didn't come Briennewe last planned. Plus I needed to show him I have my own life too.

Bain's got a game tomorrow and plans with the guys after. In con ica was calendars for the weekend, he said he had loose plans but would set a few could squeak in some time. I didn't have any plans but didn't want to pwever, like a loser, so I told him I was busy. Tuesday of next week, the team at least on an extended road trip with games in San Francisco, Anchorage, Edie of the and Calgary.

ith, and So yeah... this has probably fizzled already.

"I don't have time to date," Danica says, and I jolt out of my the to get "What's your excuse?"

s while "Oh, I don't know. How about the fact I have a full-time job ar mouth after three nephews?" That clearly leaves little time for dating. H tention. apparently not even enough time to sneak in a quickie with Bain this w Danica grins. "Oh yeah. I guess we're in the same boat."

l, rub a Part of me wants to blab all to Danica right this minute and "I love thoughts on Bain, but I'm hesitant. We've gotten close but we've discussed our sex lives. Danica was widowed ten months ago and so Dck. "It something she's ever brought up. I don't advertise my carefree, bang' leave 'em ways because she might not understand.

y, Miss Danica starts choking and the fact I shocked her tells me what I know. "Booty calls? Seriously... who even says that?"

Which But I do know Danica is neither a prude nor judgmental, so I own I think booty call is a fabulous term."

ow that "Well, that's not exactly something I would understand. Mitch vone and only."

though, A stab of pain hits my heart for her. "That's right. He was yo boyfriend so that makes him your first..."

ipposed "Yep. I have never been with another man other than Mitch. Thed. I gotnever had a booty call."

"Did Mitch, like, ever come home from the arena for a quick over as "Yeah." Her eyes go dreamy as if she's recalling just such an oc "He did."

nparing I grin at her. "Then that was technically a booty call. A monogame e if hemind you, but a booty call all the same."

Danica laughs as she sets down her sandwich and pulls a fry fron leavesthe bread. "I feel so progressive."

monton "Well... I have perfected the art of non-monogamous booty cal you ever want advice, let me know."

Although apparently I'm willing to give monogamous ones a try. Joughts. I willingly went into that agreement with Bain, all because we i mistake and had unprotected sex. While that ultimately turned out find lookopened the door for us to ditch the condoms, I do wonder if may ell, it'smonogamy aspect has made this a little similar to a committed relativeek. and that's why Bain and I haven't been trying overly hard to make I get together.

CHAPTER 11 Bain

Despite the late hour, I'm exhilarated as I board the team plane he Anchorage where we'll take on the Blizzard. We're leaving the beauti of San Francisco after thoroughly trouncing the Bay Brawlers in shutout. This game was especially significant as they were at the top division and every time we can take down a top-tier team, it lets the know that these wins aren't flukes.

We have a team worthy of a championship.

Of course, I'm not going to get ahead of myself. We're only I through the regular season. But it cannot be denied that Callum De managed to put together a team that has clicked in all ways. "It's good," I assure him. "Just casual. Keeping it on the down low because neither of us wants to hear it from Drake. It's just some fun between two consenting adults."

The corner of Boone's mouth twitches as he reaches backward for the door handle. "I don't know... hottest guy and best orgasms. I'd say she's pretty smitten."

I grin as I walk backward, holding my arms out as if to showcase me as the entire package. "Who wouldn't be?"

Boone shakes his head with a smirk and slips back into the bar.

I pivot to face Kiera and she's watching me with a look on her face like she wants to eat me up. If she's still awake by the time we get to her place, I'm going to let her try.

CHAPTER 15 Bain

 $T_{\text{HERE'S A ROAR}}$  as Boone and I walk into Mario's. We just defeated the Fury 4–2 and the Titans fans can taste a playoff run. We're the Cirteam, the underdogs gone wild.

It's become a regular occurrence for many of us to come here for leelebrate a win and mostly it's a laid-back atmosphere. The fans have to let us have some time to ourselves as teammates, but they also know eventually indulge in photo ops and autographs. We had a spot just leack in Phoenix when I played for the Vengeance—the Sneaky Sagloved that the players meshed with the fans and I was glad to see sor similar here.

The vibe is different tonight. The energy is palpable and it's s room only. Defeating one of the hottest teams in the league has cre adrenaline surge in the fans, the players... hell, the city itself.

What's weird is that I didn't want to come out tonight. Normal would be my jam. I'd hang out with my new teammates, we'd bor beers and relive the best plays of the night. We'd boast and our stories get more exaggerated. We'd get drunk and then find hot women to fuc

There's a part of me that mourns the loss of my desire to do tha bigger part of me is irritated I can't just go home to Kiera.

And it irritates me even further that I used the words "home" and 'in the same thought.

Boone winds his way through the crowd and I follow. We receiv slaps and flirty stares from women. The owners rope off a section in the for us to hang out in and a good chunk of the team is there already.

Pushing a couple of high tops together, I stand with Boone, C Hendrix, Stevie, Coen and Stone. Harlow's missing as she's in the mi a big trial, and I can see how proud Stone is when he talks about her. back in Coudersport packing up her house as she's making the very permanent move here to Pittsburgh.

The one person not here who I wish was is Kiera. I invited her to a the game and Mario's after. It was a casual request and I made it soun was cool if she did and cool if she didn't. It was unspoken, but we'd act normal around each other, and by normal, we couldn't be tearing a other's clothes, talking dirty or eye-fucking each other.

Not that that's all we do.

CHAPTER 16 Kiera

I stand at the entrance of the grand ballroom, scanning the crowd. I and foremost looking for a glimpse of Bain, although I'm keeping an for anyone I know. For the most part, I love being my own pers embracing the single life, but I'm not going to lie. It would have been come with a date to this event.

Not just any date.

It would've been nice if Bain and I could've come together, but the too many obstacles. The most obvious... we're not dating. Just fuck and we're doing that in the shadows so we don't offend Drake's sensibilities.

A drink is what I need, so I make my way to one of the bars set I only the best liquor and wines. I order a Shiraz and move to the edge crowd. The event isn't going to start for another twenty minutes and I people watch.

"So un-end it." I'm very practical and that's an easy solution.

"I can't go backward," she laments.

I pick up the cup of tea, take a sip and it tastes awful. Grimacing, I away and lock my gaze on Danica.

"Start from the beginning. All I know is you like Camden and I you, so catch me up."

"It's a bit more than like," she murmurs.

"On your part?"

"I think on both our parts. The feelings have gotten strong, complicated, for him more than me."

I pick up a scone. "Let me guess... he feels he's in Mitch's shad can't handle that."

She shakes her head. "On the contrary, no. We've had those talks a I think he had some insecurities in the beginning, but he trusts that compare. Camden knows what I had with Mitch was amazing, and have with him is amazing."

CHAPTER 19 Bain

Camden has pep in his step as we traverse down the airstair of the plane. We have exactly twenty-four hours before we have to get bac travel to Boston for an out-and-back game. He's going to go set thing with Danica... the woman he loves.

As we were in the away locker room changing after our game aga New York Phantoms, he stood up on one of the benches and annou the entire team he'd been seeing her.

This was done after much poking and prodding by me because something was wrong with him. Turns out, Camden felt like he m stomping on Mitch's grave so he broke things off with Danica.

Said it was "the right thing to do."

I told him that was bullshit. If something makes you feel horrible, wasn't the right thing to do.

He was being a little hardheaded, so I had to give it to him straight with no regard for his feelings. "Then what the actual fuck, dude? You amazing woman who, as far as I can tell over the last several week brought you out of your funk. You care for her and her kid. She's r give her all to you, and you break it off? Are you stupid or something?

Yeah... I was rough on the guy, but he was in danger of talking out of righting his wrong. After a little back-and-forth, he asked H who knew Mitch well, "Are you sure I'm not doing anything wrong?"

"Does it feel wrong when you're with her?" Hendrix replied.

"Nothing has ever felt more right."

Then, I had to give my two cents. "I don't care if anyone has a p with it. If she's that good for you and you for her, fuck anyone in this room and fuck any fan who has an issue with it."

Hendrix and I told him to go for it and he did. By standing on the and proclaiming his feelings to the entire team.

It was pretty awesome.

I tried to imagine myself doing the same thing for a woman. Would feel that way about someone?

Kiera?

One thing I have in common with Camden—nothing has felt mor It's a powerful statement to admit.

We hit the tarmac, duffels held over our shoulders as we head not teamprivate terminal. "You going to Danica's house?"

k on to "Travis has a scrimmage right after school. I'm going to go wat gs right and then talk to her."

Clapping Camden on the back, I give him assurances because I hinst thenerves in his voice. "It's going to be fine, man. Danica will forgiv need to slight bout of cold feet."

"Yeah... I think she will. Still scared as fuck she won't."

I knew I squeeze his shoulder. "You'll be fine."

ight be Camden stops walking and turns to me. "What about you and Kier "What about us?" I ask. He hasn't said a word to me about her s busted us kissing at the gala.

then it He stares at me, a pointed look that says he's not in the mood bullshit, especially since I harassed him into action about Danica.

ght and I give him a wink. "Sorry, man... I don't kiss and tell."

ou have Camden rolls his eyes.

eks, has "But I will tell you that everything's perfect between us. I'm on ready to see her right now."

" Friends with benefits. Great sex. Just as good a friendship. Noth himself and nothing more.

[endrix, "I'm glad," he says with a bright smile. A man in love who's ha buddy might be experiencing the same thing. I don't disabuse him What works for me and Kiera wouldn't work for him and Danica.

We say our farewells after walking through the terminal and problem different directions in the parking lot.

that right." He leans over, takes my hand. "We're in a place we never wanted to be or thought we'd be. I never thought I'd want to settle down with one woman, but here I am, completely happy to be in your bed and no others. And if I'm honest, I felt that way before we found out you were pregnant. I guess it's time to put it all on the table. I care about you, Kiera. When I saw how upset you were earlier today, it fucking broke my heart and I wanted to fix it. I've never felt that before nor have I wanted to be responsible for another's happiness, but I found myself wanting to soothe you. I wanted to see you smile, not cry. I don't know what you call that, but I can tell you, I've surpassed our friends-with-benefits deal we had going. There's nothing casual about the way I'm feeling now."

Maybe it's the hormones, but I have to blink against the prick of tears. Gripping his hand tight, I push out of my chair and drape myself across his lap. My arms loop around his neck and I brush a soft kiss over his mouth.

I press my forehead to his. "I care about you too. There's nothing casual about my feelings either." I think about all my fears around falling for someone and the walls I've built up so that I'd never fall prey to a man like Peter again, and they all come tumbling down. "You make me so happy and I feel so secure and safe with you. I never thought I'd be able to say that about a man, and yet I know, to the depths of my soul, that you would never hurt me. You're kind of it for me."

Bain's arms come around me and he squeezes, then tilts his head to kiss my neck. "Think you can handle cold pizza?"

Leaning back, I frown at him. "Cold pizza. Why?"

"Because I'd really like to fuck you now. Apparently, sweet words make me horny."

As if to punctuate his sentiment, he rotates his hips and I feel the growing length of him under my butt.

Grinning, I wiggle against him. "Yeah... cold pizza is just fine."

CHAPTER 23 Bain

The February Chill stings my cheeks as I step out of the dov Pittsburgh jeweler. The weight of the $132,000 engagement ring for feels heavier than I anticipated. I'm in a safe area, but on the walk the parking garage to my car, I'm alert to my surroundings. I have the bag with the ring in an inside coat pocket for added safety.

Once inside my car, though, I can't help the grin that splits my open up my glove box and pull out a black velvet box containing the g faux diamond ring I could find on short notice. Thank God for P Prime delivery.

I snicker as I examine my purchase. It's like someone slapped ribboned bow on the top of the ring with fake diamonds crusted ove the knot is a round gemstone that's not all that big. It's the oversized b takes up a lot of real estate on the band and it's tacky as shit.

Without hesitation or thought for my personal safety, I close the trade it out, putting the fake ring in the jeweler's bag and sliding the r back into my coat pocket.

Drake directed me to meet him at a gas station not far from his The proposal is set for tonight.

He's waiting parked off to the side, away from the pumps. He bother getting out of his car so I do, patting my pocket for about the time since I put the real ring in there, and head to the driver's door.

Drake rolls down the window, a gush of warm air from the bathing my face.

"Got your rock." I hand him the jeweler's bag. It's made of this stock, black with gold-foil lettering with the store's logo. I tuck my into my pockets to ward off the cold.

"Thanks," he says, and as I'd imagined he'd do, he pulls the boy inspect his merchandise. I mean... you drop six figures on a ring, you

CHAPTER 24 Kiera

It's girls' night.

Not at the club, but in the Pittsburgh Titans' owner's suite.

Normally, Brienne uses this space to entertain business gues sometimes conduct meetings, all while watching her team play. T though, it's closed off to all business acquaintances and more impo open to her closest friends.

Over the last year since the crash, Brienne's circle has grown. Os stepped into the shoes of her late brother as the sole owner of the Titabecame more personally invested. That included bringing all the signothers under her wing.

It was hard for her at first because she's never really had time to c personal relationships and she works in such a ball-busting care awkward sometimes for her to let her hair down.

But tonight we're all carefree laughs as we cheer on our men.

The suite is beyond luxurious. It's located at a premium vantage offering unobstructed views of the ice. At the front is a balcony wit rows of leather seats so plush you sink into them. That spreads backwa a living area with sofas and chairs to relax in as well as round dining and high tops. Large screen TVs dot the walls so you can watch the while getting a drink from the open bar.

The walls are covered with personalized memorabilia and other decorative elements, including the logo recessed into the ceiling and c in neon tubing.

The food is the best and tonight we've got a buffet of sliders with a your-own taco station, warming trays of loaded potato skins and hot For the more health conscious there's a massive veggie platter and a salad. And if that's not enough, an array of chocolate brownies, chebites and fruit tarts for dessert.

I don't know if it's my imagination, but ever since finding of pregnant, I'm hungrier than ever. I think about food a lot.

I think about sex a lot, too, but that's just because it seems to have better and better with Bain. Which I'm not even sure how since it v best I'd ever had. Maybe it's hormones. Maybe it's an increased ir based on sharing something so personally deep.

Regardless, I can be bought with food or sex with Bain at this poin life.

I'm sitting in the front row of seats with Danica, Tillie, Harlo sts and Stevie. Behind us sit Brienne, Sophie, Jenna and Ava.

Conight, It's pure coincidence that we're sorted with us in the first row retantly, players and the second row coaches. Of course, Brienne is unique, gir sits above everyone on the food chain.

CHAPTER 30 Kiera

T He murmured voices drifting from the kitchen to me in the living rograting on my nerves. I've been camped out on the couch all day, a rewatch of Sons of Anarchy. I need something hard and brutal to the mind off... well, things that are hard and brutal.

It's finally sinking in.

Yesterday was pretty much a blur. I try not to think about it, but filter through. I knew I was miscarrying when the cramps hit. They painful that I immediately knew what was going on. I have recollections of Bain caring for me. He was strong and steady, k exactly what to do, and yet somehow, I can't seem to really appreciate

Maybe I will in time.

But for right now, the fact he's in the kitchen with Drake and E talking so low I can't hear makes me want to slap him.

I want to slap Drake and Brienne too.

I don't need to be treated as if I'm fragile. I'm tired of Bain lookin like a lost puppy and Drake looking confused and Brienne looking lik going to burst into tears.

Reaching out, I nab the remote and turn up the volume to try to them out. All it does is pull attention to me and Bain is there. "Do yo something?"

CHAPTER 33 Bain

" I  $\mbox{\sc Love}$  You." She kisses me on the forehead and pats my cheek.

Classic Mom.

My parents arrived last night before the team plane did and were settled into the guest room at my condo and asleep when I arrived. been drinking coffee together this morning and talking. We planne visit after we found out Kiera was pregnant. Although my parents I briefly several weeks ago in the family lounge, they wanted to be spend time with her and get to know her. They wanted to be a part journey with us.

I told my parents there was no sense in coming when I called the day Kiera miscarried, but my mom said, "That makes it even more im we come in to see you and Kiera."

They wanted to offer emotional support.

Of course, I had to fill them in this morning that things weren between me and Kiera, but that we were going to talk today. My offered solid advice, which was mainly to listen, be open to her feeling make sure I'm clear about what I want. My dad reminded me to tel how beautiful she is because all women liked to be told that.

Mom rolled her eyes and I laughed.

I keep repeating Mom's advice over and over in my head as I c Kiera's—Dad's advice isn't necessary since I will tell her that be always do—but when I see her house in the distance, my mind bla with panic.

Christ, my hands are sweating as I pull into the driveway. What going to happen to us and our relationship will be decided very soo that reality is crashing down on me.

She texted me last Friday. It was a travel day and we were on th headed from Quebec City to Ottawa.

How are you?

I stared at that question for a good half hour before I could come a response. Should I go with honesty, which would require paral Should I give her a taste of her own medicine and answer tersely? Ulti I was moved that her first contact showed concern for me and I decide be a dick.

I'm hanging in there. How are you?

She wrote back immediately. I'm better. And I'd like for us to talk. Can you give time on Sunday?

already I wanted to talk. I've had dreams where we talked and we We've everything better. But while I was encouraged she reached out, I we'd their well aware it could be to say a final goodbye. I wasn't ready for that. I net her be in Pittsburgh for a day and then back on the road. If things went able to didn't want my head fucked up for the upcoming games. The only of this I've stayed a bit sane is the prospect of us talking. And besides that told me he thought some space would be good for us.

nem the For both of us to really think about things.

I wait for her to say something else. Maybe to invite me to lunch, perhaps ask me to go to Dr. Segal's or even ask about the road trip.

Instead, she says, "I've got a meeting I've got to get ready for in a bit. But I'll call you after I see Dr. Segal."

My heart fucking bottoms out as my hand falls away from her neck. She really doesn't want anything from me other than sex. The fact she won't talk to me until after the day he'll supposedly give her the go-ahead to fuck me again tells me all I need to know.

But I manage to plaster on the biggest fucking smile as I stand from the table. "Sounds like a plan."

Kiera scrambles out of her chair and follows me to the door. She opens it and I lean down to give her a quick kiss on her forehead. Her arm starts to reach out for a side hug, but I pretend I don't see it and step onto the porch.

I risk a glance at her and her eyes are shuttered, revealing no secrets. She holds her hand up in a wave goodbye and I lift my chin before trotting down her steps.

My guts feel like they just got stomped by a giant with steel-toed boots. My heart feels shredded.

The woman I love doesn't love me back.

CHAPTER 34 Kiera

I watch through the window as Bain pulls out of the driveway. I star street long after he's out of sight.

What the fuck just happened?

I had every intention of apologizing to Bain and then proposing pick up right where we left off. I had intended to focus on how clos gotten over the past few weeks and that we were good together.

And now he's gone and we're nothing to each other.

"Fucking idiot," I seethe at myself as I wring my hands.

I think it was the stupid "house of cards" comment I made. I was for a good analogy and I meant to point out something very witty at cards being flimsy but the foundation they laid upon was solid, and ne: I knew, we were both talking about how fast things moved.

Then it got worse... both Bain and I reminisced about how inherently not relationship driven, how good we are at being fuck | and boom... we've decided to be casual again.

Spinning away from the window, I pinch the bridge of my nose. not what I wanted to happen. I wanted to let him know that I adore haby or not, I want to make a life with him.

I was ready to tell him that he has every piece of my heart.

Now he's expecting that I won't even bother to call him until after with Dr. Segal, which is still five days away. He didn't seem put out either, which means I can't break down and call him any earlier. And there's no other reason to call him since we just agreed to be fuck I again, and we can't actually fuck until I'm cleared by the doctor.

"Certifiable idiot, Kiera," I mutter as I sag onto the couch. I flo head resting on the cushion, and stare at the ceiling.

I replay every moment of our barely ten minutes together, an every word and his tone of voice and the menagerie of expressions beautiful face, desperately seeking some clue that perhaps I missed.

A signal he was sending that might be contrary to the actual words giving me.

My breath freezes as I remember him walking out the door. He kis on the top of the head just before he stepped out onto the porch and the a fraction of a second where I caught his expression and it looked... pa e at the Like he wasn't happy with what we had so quickly and withou effort decided on?

Is there a chance Bain is feeling like I am? That we just made a  $\varepsilon$  that we mistake.

Bolting off the couch, I pace the living room. I hem and haw, tr rationalize what we said to each other versus what I might have seen face. I attempt to decode a mystery that might not even be a myster could get just an inkling... something more concrete, then I could go strying and let him know how I feel. That I want more from him than being I bout the buddy.
